Hear Reason. Strengthen the Defences

When a garrison apprehends an attack from an outside enemy, what does it do? It STRENGTHENS THE DEFENCES. The human system, at this period of the year, is beleaguered by morbid influences. The inclement air is full of them. Every change of weather lays the feeble open to their attacks. What is to be done in order to battle these unseen, but ever active, foes? STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES.

Do you ask how? The answer is simple—the means within the reach of all. Reinforce the vital organs and the nervous system with HOSSETT'S BITTERS. Tone the stomach, regulate the bowels, rouse the sluggish liver, cheer the spirits, enrich and purify the vital current, with HOSSETT'S BITTERS. That's the way to STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES. And render the capital healthy impregnable. If you wish to escape bilious headache, intermittent fever, indigestion, and nervous visitations—to enjoy, in all its plenitude, the blessing of "a sound mind in a sound body," use this incomparable preventive and restorative. It preserves health in the healthy, and renews it in the weak and ailing. Each 30-1m.

THE STORY OF SISYPHUS.

"Sisyphus was king of Corinth. He was wise above all the kings of the age. Even the crafty Autolycus was no match for him. And when Autolycus saw that Sisyphus alone could not be deceived by him, he was so pained that he made him his friend.

"Autolycus, though the son of a god, was not remarkable for his honesty. Indeed he inherited the tastes of his father, Mercury, who was not only the patron of thieves, but something of a thief himself. Autolycus preferred living by successful frauds to working patiently, and so he carried on a sort of freebooting trade with all his neighbors.

"He stole the oxen of Sisyphus and mingled them with his own herds. But Sisyphus, more cunning than he, suspecting the honesty of his neighbor, had previously marked their feet and so knew them again. And Autolycus, instead of being angry, was delighted to have met with a man more crafty than himself.

"Wise was Sisyphus! There were few towns like unto Corinth on the two seas! A port on either side, whilst proudly in the midst rose the fair city. Thou wert called cruel, O Sisyphus! they say thy captives died painful and lingering deaths. It may have been so, but I loved thee!

"But the gods were thy enemies; perchance they feared one wise like unto themselves. Why didst thou rouse the fierce anger of Pluto? Shall I forget the day when, wandering through the palace, I came to a door that opened on a winding staircase, apparently descending to the vaults below. I wondered whither it led, and slowly and carefully I crept down the steps and found myself in a vast chamber, lighted only by a single lamp. The light of the lamp was too faint to redeem from darkness aught but the small space immediately beneath it. This spot was sufficiently lighted for me to discover a terrible figure, chained with heavy chains to an iron pillar—a figure whose fleshless limbs were scarcely hidden by the black drapery which was wrapped around her. The long, thin arms and bony fingers were covered with a skin of livid hue, the eyes were dull and lustreless, the jaw had fallen, and the glittering teeth grinned fearfully; the cheeks were hollow, the whole face ghastly white, and the scanty hair fell in a wispy of rusty gray over the skeleton's shoulders.

"I shrieked, and at my cry the figure roused itself, and wildly endeavored to burst its chains.

"Spellbound I stood, and still the figure frantically strove to reach me with yells of powerless rage.

"'Uchaim me! I am Death! Let me go hence to do my work amongst the race of men! Thou, Meropie, shalt be my victim. Come near, that I may breathe on thee, and so revenge myself on Sisyphus.'

"But I shrank back; I would have fled, but terror held me there.

"O Death! O Death, art thou indeed so terrible?

"And at my pleading voice her frantic rage was soothed, and as I gazed a wondrous transformation came. The flesh grew on the bones, the hollow eyes shone mild and soft, the gray hair changed to locks of brightest gold, and the black drapery turned to robes like snow.

"O Death! O Death! and canst thou be so fair?

"Then, in a voice like the far-off murmur of a summer-stream, Death answered me:

"I am not terrible to all, O Meropie! To some I come even so thou didst see me first: such is the picture drawn of me by mortal pen; but I can change my guise, and kiss to sleep the eyes that never more shall wake on earth. There are some waiting for me now that look upon me as their kindest friend. There is a mother weeping for me: her little ones have cried for food till they can cry no longer; their forms are shrunk, their eyes are almost blind, they gasp in agony, yet they must gasp till my touch is on them. There is a worn-out man, bowed down with grief, who has outlived his honor and his friends; and Death to him will bring a precious gift. There are some aged ones whose kindred one by one have passed away, and left them stranded on a barren shore, without one landmark pointing to the past. And there are fettered men, fettered in soul and body, poor tollown slaves, who work, and work, and work—who at the morning's dawn look forth to night, and as the night comes on pray for the dawn, that swifter, swifter than the lightning's dash the time may pass till I shall over them bend and whisper in their ears that Death has come. Death binds them in her hands to set them free, and 'Liberty' upon their dying lips is sweet indeed to hear.

"Pluto sent the god of war to demand that Death should be set free, and Sisyphus was obliged to yield to the power of Mars. But Pluto never forgave my husband, and Sisyphus had no wish to enter his dominions. Time passed, and Sisyphus grew greater and greater, and Corinth flourished mightily. But years crept on, and at last the hand of Death was laid on Sisyphus—I knew her at once; and to him she came as a skeleton form, with scythe and scimitar.

"And when Sisyphus knew that resistance was unavailing, he begged of me to let his body lie unburied; for he was wise even in death, and knew what he would do. Then he died. And I would allow no funeral rites to be paid to the corpse, and day and night I watched beside it, lest his last request should be disobeyed.

"But once I fell asleep, and when I awoke Sisyphus was standing alive by my side. He had returned to life.

"He had not been long in the infernal regions ere he complained to Pluto that no burial had been given to his body, and begged he might return to the earth to punish me for having neglected to pay the customary observances to the dead, and then he said he would go back to hell. But having escaped from the dreary lower world, he was in no haste to enter it again; life, with all its joys, was more to his taste than Pluto's kingdom. And so he staid and staid, and I was glad to keep him, and we heeded not Pluto.

"But Pluto became tired of waiting for him, and was indignant when he found that Sisyphus did not intend to return. And again he prevailed on Mars to force my husband to obey his will. So Mars conducted him to hell again, and there stern Pluto compels him to roll a stone up a steep mountain, but when the stone has nearly reached the summit it rolls down again, and the labor of Sisyphus is never ended."—Chimney Corner.

A FRENCH EXECUTION.

Lamaire has been guillotined. It will be remembered that he had deliberately murdered a woman whom his father was about to marry. In court he not only pleaded guilty, but gloried in his crime. He stated that his "plan" was to murder first his future step-mother and her family, and then to kill his father; afterwards he ment to rob the house, and "faire la noce"—a slang French phrase, the only equivalent for which is to "have some fun" with the money and then surrender. He told the court that a life of hard work would not suit him, and he made a speech to the jury, pointing out that his was not a case for extenuating circumstances, and told the court that his judges would have a great deal to answer for if they did not sentence him to death. The jury, for a wonder, brought in a verdict of guilty, without extenuating circumstances, and sentence of death was duly recorded against him. He refused to appeal to the Court of Cassation, and stubbornly declined to be in any way a party to the efforts of his counsel to obtain a commutation of punishment from the Emperor's mercy. His advocate, however, used his utmost endeavors to save the life of this preconcerted murderer; but the report of the medical men who examined him was conclusive as to the absence of any indication of anything like insanity, and it was determined to let the law take its course.

As day was breaking, about half-past five, the executioner and his staff made their appearance on the platform, and immediately proceeded to see that the machinery was in good working order, by twice letting the knife fall. Meanwhile attendants brought up a number of pails of water, and a number of bundles of straw, which they proceeded to make a litter of under and around the fatal machine. A little later a black, one-horse spring wagon was driven up. Whilst this was going on the crowd in the streets were not pushing or fighting, but quietly singing, "La femme a barbe."

"Fallait pas qu'il y aille," and other ditties of the same character. Lamaire was roused from his sleep at about half-past five, and was told that the time had come. He braved it out to the last—he quietly remarked that he had been waiting long enough. He underwent the fatal toilette, i. e., the shearing of the hair at the back of the head and the cutting off of the collar of his shirt without wincing. Before his arms were pinioned

ARTEMAS WARD.—The great humorist of America is dead! There is no one to take his place. The fictitious name of Artemas Ward, that Mr. Brown took as a nom de plume, has made immortal, as we are accustomed to say of those who have achieved a decided literary reputation. And yet he was only thirty-three years of age, and seems to have come up to fame as naturally and modestly, as a blade of grass or a simple field flower.

He was permitted to live to cross the Atlantic and enter London, where genius for so many centuries has found a field for labor and won glory, and Ward, or rather Brown, has, like Johnson and Goldsmith, Burke and Burns, Moore and Scott, and a host of others, been successful.

Seldom has a death excited such wide interest and sincere regret, which is not surprising, when we consider how extensively his writings have circulated, and how universally he has been read, and with what delight, by men and women of all classes and all ages. In this world of care and sorrow, how many hearts has he lightened; how many anxious thoughts dispelled; and with what genuine touches of nature has he regaled mankind! It may seem strange to call such a man a public benefactor, but is he not one?

His body is to be brought home for interment. Another man of humor on which to moralize.

"Alas, poor Yorick!"—I knew him Horatio; a fellow of infinite jest, of most excellent fancy. Where be your jibes now? your gambols? your songs? your flashes of merriment, that were wont to set the table in a roar?

He gave directions as to where he wished to be buried, and the simple inscription to be placed upon his grave-stone. To his mother he has left his property, estimated at sixty thousand dollars, and after her death, it is to pass into a fund for the relief of poor printers, a profession to which he belonged.

The success of Mr. Brown in England was complete. Each evening's lecture was an ovation. Seats were engaged for a week in advance. Up and down Piccadilly, from St. James' church to St. James street, carriages bearing the first arms in the kingdom, were thronged night after night. For six weeks, from November 9, to December 21, there was no falling off.

But it is saddening to be informed, as we are, by one who knew, that all this time he was dying by inches, and yet he would step lightly before his audiences amid a burst of merriment, and for more than an hour sustain the part of a jester for the amusement of the company. His exertions were him out and shortened his days, and the climate was bad for him. But his constitution was never very strong, and he had a tendency to consumption.

His idea was to lay aside out of his earnings enough to make him independent, and then to give up this "mountain-bank business," as he called it. He had a great respect for culture and literary respectability, and thought that if he could get time and freedom from anxiety, he might do something in the high comedy line. He had a humorous novel in view, and a series of more aspiring comic essays than he had ever attempted. Very often he alluded to the opening for an America Magazine; to be neither so loose as Harper's, nor so recondite as the Atlantic, and would probably have started one had he lived.

Booksellers in London made him lucrative offers, and he wrote for several publications in that city. He was dreadfully persecuted by lion hunters, and had to keep his lodgings pretty much of a mystery.

There was no bitterness in his satire, but it was all genial, and the vein of common sense, a marked feature of his character, pervading all his writings, were two things which commended him to readers. There was also an originality about him, saying things in his own way, and things which were his own, in such a droll, comical manner, that he preserved his individuality. There was an air of sincerity about his compositions and a natural mention of circumstances, so much so, that many people supposed that there was no fiction about them.

We needed such a man to lash the follies of this age; and humor is often more successful in reforming mankind than sober argument. As a people we are excitable and liable to run into excesses, even on great subjects, and such a man, is on this account, a public loss.

The profession of a printer is favorable to literary culture, and brings forward many a man as a writer, and advances him to eminence. Benjamin Franklin, is a striking instance; and many men, now prominently before the public as writers, and filling important public offices, commenced life in a printing office.

Mr. Brown died in full faith of the Christian religion, and was entirely calm and resigned. It would not have been strange, if he had lived longer, to have seen him writing on religious subjects in the serious way in which they should always be treated.

For the Middlesex Journal.
MR. EDITOR.—I am glad several of your correspondents are so "feelingly alive" to the importance of the great cause of temperance. It is well to have discussion, and arguments pro and con, upon this momentous question. It is well to have men's consciences excited and aroused.

"For while they do faster, there's a remedy; but for your calous souls, I know no cure!"
While the friends of a prohibitory law "thank God and take courage," in view of the good time coming when our young men shall no longer be led into temptation, nor the poor inebriate offered the intoxicating glass, in bar-rooms found in all or any of our streets, others, whose craft is in danger, or whose appetites crave the accustomed stimulus, with some doubts, may honestly oppose the law, decriing the efforts of the friends of temperance, and resist with all their powers the forces that now operate to make effectual the law, and prove its value to individuals and to the State.

Thus different views and feelings are well represented in your Journal. Some of them are reasonable and instructive, all are interesting, some amusing. It was really amusing to read the following in an article from "Truth," in your last issue: "Who does not know," he says, "that many of the advocates of the present law are in the habit of taking their drinks on the sly, or even in public, when among strangers. Such is the fact." What then? "Such is the fact," the hypocrites need the law as well as others, and let them feel its power. But is "Truth" omniscient, that he can know what is done "on the sly," and even "among strangers?"

The progress of your correspondent "C," in scriptural knowledge, is gratifying. It appears from his last communication that he has obeyed the divine injunction—"Search the Scriptures." His account of the miracle performed by our Saviour in turning water into wine, is in accordance with the text. "C" no longer tells us that "when men were well drunken, Jesus gave them more." His inference, however, does not seem to be justified by the record. He inquires, after repeating the Governor's remark relating to good, and to inferior wine—"was there none drank before?" Why, the account says—"And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine." Then none could have been drunk before.

Another of your correspondents says—"I must take things as we find them." That is what the friends of temperance propose to do, and what the Legislature of the State has done for many years. Individuals have been found so unscrupulous in the pursuit of gain, that laws have been enacted forbidding the sale, for food, of animals below a certain age; prohibiting the trade in tainted meat, adulterated milk, and various other unhealthy articles of drink or food.

The right of the community to protect itself from various evils and dangers has long been acknowledged and enforced. Nuisances may be abated; obscene and vulgar prints destroyed; persons afflicted with malignant and infectious diseases removed; dwellings destroyed to stop the ravages of fire; and other acts performed to save the health, the morals and the property of the people of the Commonwealth. And all these acts—taking things as we find them—are justified by every intelligent citizen. Yet these are arbitrary acts and interfere with individual rights.

Away, then, with the notion that the Government may not protect its citizens and itself from the greatest evil that curses and afflicts the land. Sellers and drinkers, and other opposers of the law, should not stultify themselves by calling it unconstitutional, tyrannical, unjust, while they regard as just and proper those other laws securing physical and moral health, and property, even by the sacrifice of private rights and privileges for the public good.

On Art. 20.—Report of the Committee on Town History.

The Committee chosen by the town, April 14, 1862, to purchase of the Rev. Samuel Sewall of Burlington, the manuscript copy of his History of Woburn, and to publish the same, with such additions as they may deem expedient, respectfully submit the following report:

Since our last report the town has met with an irreparable loss in the death of the most important member of the committee, Dr. Benjamin Cutter, whose sound judgment and thorough acquaintance with all matters relating to Woburn, was only equalled by Mr. Sewall's. Your Committee have nominated as his successor, John Cummings, Jr., a selection which they presume the town will most cordially endorse.

The manuscript will probably be ready for the press by the first of July next, and will make, when printed, a book of over 600 pages, quarto size. It will be a monument of industry and learning. But few men are aware of the time and labor necessary for the compilation and composition of such a work; the consulting of printed books, pamphlets, &c.; the searching of records, and sifting of old traditions current among a people, take more time and patient investigation, than the writers of other books usually expend. Hence the writer of such a history rarely receives anything like an adequate compensation for his labor. His best compensation is the consciousness of having faithfully performed his work; and we doubt not that it will be a source of enduring pleasure to Mr. Sewall (far above any compensation he receives from the town), that he has been able from so many scattered materials, to produce a History of so much value.

The original sum agreed upon for furnishing the manuscript and correcting the proof, was two hundred and fifty dollars; but it has taken a much longer time, and the labors have been more arduous than your Committee at first anticipated; they therefore recommend that the sum be increased to five hundred dollars. The town voted to pay the sum, and the labors have been more arduous than your Committee at first anticipated; they therefore recommend that the sum be increased to five hundred dollars. The town voted to pay the sum, and the labors have been more arduous than your Committee at first anticipated; they therefore recommend that the sum be increased to five hundred dollars.

In conclusion, your Committee recommend that two thousand copies of the History be printed, and that 2 copies be given the State Library; 2 copies to the North Woburn Library; 1 copy each to the towns of Bedford, Billerica, Reading, Stoneham, Medford, West Cambridge, Lexington, Wilmington, Burlington and Winchester; 50 copies to the Rev. Mr. Sewall; 100 copies to the Town Library; to be exchanged for other Town Histories; and the remainder left for the future disposal of the town.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.
JOHN D. TIDD,
NATHAN WYMAN.

Voted, to adopt the Report.

On Art. 21, (in relation to the further distribution of Town History.) Voted to dismiss.

On Art. 22, (in relation to the purchase of a lot of land for gravel.) Voted, That it be referred to the Selectmen, with full powers to purchase said land.

On Art. 23, (in relation to removing the school house on Green street.) Voted, To refer to the Selectmen and School Committee.

Articles 24 and 25, relating to Public Baths, were dismissed.

WOBURN LOCALS.

—The National History Society has held no regular meeting for the past two months, owing to the bad traveling, but now as the spring advances and walking becomes good they will be renewed. Tuesday evening next a class in Botany will be formed at their room, to commence the study of the early wild flowers which now are pushing upward for spring sunshine. It is to be hoped the teachers and scholars of the town, as well as citizens who interest themselves in this movement. The rambles through the fields and woodlands, searching after the most beautiful of all that nature bestows—flowers—give a truer and keener enjoyment than can be found in the theatre or any place of amusement.

—At the Parish meeting, held in the Unitarian Church, on Monday evening last, the Society accepted the resignation of its pastor, Rev. Eli Fay, and very liberally voted, unanimously, to pay him his salary up to the first of July. The expressions of good feeling and strong attachment for him were numerous. All regret his loss to the society. Few societies would have done so nobly; but he deserves it at their hands. It will be extremely pleasant to Mr. F. to receive this new testimonial of their love and esteem.

ACCIDENT.—Monday afternoon Roger McCormick, while at work in the tannery of Mr. J. D. Cummings, Jr., was accidentally struck in the face by a piece of bark, barely escaping the right eye, and inflicting an ugly looking though not dangerous wound. Dr. J. F. Frisbie dressed the wound. He is doing well.

THE ANNUAL TOWN MEETING for the election of officers and for transaction of general town business, was held on Monday last. The old Board of Selectmen were re-elected, with the exception of D. O. Blanchard, Esq., who declined to serve another year. P. H. Claffey, Esq., was elected in his stead. The members of the old Board were returned by a very handsome vote, as complimentary as it was deserved. No more faithful or efficient officers ever served the town in the capacity of Selectmen.

The doings of the meeting were very harmonious, and the business of the town was transacted in a manner which reflects much credit upon the citizens.

Horace Conn, Esq., the Moderator of the meeting, deserves many thanks for the able, efficient, and impartial manner, in which he discharged the duties of his office.

ELECTION OF A MERITORIOUS OFFICER.—John W. Day, Esq., the well known and efficient Chief of Police for the past two years, received a very flattering and complimentary vote for the position of Constable at the Town Meeting on Monday last. A strong effort was made to defeat Mr. Day, by those who wish to see crime stalk abroad in all its hideous deformity, but the good sense of the community was shown in re-electing him to a position which he has filled with ability, fidelity, and honor to himself and the town. He is a terror to evil doers, and those only who are enemies of good order opposed his re-election.

SUDDEN DEATH.—The community were pained to learn on Saturday morning last of the sudden death of Walter Frost, Esq., which took place at his residence on Pleasant street at about 9 o'clock. Mr. Frost was as well as usual when he arose in the morning, and partook of a hearty breakfast, after which he complained of feeling faint, and almost immediately expired. Mr. F. was a man of prominence, highly respected by a large circle of friends and relatives. The funeral of Mr. Frost took place at his late residence on Tuesday. Rev. Dr. Stebbins officiated.

—The horse of Mr. John Burke, ran away on Friday evening of last week, while on his way from North Woburn to the Centre. He was attached to an open buggy wagon which he upset and threw the occupants, Mr. Burke and his brother, to the ground. They were not injured. The horse made his way home, having cleared himself from all the vehicle but the shafts and the forward wheels.

SURPRISE PARTY.—On Friday evening, March 29th, a number of the friends of Mr. Joseph Knox and Mr. — Jeffers, called at their residence on Main street, and had an agreeable time. The entertainment closed with music and dancing.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT.—The Singing School in Wilmington will close the winter term, on Wednesday evening next, with a grand vocal and instrumental Concert, under the direction of Mr. Rufus Pierce. They will be assisted by the orchestra of the Reading School. Miss Gray will preside at the Church Organ.

SILVER WEDDING.—On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Whitford celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage. The relatives and friends of the couple, to the number of seventy or eighty, assembled at the residence of Mr. Whitford, at an early hour in the evening, and passed an hour or two in the enjoyment of social converse, the hospitality of the house, &c. At their departure, they left behind them a splendid silver tea set, two sets of silver tea spoons, two large silver table spoons, a lot of silver napkin rings, and other articles of value.

RELIGIOUS.—The revival in our Churches still continues, and hundreds are inquiring what they shall do to be saved.

Rev. M. M. Parkhurst, of the M. E. Church, who has been quite indisposed for two or three weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to resume his ministerial labors, and will preach in his own church to-morrow. Subject in the morning, "Can I know that I am a Christian."

Rev. Mr. Chickering, of Exeter, N.H., will fill the First Congregational pulpit next Sabbath.

Rev. Mr. Kelso, of Tennessee, will occupy the Unitarian pulpit to-morrow. Mr. Kelso was to have preached last Sunday, but several deaths occurring in the Parish, Rev. Dr. Stebbins, the former pastor, was invited to preach and officiate at the funerals.

POCKET PICKED.—Mr. J. A. Boute, of this town, had his pocket picked while in Salem one day last week. The rogue obtained about $7.00.

COURT MATTERS.—P. L. Converse, Trial Justice.

On Monday, Hugh Gale was brought up by John W. Day, Police Officer, for a simple drunk. Plead guilty. Fined three dollars and costs.

Coleman Gale, for resisting the said officer in the arrest of his brother, fined five dollars and costs; which very much displeased him. Paid however, and he left grumbling.

FIRES.—On Saturday last there was an alarm of fire, proceeding from the Currier shop of Mr. John Maxwell, in the rear of the Woburn Branch railroad depot. It was extinguished in a few minutes. Damage trifling.

On Thursday morning, at about 10 o'clock, another alarm was given. It proceeded from a house on Bedford St., owned by F. K. Cragin. The roof of the building was somewhat burned, and the whole structure would have been consumed but for the steamer, which was promptly on hand and flooded the premises with water. The fire was caused by a defect in the chimney. Damage about $200. Insured for $325.

It would seem that the day of fires is rapidly coming upon us again. The roof of the engine house, located in the rear of the Woburn Branch railroad depot, took fire this week, but was extinguished without an alarm. Mr. John Carroll's shoe shop, on Main street, also took fire one day this week, but was extinguished by Mr. C., before an alarm was given. We have heard of several other narrow escapes from fire the past week.

—The musical entertainment at Lyceum Hall, on Wednesday evening, was well attended, and gave much pleasure to the audience.

—William H. Temple, Esq., will have a large and important sale of farm stock, hay, wagons, household furniture, &c., at auction, in Burlington, on Thursday, April 11th. The sale will take place at the Munroe market farm, and everything will be sold, without regard to cost. This is a rare opportunity to stock a farm, or secure valuable farming implements, and the sale will doubtless attract a large crowd.

WINCHESTER.

ENTERTAINMENT.—A Literary and Musical Entertainment, under the auspices of the Winchester Lodge, No. 230, I. O. of G. T., was given at Lyceum Hall on Thursday Evening of last week. The hall was filled to its utmost extent and many were unable to gain admission. The programme was as follows:

Piano Solo by Miss Lizzie Holton; Prayer by the Chaplain, Deacon Zebediah Abbott; Introductory remarks by John O. Atwood, the Worthy Chief Templar of this Lodge, in which he briefly sketched the object of this organization, what it is doing and what it proposes to do. It was formed some two months since with 52 members and now has 106 active members, together with 42 petitioners for the charter who have not as yet joined, 41 now standing proposed for initiation, making in all 189. This for so short a space of time is making rapid progress. The remarks were followed by an Introductory Dialogue, consisting of Messrs. Shepard, Whiting, Hathaway and Hobbs; Original Essay upon Temperance by Wm. O. Atwood; Dialogue, "Lump in the side" by Alonzo Blood, Frank Tolman and J. D. Twombly; Song, "Our good ship sails to night" by Geo. W. Shepard; Reading of "Barbara Frietson" by J. R. Goodwin, Esq., of Boston; Declaration—"Onward for Temperance," by Frank Tolman; Song—"Three Angel Visitants" by Miss Fannie Taylor and Mr. Albert L. Rice.

At this point, Rev. Edwin Thompson, the well known temperance lecturer, made one of his characteristic speeches, full of anecdotes, which took well with the audience. Song by the Quartette, entitled, "I forgot the gay world." Reading by Miss Dollie Taylor of a piece entitled "The Bridal Wine Cup." Dialogue—"Altar of happiness." This was the piece of the evening, occupying some time and was quite an elaborate performance. Happily, it was represented by Mrs. J. O. Atwood, who was seated at the Altar, surrounded by her six attendants. The votaries of Fashion, of Pleasure, by Miss Nettie McKen, of Ambition, by Miss Emma Hunt, of Wealth, by Miss Maria Blaisdell, of Fame, by Miss Emma Hall, of Religion, by Miss E. A. Swan, successively appeared before the Altar and advocated the claims of those whom they represent, finally culminating in all renouncing their vain pursuits to that of religion, and confessing that that alone is the true source of happiness, and at that altar should they worship. The young ladies were all arrayed in white and carried bouquets of well. The idea conveyed by this performance was an excellent one and well worthy to be engraven deep upon the memories and hearts of the many young people present. Next followed an address by Rev. R. T. Robinson, in which he said that he was born a temperance man and had always been one. When he became a Christian he felt that he renewed that birth and was more than ever pledged to maintain and carry out the principle of total abstinence from all intoxicating liquors. He commented upon the extraordinary conduct of certain parties in testifying in favor of a license law and expressed his regret that some of these belonged to the religious denomination with which he was connected. He spoke strongly in favor of the present prohibitory law and said God forbid that this State shall ever give its sanction to this unholy traffic. After the address there was a declaration from N. D. Jaquith of "Sheridan's Ride." Song—"No flag but the old"—To Greece we give our shining blades" by the Boston Quartette; Reading of "The Bridge of Sighs," by J. R. Goodwin. The closing piece upon the programme represented a country Aunt's visit to the city, which was enacted by Miss Dollie Taylor, Miss Mary Hatch, Miss Octavia Jaquith, Miss Mary Nichols and 15 others. Miss Taylor, who took the part of the old aunt, was dressed accordingly, did it in an admirable manner. The whole piece was well executed.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.—At the annual meeting of the Excelsior Engine Company, held at their hall on Monday evening last, the following named officers were elected for the ensuing year, viz: Foreman—C. H. Dupee; 1st Assistant—Lorrell Gove; 2d Assistant—B. T. Livingston; Clerk—J. McConville; Treasurer—S. H. Houston; Standing Committee—S. T. Ward, L. G. Claffey, and R. G. Claffey; Stewards—C. H. Dupee, Engineers—M. Oliver, C. T. Symmes, J. D. Lovron, subject to the approval of the Selectmen.

EVENING SCHOOL.—This new and most excellent movement for instruction in the common rudiments of learning of adults and others who have been deprived of the benefit of day schools, was successfully inaugurated on Tuesday evening in the lower Lyceum Hall. Twenty-seven names were enrolled as pupils and much interest manifested. A good supply of teachers was furnished. The next meeting will be this (Saturday) evening, when there will probably be a larger attendance.

SURVEYOR OF HIGHWAYS.—Mr. F. H. Johnson has been appointed by the Selectmen, Surveyor of Highways, to act under the direction of the Selectmen.

EXCELSIOR.

Iron in the Blood.—When the blood is well supplied with its iron element, we feel vigorous and full of animation. It is an insufficiency of this vital element that makes us feel weak and low spirited; all such, by taking the Peruvian Syrup, (a protoxide of Iron) can supply this deficiency, and will be wonderfully invigorated.

Severe soar throat and Diphtheria is quickly cured by using Renne's Magic Oil freely. Swathe the neck with three or four thicknesses of flannel and keep it wet with the Magic Oil; gargle the throat mixed with water, or take a little clear, and swallow slowly—follow up this until cured.

The Massachusetts State prison is crowded with six hundred inmates, and a new wing, to contain two hundred cells, is to be at once commenced.

THE TEMPERANCE QUESTION.—There can be no mistake in saying, that temperance—prohibition or license—is just now, tremendously agitated in Massachusetts.

The subject is being discussed more than common in some of the other states, and the city of Washington, the movement in Congress having a corresponding action in the question as to how temperance can be promoted.

We are glad of all this agitation, and believe that good will grow out of it. Let the subject be discussed and thoroughly investigated, and let it be examined in a right spirit by all parties.

While all are agreed that intemperance is doing great mischief in the land, and that the evil is increasing, there is a difference of opinion among the friends of temperance as to the best means of suppressing intemperance. Let not opposing parties catch at each other's opprobrious epithets, nor impugn each other's motives.

A great mass of evidence has been collected,—not simply by the legislative committee appointed for that purpose,—but by the advocates of temperance in the great reform begun some forty years ago, when the Rev. Justin Edwards, D. D., published his volume entitled "Temperance Documents," the materials for which, were gathered from all available sources, and formed a body of evidence most conclusive, and which might be summoned with profit in the present discussion.

Rev. Dr. Miner, for prohibition; and Ex-Gov. Andrews for license, have spoken very ably and with eloquence in lengthy speeches, and they have been published and widely circulated. The Committee of the legislature will make their report, and the Senate and House will discuss and act upon it.

But whatever they do, the subject will not be put away, but in all probability form a marked feature of our State politics, and friends, or foes of prohibition, will be brought forward as candidates for Governor, and for the legislature at the next election, which is the more likely as slavery can be no more a subject of dispute.

Massachusetts is called the banner State for temperance, and the great battle for the nation will be fought here first, and the result will affect other states.

Several ministers have published their sermons upon this subject, and among them, Rev. D. Bartol, of the West church, Boston. His text is "What the law could not do." A very appropriate paper for his argument in favor of moral suasion. The sermon is very beautifully written, and sets forth in a clear manner, and in striking illustrations, the success to be expected by operating upon the mind through moral and religious motives, as the most proper, efficacious, and permanent mode. He does not undertake to say, what laws besides, are necessary, or would be found useful, as he is not prepared he says, to give opinions, but he argues right out what he believes can be effected by moral means, or by kind persuasion.

All this is very good, and true, and no one can deny it, but it is only the discussion of one half the question, and we want the other half, also, as two oars are demanded to move the boat.

Gov. Andrew tried to prove, that the sale of pure liquors was not a crime, and ought not to be punished like larceny. He was willing to close up all open bars, and have very stringent regulations against adulterated compounds. He dwelt for some time on the question whether alcohol was a poison, and cited testimony to show that it was not.

Dr. Miner went for prohibition in all cases, except the sale by the Liquor Agency, and thought, that by license we should make liquor selling reputable in the eyes of many, but, he added, that the Angel Gabriel, if he should descend to earth and sell liquors as a beverage, could not make it reputable, and that any person trying to do so, would only drag himself down into the pit.

We do not believe that the present legislature will repeal prohibition, or essentially modify present laws, but they may do something to relieve our large city hotels and wholesale grocers.

Prohibition is a great, and it may be a daring step, but, if applied to all without favor to any class, it is not obnoxious to the charge of favoring the rich at the expense of the poor; and it certainly meets the danger in full force, or takes the bull by the horns, and attempts by one mighty grasp to relieve the public of the terrible and enormous evils of intemperance, and the fruitful mother of so many woes and crimes.

Very many wish to have the attempt persistently carried out to its utmost consequences, that we may have the benefit of the example; and that the world may know, that after all other plans have been tried for ages, and been only partially successful, this plan, cutting off the head of the monster with a single blow, a stamping the evil out with iron hoofs of the most elephantine tread, has succeeded. It would seem a pity, on some accounts, now that we have gone so far, not to allow the experiment to go forward, to perish, or survive; and we should think that its opponents might be willing.

We may not have the right to restrain the sale of pure liquors in packages to be carried away and drunk, and we may not be able to say, that, in itself, it is a sin, so to sell and so to drink; but we might ask, if the test of prohibition could not otherwise be made, that men would relinquish their rights, under the pressure of the times, that we might bring the question to the proof.

Whatever is done, or not done; let moral, and religious, and patriotic appeals, be more earnestly pressed upon the community, than ever before, and let us try to educate the people to intellectual resources, and innocent recreations, instead of low, sensual indulgences.

THE HAUNTED HOUSE.—An intelligent writer says, we have known a series of fearful groans, which made a whole family miserable for a month, to proceed from the vibration of a strip of leather and baize nailed on a door to keep the draught away. Wailing and sobbing noises are often heard in old houses from defects which a few nails and a glue pot could remedy. New houses, fresh from the hands of the builder, will indulge in the strangest noises for months together; and if they happen to be full of new furniture there is no telling when one could reckon on domestic quiet. As you lie in bed you hear a crack here, a bang there, a creaking above, and a groaning below; and if you choose you may shiver with apprehension at each fresh demonstration; but you may be wise if you call to mind that all woodwork when new is liable to shrink, and that the shrinking will often announce itself by a detonating noise. You don't hear such noises in the house, because they are stifled by other noises, but the silence of night gives them a startling effect. Thus we often hear noises, perfectly natural in themselves, which are made really formidable by fear and superstitious dread.

Rev. T. W. Hughes, of the Baldwin Place Home for Little Wanderers, will preach in Winchester, at the Baptist and Congregational Churches, on Sunday, April 28. A choir of children from the Home will be present to sing.

We learn from a recent report, that the whole number of children received into the Home since it opened is 693.

Of this number seventeen have been received from Maine, twenty-one from New Hampshire, two from Vermont, seventeen from Rhode Island, seven from Connecticut, five from New York, one from New Jersey, two from Pennsylvania, three from North Carolina, two from South Carolina, two from Georgia, one from Indiana, one from California, three from France, three from Portugal, one from Texas, two from Canada and eight from New Brunswick. The remainder from this State.

Of those placed into homes seventeen have found homes in Maine, fourteen in New Hampshire, four in Vermont, four in Rhode Island, four in Connecticut, two in New York, two in New Jersey, two in Pennsylvania, ten in Ohio, ninety-six in Michigan, five in Illinois, sixteen in Iowa, one in Canada, four in New Brunswick, one in California, and the remainder in this State.

We have at present eighty-eight in our Home family.

Four hundred and fifty-four day children have been received into the School. Forty-seven babies have been cared for in the nursery and were taken home by their mothers at night. Fifty-seven contrabands from Richmond, making in all 1,221 children cared for by the Home during its brief history.

We are not acquainted with any Institution that can present such a record in twenty months.

SHALL WE EAT OUR HORSES.—The question has many times been raised whether horse-flesh is a proper article for human food, and the high prices of beef and mutton, have given new impetus to the discussion. It is contended by some that because the Tartar rides and drives and then eats his horse, and because the Laplander works and then eats his reindeer, and because the people of civilized countries use, work and eat their sheep, cows and oxen, we should eat our horses. The most important point to decide, with those who have taken this subject into their heads, seems to be the palatability of the thing, and as experiments are now making on a somewhat extensive scale, the matter may perhaps be ere long decided, at least so far as it is a question of appetite. The French are taking the lead in this investigation.

Crude petroleum is now being used on machinery. It has proved a good lubricator. It can be obtained at 40 cents per gallon, while sperm oil costs $3.00.

WINCHESTER.

EVENING SCHOOL.—Last Saturday evening the school drew together some forty pupils, young men and women, and the hopes and expectations of its founders were more than realized. The school is under the superintendence of Rev. Mr. Metcalf, who is assisted by an excellent corps of teachers. On that evening, by invitation, B. F. Ham, Esq., addressed the school before its close, giving an interesting description of those enormous trees in California, which attract much attention from visitors. Mr. Ham has recently been to the locality of these trees and was able to illustrate in a familiar way their immense size. It is proposed occasionally to give variety to the exercises by introducing something of this kind, which shall interest and instruct the hearers.

DOGS.—The owners of dogs are notified that it behooves them on or before the thirtieth day of the present month, to get their dogs licensed in accordance with the provisions of law, otherwise its dread penalties will be visited upon their heads.

SALE.—Mr. Geo. D. Reed, has sold the stock and stand of the Provision Store occupied by him to Mr. Cyrus Patch.

PRESENTATION.—The pupils of the Grammar School, through their parents, united in the presentation to Mr. Edward P. Jackson, their late teacher, of a silver pitcher, goblet and cup, as a testimonial of their regard and their appreciation of his valuable services in their behalf. The presents were forwarded to him, and their receipt acknowledged. This expression on the part of his late pupils must be very gratifying to Mr. Jackson, while his departure from this place is very much regretted by all who know of his success as a teacher, and appreciate his worth.

LADIES FRIENDLY SOCIETY.—This society which is connected with the Unitarian Church, have taken rooms in Lycarion building, adjoining to and on the same floor with the place of worship, where their meetings will hereafter be held.

CONFERENCE MEETINGS are also held in their room every Wednesday evening.

TO ANTIQUARIANS.—The following numbers of the Old Farmer's Almanac, (R. B. Thomas) are wanted to complete a set, viz: The year 1793, 1799, and 1800 to 1815, inclusive. Also the Boston Almanac for 1865. Any one having the whole or a part of these numbers, can find a purchaser in Mr. Brown our Postmaster, who has a strange desire for gathering together these old relics of the past. Probably some of our readers will be glad to get rid of some of these old documents, if they have not already disposed of them for paper stock.

EXCELSIOR.

The Springfield Republican, (Mass.), a few days since published a detailed account of six cases of trichina spiralis which occurred in that city. The same paper says the disease is not confined to the Ransley Hall family. A son of the late Joseph Solace is afflicted with it, and is also a Mr. Norton, who lives in the same vicinity. Both of these persons have eaten ham obtained at the store where the Hall's purchased theirs. All of this family are now comfortable, except Mrs. Hall, whose condition is still extremely critical. As showing how enormous is the number of the trichina, it is estimated that those on the small piece of muscle taken from the limb of the deceased were distributed at the rate of 50,000 to 80,000 per square inch. The number in the entire body must consequently be many millions. A piece of the muscle has been sent to Prof. Agassiz.

EFFICIENT WORKING OF THE LIQUOR LICENSE LAW IN N. Y.—The Board of Excise have just presented a report to the New York Legislature, covering their operations from the date of the organization of the Board in April, 1866, to March 30, 1867. During that period they have issued 6,779 licenses, of which 5,203 were in New York, 1,476 in Kings County, 71 in Queens County, and 29 in Richmond County. The gross amount received for licenses was $1,283,854, of which New York furnished $993,379; Kings County, $272,826; Richmond County, $5,450, and Queens County, $12,200. In addition to license fees the Board have received for penalties and fines through the criminal courts $11,594. The report concludes with the assurance that there has been a general disposition to conform to the law; rowdism and drunkenness have largely decreased, and that a fair observance of the provisions of the act will diminish scenes of violence and the number of offences, add to the security of life and property, and promote at least an exterior decency in the public streets after midnight, and particularly on the Sabbath day.

WOBBURN LOCALS.

—Rev. Eli Fay came to town on Thursday and was present at the social gathering or tea party in the Unitarian Church that evening. He spoke very feelingly to the friends, who greeted him with much pleasure. His health is somewhat improved but not sufficient to enable him to resume his pulpit labors. He will remain in town for some ten days.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES.—The Rev. F. D. Huntington, D. D., of Boston, is expected to preach in the Town Hall, Sunday evening next. Service to commence at seven o'clock. Services in the morning and afternoon as usual.

INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, &c.—It will be seen by various notices in our advertising columns, that B. T. H. Porter, Esq., is agent for many of the best insurance companies in the country. His rates are as low as they can be obtained anywhere.

—We learn that Mrs. Isaiah Reed, of Burlington, 82 years of age, accidentally fell while walking out, one day last week, and fractured both bones of her left arm. She is doing well. Dr. Harlow reduced the fractures.

GENEROUS.—The friends of Mr. N. H. Nichols, residing in Cummingsville, recently made him a present of about seventy dollars.

—Rev. M. M. Parkhurst will occupy his pulpit all day next Sabbath. Subject, in the morning, "If I am truly converted, can I so far apostatize as to be finally lost?"

COURT MATTERS.—P. L. Converse, Trial Justice.

John T. Ryan was brought up on Monday, for a simple drunk. Fined $3 and costs.

Humphrey Lynch for being a common drunkard, was sent to House of Correction 3 months. He is an old stager and a great destroyer of bad liquor; and if he had been at liberty a little longer, probably would have destroyed it all.

—The Good Templars of Woburn paid a visit to their brothers in Stoneham, on Tuesday evening last.

—We learn that Frederick Ingram, of Burlington, chopped 90 cords of wood in 24 days. Who can beat that?

PRESENTATION.—Mr. C. H. Daniels, having resigned the office of Superintendent of the Methodist Sabbath School, in consequence of his removal from our town, was last Sabbath, at the close of the School, presented with a very elegant and costly Silver Ice Pitcher by the children connected with the School. The presentation speech was made by Miss Allie Munroe, the recipient responding in a very pleasant manner. Under the management of Mr. Daniels the school has more than trebled during the past 18 months, and it is with many regrets that it parts with him.

—On Friday, April 19th, the ladies of this town and vicinity will be treated to a genuine opening of Paris and New York millinery, by Miss Carleton, who is now in New York City, making her selections of the latest novelties in millinery. We expect every lady having an invitation will avail herself of the opportunity afforded by Miss Carleton's enterprising efforts.

NEW STORE.—Mr. Patrick Crehan, having sold out his place of business to Moreland & Grant, is about to erect a fine store on the corner of Union and Main streets. The workmen are already engaged in breaking ground for a foundation.

SURPRISE PARTY.—On Friday evening of last week, a number of the friends of Mr. Joseph Sawtelle, took possession of his house, and enjoyed themselves hugely.

SILVER WEDDING.—Lient. William A. Colgate and wife celebrated their silver wedding, on Monday evening last. The happy couple were the recipients of valuable and costly presents. A splendid supper was prepared for the party.

SANTALINA.—a new perfume for the Handkerchief. To be had at J. M. Grosvenor & Co.'s, 5 Wade Block.

—The absence of the editor from town during a portion of the week, must be his excuse for the paucity of locals, and other original matter in the Journal this week.

The latest swindling dodge in Bridgeport, Conn., is played by an elegantly dressed lady, who calls on wealthy citizens to dispose of a full-blooded English terrier, which she is compelled to sell, as she is breaking up housekeeping. She asks $50 for it, and gets about half price, and at parting from the pup, and leaves. Soon after, the dog becomes frantic, and as soon as a door is opened runs away and is never heard of more.

The chief engineer of Portland states the number of buildings destroyed in the great fire to be 1,600, the loss nine millions, and the insurance three and a half millions.

AN EXCITING SCENE.—A furious horse was brought to the "coliseum" in Chicago on Wednesday, where a horse-trainer was exhibiting. The building was densely crowded with spectators. The horse-trainer was about to commence to manipulate the irritable brute, but before any result could be achieved the latter made a sudden bound from the hands of his owner, who let go the bridle, and sprang wildly into the circle among the audience. A scream of terror rose from every part of the house, and this had the effect of still further maddening the infuriated animal, who sprang and passed from one circle to another, till he reached nearly to the roof of the circus. At this point the flooring gave way right above the cages where the lions are kept, and the horse fell through, carrying with him a number of the spectators who could not get out of the way. A cry was raised that he had fallen directly into the lion's den. Some inconsiderate person shouted at the top of his voice, "the lions are loose!" which produced an unparalleled sensation among the audience. The portion of them who were nearest to the dreaded spot made a rush for the other side of the house in the direction of the dress circle, and the fear that the flooring there was about to give way, together with the knowledge that the black lions and the leopard were immediately beneath, caused an excitement wild beyond all description. The doors were at last thrown open and the crowd escaped with few injuries. The alarm about the lions proved untrue, and when the excitement had subsided the professor tamed the horse, which had also escaped serious injury.

KEE HUDSON, who keeps a liquor saloon in Westfield, Mass., received a call from the State Constabulary a few days since. It appeared in this wise: Ike has a large—very large—black bear. He also keeps his eye open. Spying a constable, the constable slipped the chain from the bear and retired to his ante-room to observe the effects. The officers opened the door and the bear courteously advanced to give them a friendly embrace. Ike says the door was shut immediately and he thinks the constables have not slackened their speed. He has not seen them since.

THE GREAT RAID ON COUNTERFEITERS IN Western New York.—The gang of counterfeiters in Western New York, on which the great raid was made last Wednesday, is said to number over a hundred persons, some of them men of seeming respectability and standing in the community in which they operate. Among the parties arrested is one John Sims, of Amboy Centre, Oswego County, who is claimed to be the ringleader of the gang, and a host of counterfeiters, and who it is said, has cost the Government large amounts of money to detect him in his nefarious calling. It is alleged that there are more than twenty young men now in prison who served an apprenticeship under Sims. He has been for the standing bondsman, the officers say, for those of his gang who were arrested. He is reported to be wealthy and a man of considerable influence.

The Manchester papers say it is not claimed that any of the men under arrest were engaged in the manufacture of counterfeit money, but were buyers, sellers and shovlers of it, and that through the gang it is that the country has been flooded with the worthless Treasury notes, greenbacks, State bank bills, fractional currency, &c. The grand manufactory is not in Western New York. Some of the gang have made themselves rich by dealing in the trash, and they will call to their aid the services of able counsel, who, under large fees, will use extraordinary exertions to free their clients from the law's grasp.

Some of the gang, on hearing what was going on, and anxious to get into their hands the evidence of their guilt, repaired to Canandaigua with the necessary implements for the purpose of breaking into the U. S. Marshal's office at that place. They supposed that the money taken from the members of the gang was kept in the safe in the office. Their purpose was suspected and happily frustrated.

After thirty days occupied in hearing evidence and arguments upon the subject of a liquor license law, the joint special committee of the Massachusetts Legislature last week closed their sittings. The attendance has been large, and much interest manifested. It is stated that the committee will probably accompany their report with a bill favoring a law in accordance with the petitions for a stringent license law, although a majority in both houses of the Legislature is believed to favor prohibition.

One Nelson Cook was arrested the other day for selling liquor contrary to law in St. Albans. He averred that what he sold was not intoxicating liquor, for he had kept five minnows in it, and had to strain it because his customers objected to the minnows! and his witnesses proved the fact.

A NOBLE BOY.—The following incident, in the fatal collision of the "Niagara" with the "Postboy" on the Mississippi, was related by an eye witness:

The two steamers struck, and the "Niagara" immediately careened, and began to sink. The wildest consternation was at once universal. Ladies rushed to and fro with piercing screams, but no means seemed at hand, and each sought his individual rescue.

At this fearful moment a negro boy—one of the crew—was seen quickly fastening a long and stout rope around his body, at the other end tying a stick of wood in its centre.

Instantly, with this apparatus, he threw himself into the river. Turning upon his back, the stick drifted to the rope's end, and calling upon two ladies who stood on the edge of the boat—one with a child in her arms—he urged them to spring and catch either end of the stick. Horror-stricken, they hesitated. The negro lay calmly on the waves, and in tones of confidence told them that it was their only hope, insisting that he would carry them safely to the shore. For another instant they hesitated; but, gathering courage from his self-possession, and realizing that it was their last moment, took the leap, and both succeeded in grasping the stick. Turning quickly to prevent their seizing him, the heroic fellow struck out with strong muscles, for the land. The rapid current was well nigh resistless; but he wrestled manfully with his burden. The energy of despair kept them to their hold, and at length their feet touched the bottom. Both ladies, with the clinging little one were saved. Many witnessed this feat. It not only exhibited a cool unparalleled bravery, but was wholly disinterested, as both ladies were strangers. It should be added that the boy left his own trunk, with his best clothing, and three hundred dollars in money, to sink with the wreck.

OUT OF THEIR HEADS.—Smith and Jones are fast friends and hard drinkers. The other night, on going to their room, with their respective "bags" full as usual, Jones remarked to his friend on the possibility that they might be drinking more than was good for them. After some discussion Smith agreed with him, and then they mutually resolved to quit—swear off—give it up for good. With this resolution firmly made they went to sleep. Early in the morning Smith was awakened by a gurgling sound, and he discovered Jones sitting up in his bed with the whiskey bottle to his lips, throwing it in like her drink. Exclaiming Smith with indignation, "Do you remember our pledge?" Jones, trying to think—"Did we swear off though?" Smith, relenting some as he smelt the whiskey—"Certainly, last night, you know, as we went to bed," Jones, suddenly recollecting—"Oh, yes, to be sure; but then, Smith, (another pull). I'm afraid we must quit ourselves last night!" Tableau.—They take a drink, being themselves again.

Hear Reason. Strengthen the Defences

When a garrison apprehends an attack from an outside enemy, what does it do? It STRENGTHENS THE DEFENCES. The human system, at this period of the year, is beleaguered by morbid influences.
The inclement air is full of them. Every change of weather lays the feeble open to their attacks.
What is to be done in order to baffle these unseen,
but ever active, foes? STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES.
Do you ask how? The answer is simple—the means within the reach of all. Reinforce the vital organs and the nervous system with HOSTET-TER'S BITTERS. Tone the stomach, regulate the bowels, rouse the sluggish liver, cheer the spirits, enrich and purify the vital current, with HOSTET-TER'S BITTERS. That's the way to STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES, and render the capital healthy impregnable. If you wish to escape bilious headache, intermittent fever, indigestion, and nervous visitations—to enjoy, in all its plenitude, the blessing of "a sound mind in a sound body," use this incomparable preventive and restorative. It preserves health in the healthy, and renews it in the weak and ailing. Each 30-1m

BY NORA WORK.

Mr. Trueman had prepared a Thanksgiving dinner, and invited strange guests.
Without their being aware of it, he had collected representatives of earth's miserable; and looking benignly down the two rows of faces at his table, smiled at the odd array of character. We say array, for Mr. Trueman was an individual of great insight, and well versed in the lore of human nature.

At his right hand, were an old man and old woman, whom he had picked up in an adjacent alley, pensioners on the labors of their son, a burly man with a wife and six children. Very sorrowful and pinched were their faces, and pained and stiff their limbs. Alas! that those feeble ears were still sensible to the unfeeling taunt of having "outlived their usefulness."

Below them, sat Mr. Trueman's wash-erwoman, a poor widow, with weak frame and hacking cough, pale-faced and woe-begone and her brother, a wounded, sick, and broken-down soldier, carrying a secret sorrow, not so much at the loss of his limb, as the ungratefulness of that people he had served.

At Mr. Trueman's left hand, nestling towards him with a confidence beautiful to see, were two little children, who looked curiously around, with intelligent glances, most at a man who sat near the foot of the table, and whose bloodshot eyes and haggard face gave evidence of past excesses. Poor, abused babes!

Their friend had found them screaming under the blows of a brutal parent, and rescued them, with the threat of informing the authorities were the inhuman conduct repeated. Perhaps they traced in that fallen face some likeness to the one which had so often bent over them, made terrible with rage.

But all his specimens were not gathered from the lowly walks of life. By the side of these "shorn lambs," sat a grave man, whose attentions to them were almost tender. Sad father! Earth had tucked her green spread over the fresh fades and dark eyes of his own little ones.
Blessed are orphans and neglected children in the existence of bereaved parents!

Next this gentleman, sat another of Mr.
Trueman's friends, who looked around with mingled amusement and disdain.
Had he known his host's object, on receipt of the pleasant invitation to dinner,
how hot would have burned his wrath!

But this man was as thoroughly a man as any one that pleasant board; perhaps more so than all of them; for Faith was shined like a gem, in many of these humble hearts, and this he spurned with bitter, though heartless jests. Opposite, with still a little clinging about "his affectionate dog," was a man, whose credit was ruined in the commercial world. The party of friends amongst whom he came, including, beside the two gentlemen already mentioned, a disappointed author, a young friend suspected of pinning about "his affectionate dog,"

and a nervous man, of recluse habits,
whom our philanthropist, strongly suspected of bearing a weight uncommonly
heavy upon his conscience—these regarded their humble fellow-guests with some surprise, whose presence was a proof of their host's eccentricity.

The individual smiled with peculiar satisfaction; then, rising, he lifted his hands, at which sign every head was bowed, with the exception of the children. Their eyes wandered, though with abashed and half-frightened gaze. No blessing had ever before hallowed their daily bread.

"We, Thine unworthy creatures, are gathered before Thee, O God, to break bread and to commune together. Let Thy blessing descend, sanctifying both our food and the bodies which shall nourish
it, and a nervous man, of recluse habits,
whom our philanthropist, strongly suspected of bearing a weight uncommonly
heavy upon his conscience—these regarded their humble fellow-guests with some surprise, whose presence was a proof of
their host's eccentricity.

It is peculiar that respect the Christian religion exacts, even from those who scout it in debate. The infidel was as devout as that poor widow, who always breathed a low petition over each scanty meal. The courses were immediately served, and many dull eyes brightened unwontedly. The brokenhearted lover saw, half-contemptuously, how eagerly these poor people relished the viands.

"Miserable humanity!" he thought, "how are we degenerated, when bodily comforts become the objects of our sole solitude. What are pangs of the flesh, to sufferings of the spirit?"

But the infidel, with epicurean propensities, was prone to enjoy every physical luxury, and to forget the spirit's hunger.

"Aint this nice?" whispered one little child, nudging the other; "do you think mother gets good dinners where she is gone?"

"Dead people don't eat, don't you know?
I used to wish I was dead, so I wouldn't be hungry."

"But mother said she was going off somewhere else to live—away up high—why, I remember, just as well! And don't she eat there?"

"So the case was laid before Mr. Trueman, with much childish hesitation and diffidence.
Spirits do not need our food," he explained; "your mother has thrown off the body, and all the body's wants which belong to it, are no more importance, my child, the wants of the body, or those of the soul?"

"I don't know, sir," she answered, timidly, putting one thumb in her mouth.
"Tell me, then, whether you would rather go to Sunday-school every Sabbath, or have a good dinner?"

"We don't know what Sunday-school is, sir. I think I would rather have a good dinner."

"Ah!" remarked the old man, his head shaking with palsy, while, "it's hard for some of us poor to keep Heaven in sight, with so many worldly cares piled on us."

"My friends!" Mr. Trueman looked over his collection struck with a sudden thought, "these are divers kinds of wants and suffering in the world. Will you each tell what appears to you the hardest thing of all to endure?"

For a human being will ever count his own load heaviest.

"Well, sir," began the old man, with slow stammering, "I've lived high on eighty year, and I've seen my children nailed up in little coffins, and carried out one after t'other, till only the youngest was left; but the hardest thing I've had to endure in this life, was to hear that last one say there's no need of me
no longer—I've outlived my usefulness.
The mother and me has weathered the storms together; we can both say this is the heaviest; and the old couple looked into each other's eyes, weeping."

"No; there's a worse thing to be endured," suddenly broke in the drunkard, with a quiver of sharp remorse in his tones. "It's the thought that you've broken the heart of an angel

SATURDAY, APRIL 20, 1867.

R. MARCHANT, Editor and Proprietor.

THE WORLD'S UNREST.

The world is far from being quiet. Almost a panic has been produced in England by an apprehended war between victorious Prussia and France. The hostilities for peace, as was supposed in the Great Exposition of Paris, to which the world was invited, may prove no security, when national honor, coveted possessions, and injured pride, call out for their gratification. But we can hardly conceive, that Napoleon would like to disturb his great effort in the Paris display, and that he will, if possible, avoid it. Count Bismark, the Prussian prime minister, has achieved by his genius, a position for Prussia, such as she never filled before, but we do not see what business France has to interfere. Napoleon may be jealous of his neighbor, and wish still to be the arbiter of Europe, as until lately he has been supposed to be. He may be desirous, also, of some share in the appropriations of territory and people which Prussia is so rapidly, and with such a great appetite—growing by what it feeds upon—seizing for herself, but he has avoided for some time that his policy is peace, both for France and the rest of Europe.

Nevertheless, he is arming, and what does this mean? Bismark, a shrewd observer, calls upon him in the name of his king, to resist from this military preparation. But will he stop?

Napoleon is said not to be what he once was, and to have become a "sick man," yet we cannot see but what he has as resolute a will as ever, and vigor of body enough, and military means sufficient left to accomplish that will. Things do look bad, reason as we may against the probability of a European war.

The emperor of the French has yielded gracefully to this country in removing his troops from the service of Maximilian in Mexico; and he has forborne to interfere in German affairs while Prussia has been accomplishing so much for her own aggrandizement, and he does not seem to be disposed to be rash, which it would not be wise for him to be in the present condition of France and Europe; and yet, Napoleon believes himself to be a man of destiny, and he has shown a daring that few rulers have exhibited. He has mind and decision, but he has met his match in Bismark, who is as fiery, and, also, as cool and secretive as himself.

If we turn to Turkey, we see there an unended warfare with Crete, which does not yet begin to approach towards a peaceful settlement, and out of which may grow a war with other European powers.

The balance of Europe, that great problem which is always to be solved, or for which new events and changes, so often demand new solution, has seemed to require the existence of the Turkish empire. If not, what nation shall occupy her place?

Great Britain is disturbed with "Reform," and with Fenianism, either of them formidable, but united, something more than that. Slowly advances human freedom and individual rights, even in free England, as she is sometimes called; but it must advance.

We should be happy, that we are so remote from the Old World, as to live and act alone; and yet the world is now so near together, that our oceans are not the barriers that they once were.

The people of Europe have their eyes upon this country, not to conquer it by force of arms, but to invade it by emigration. All nationalities, or nearly all, pass over the sea to us, and the native population is about to be swallowed up in the Irish, German, Swedish, French, Scotch, English, and Chinese inundation.

We are gaining also in territory. Russian America, that great patch of land on the North-western corner of North America, has just passed into our possession as it were in the twinkling of a moment; and authentic accounts show that the climate is not so severe as has been supposed, and that the opportunities for settlement and reaping harvests in gold, in the fisheries, and in the lumber business, and even in agriculture,—will be speedily improved under the rule of the United States. We have a great work to do in our states, South, East, and West; and now the cry comes from the North on the borders of the Polar Sea, "Come over and help us."

"THE SOLDIER'S STORY of his Captivity at Andersonville, Belle Isle and other Rebel Prisons. By Warren Lee Goss, of the Mass. Heavy Artillery. Illustrated. Price $2.00. Lee & Shepard, publishers.

This a work of thrilling interest, founded on fact, and depicts in true colors the terrible sufferings of our soldiers while in prison. The Sunday Times, in a well written notice of the book, says:—

"It is a proper and timely record, made while it can be correctly made, of one of the darkest features of the war—a black spot that will never be rubbed out. It was due to the gallant and devoted men who gave up their precious lives for our sake and the sake of the Union, in those infamous prisons. Those who lost brothers, sons, husbands, and friends in those prisons, certainly have a claim to have their feelings respected, by thus perpetrating the sacrifices and memory of those they gave up for the common good.

"This well written book will be widely read, and will stir the hearts of men and women to their depths. It is handsomely printed, elegantly bound, and the touching story of our valiant soldier is set off with pathetic skill by the pencil of the artist."

Mr. N. H. Nichols is agent for the sale of the "Soldier's Story" in Woburn, and will solicit subscriptions for the same.

EXPERIENCE OF AN EXILE.—Governor Harris, of Tennessee, one of the rebel heroes who sought among the greasers and banditti of Mexico the blessings which, as alleged, they could not obtain in the United States, gives a deplorable account of his sufferings in that benighted country. Having at last returned to the land of his birth, Governor Harris tells a few facts that have come under his observation. He declares that a large majority of the people in that country are opposed to imperial rule, but not more than would resist any other form of government; this corresponds to some extent with what is known of their past history, and may be correct. Only about one million out of the 8,000,000 of inhabitants can be considered educated property holders, and this small minority is about equally divided between the two parties favoring imperial or republican forms of government. The great mass of the population are ignorant, indolent, worthless, unprincipled and vicious, ready to oppose any and all government which in any degree restrains their vices or seeks to collect taxes. It was among people of this character that the refugees from republican America sought their political elysium, but miserably failed. Not being able to protect themselves from the plundering propensities of their fellow citizens of whatever name, republican or imperial, and being subject to petty persecutions based upon flimsy charges, and followed by occasional arrests, the "little colony" became so much discouraged that it was impossible to hold them together. So the attempt at colonization in Mexico was finally abandoned, and the fugitive Americans once more placed themselves under the aegis of the flag of the great republic. There is a lesson in this which ought not to be forgotten.

THE HARRIS BROTHERS' FINE $14,000 FOR ENTERTAINING A LOTTERY.—In the Superior Criminal Court, this morning, before Judge Morton, Luther M. Harris and James W. Harris appeared for sentence on an indictment charging them with promoting a lottery, (found at the June term, 1865, and on which they were found guilty, and the exceptions taken overruled; also on an indictment, found the present year, for having in their possession for sale, and offering to sell, certain lottery tickets; and on a third indictment charging them with promoting a lottery known as the "Rural Home" scheme. On the last indictment a verdict of guilty was taken and exceptions filed and allowed; but when the Harris Brothers waived to-day, District Attorney Sanger stated to the Court that at the time of the search about $25,000 of U. S. securities were found in the defendant's trunk; also that a large number of letters were found at the Post Office for these brothers, respecting the lottery business, and that the clerk at the Dead Letter Office testified to receiving an average of five letters a day respecting Harris Brothers' schemes, and that Harnden's Express Company also testified to money packages coming very frequently for the defendants. He also showed a number of letters which had been received by the Chief of Police, the Mayor of this city, and the Governor of this State, from parties who had received them from Harris Brothers, and who were not to be named; and that the District Attorney claimed that this money had been illegally gotten, and that the maximum fine should be imposed.

Chas. H. Hudson, Esq., who appeared in connection with Geo. Starkweather, Esq., as defendant's counsel, stated to the Court that he had been but recently brought into the case, and as far as he was able to ascertain, he felt sure that the defendants believed that they were doing a legitimate business within the law, and very likely they have been reported to be doing more than they really were. Mr. Hudson did not deny the business done by the defendants, any more of a lottery than Fire Insurance companies, of one of which the District Attorney is President. Inasmuch as the indictment under which the defendants might be sent to the State Prison had been laid on account of doubtful questions of law, Mr. H. did not feel like urging the matter of clerical error to such persistence.

Judge Morton said he could not but characterize the business carried on by the defendants, to call it by its right name,—as an extensive swindle, and he was unable to see how he could do otherwise than impose the maximum fine, as, in his opinion, to do less would be offering a premium to swindlers.

The prisoners (for their bail had been surrendered) were then fined, each, on the first indictment, $2000; on the second, $4000 on two counts; and on the "Rural Home" indictment $1000, making a total of $14,000, with costs, which will amount to about two hundred dollars.

Under the 8th section of chapter 167 of the General Statutes, the defendants forfeit to the Commonwealth about $50,000 worth of property, which includes the $25,000 in U. S. securities, the "Rural Home" at Woburn, valued at $13,000, and the fine of $14,000 and costs.—[Boston Herald, April 15.]

CONFESSION OF A COUNTERFEITER.—The Solicitor of the Treasury has recently received the detailed statement of Charles Ulrich, a native of Germany, arrested by Col. Wood in the city of Cincinnati in March last, charged with being a counterfeiter of national currency, and with having counterfeit plates of various denominations in his possession. Ulrich gives an interesting history of his wanderings with traders in counterfeit money, and the names of the principals for whom he worked as an engraver and printer. In response to a question by Marshal Murray, he said he paid New York police detectives and deputy marshals as much money as $150,000 in the aggregate, besides altering stolen watches, &c., so as to destroy the identity of the timekeepers. Ulrich acknowledges that he printed from the $200 plate two hundred thousand dollars worth of notes. He had intended to print two hundred impressions from the $500 plate, and if he had not been captured that work would have been completed in ten or fifteen days. The plates are now in the possession of the government. They are remarkably well executed, and the notes produced from them are calculated to deceive even the most expert.

The horse is a valuable one, and we are sorry to learn that doubts are entertained of his recovery.

REDUCTION OF HOTEL PRICES.—We are informed that the proprietor of POWERS' HOTEL, PARK ROW, N. Y., directly opposite the Astor House, have reduced their rate from $3 to 2.50 per day. This hotel is situated in the best locality for Merchants and business men, and is very desirable in every way. Our readers will do well to bear it in mind on their business trips to the metropolis, as it offers greater inducements for less money, than any other hotel in New York.

EDITOR WOBURN JOURNAL.—For the first time since Woburn has been incorporated a movement has been made for the purpose of organizing a Naturalization Society in this town. A meeting to this effect was assembled in the Irish Literary Association Hall, on Wednesday evening last, to make arrangements and pass measures to adopt the same. Before a full house, Mr. James McMahon was duly elected as naturalization agent, for Woburn. The meeting was addressed in a very spirited and able manner, by Mr. P. H. Claffy, Peter Kenney, Patrick McDonald, P. O'Brien, J. H. Connelley and Collins. These gentlemen fully and satisfactorily explained the necessity and great good which would arise from such a movement, with such effect, that all those who were not citizens spontaneously came forward and enrolled themselves. If those who are not citizens only knew the advantage which they would derive from being such, they would not hesitate a moment in becoming members of the first republic in the world! If people cry out against laws which are repugnant and obnoxious to their nature and feelings, they have only one way to remedy what heretofore seemed to be an incurable disease, and that is to put themselves in a position to do so by becoming at once citizens, which will entitle them at least to respect for their vote and for their person. The following resolution was passed and adopted:—

Resolved, That a committee be formed for the several districts of Woburn, for the purpose of exerting themselves towards the above moment, viz:—West Side, Woburn—P. J. Dever and Chas. Breslin; Thompson's Village—Jas. Nelson and Jas. Canny; N. Woburn—Jas. Murray and Patrick McKinnick; Winchester—John Partell and Michael Fitzgerald; Woburn Centre—James Begly and James Keating.

JENKINS, Secretary.

WINCHESTER.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The Literary and Musical Entertainment, under the auspices of "Pride of Winchester" Lodge, No. 232, I. O. of Good Templars, which was given in Lyceum Hall, on the evening of March 28th, was repeated with some variations, in the same place, on Friday evening of last week.

The new portion of the exercises were in the songs sung by the Boston Quartette, which, as before, were well done. An original essay upon Temperance was given by Mr. Edward N. Phelps, one of our most active young men, who is in the employ of Mr. Geo. P. Brown. This production we were unable to hear, in that part of the hall where we were located, but we could see that it was forcibly delivered, and at its close was heartily applauded.

We congratulate this Lodge on the literary talent exhibited by this and others of its members, and doubt not that they will only let their light shine before the community. The "Bridal Wine Cup," was given in the form of a dialogue, which was participated in by Mr. H. A. Emerson, Mr. W. O. Atwood, and Miss Emma Hall, and a party of twelve others, and was performed in an excellent manner. A declamation by Mr. H. A. Emerson showed good ability in that line, and the piece selected was well adapted to the speaker. Mr. L. S. Quinn, by a song, entitled "I am a Ladies' Man," in good style.

Rev. S. J. Bronson, the Baptist clergyman, who has recently come to this town, made a brief address, in which he defined his position as a temperance man, and in favor of the prohibitory liquor law and its thorough enforcement. These exercises like the preceding ones were of an interesting character and reflect credit upon their originators and projectors.

We are glad to see this Lodge show such signs of vitality and evince a disposition to make itself a power in the community.

From the profits of their entertainments they have purchased an elegant piano, for use at their meetings.

PETITIONS.—Two petitions have been circulated recently among the patrons of the railroad, for their signatures—the one asking for a reduction of the rates of fare, in initiation of the Maine & Eastern roads;—and the other asking that the 11 1-2 P. M., train on Wednesdays evenings may be continued through the year. Both petitions have received the names of a large number of the most prominent and influential patrons of the road, and should receive favorable consideration. In regard to the late train, it is only necessary to represent that this privilege granted upon other roads through the year, is one of public convenience, and should not be denied upon this, whether profitable or not.

RELIGIOUS.—The services at the Unitarian Church, on Sunday (tomorrow) will be appropriate to Easter. The ordinances of Baptism and the Lord's Supper will be administered during the service.

In the afternoon the reports of the teachers for the past three months will be read, and exercises suitable to the day will be participated in. EXCELSION.

NILES' ADVERTISING MANUAL.—This is a neat little work, from the well known and reliable advertising agent, whose place of business is in Scollay's building, Boston. It contains a list of the cities and towns in the U. States and Canada, in which newspapers are published, together with valuable hints on advertising.

THE CHOLERA IN ITALY.—Some interesting official statistics have been recently published respecting the last visit of the cholera in Italy. The disease lasted upward of eight months. Of the population about one sixth part, or 17 per cent., were more or less attacked; out of fifty-nine provinces, twenty-four were entirely untouched and thirty-five affected.

In the entire kingdom, out of an estimated population of 21,777,534, 23,577 were attacked, and 12,901 died. Of those attacked, 11,509 were unmarried, and 2,219 widows and widowers.

A YOUNG LADY BURIED ALIVE.—A horrible case of burying alive is reported to have occurred in Jacksonville, Illinois. A beautiful young lady of seventeen, engaged to be married, was found in her bed one morning to all appearances dead. Several physicians examined the body and pronounced her so. She had taken chloroform for her teeth, and there seemed no possible doubt that the dose would be a fatal one. She was buried. A few days since, her relatives, being about to remove to another State, desired to take the remains with them. They opened the coffin and were horror-stricken to find the corpse turned over, both hands full of hair and the clothing torn to shreds. Chloroform had placed her in a deep trance from which she awoke to find herself in her coffin and her grave.

In view of the Purchase of Russian America by the United States, the London Times says that the English "retain their hold upon Canada more to please the Canadians than themselves; and though we certainly shall not imitate the example of Russia by selling it to the Americans, we shall be happy to make it independent as soon as it pleases, and leave it to choose its future destiny for itself."

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION AND LOSS OF LIFE.—We copy the following in reference to a terrible explosion which occurred at Hongkong in January, from a paper published there.

The explosion of Thursday is one of those events about which all that can ever be learned is known at once. Two ships are one moment side by side, tranquilly engaged in moving small harmless looking kegs not unlike oyster barrels, no more observed than any other two ships in the harbor; the next moment one colossal volume of smoke bursts upward, the earth vibrates, houses tremble from roof to foundation, the air is filled for a few seconds with a reverberation like thunder, and the two ships with all they contained have ceased to exist, except in the shape of black dust upon the water, charred and distorted masses of timber, unseen wreck below the sea. For the men, women, or children, who may have been on board, the material destruction must be in such cases even more complete than that of the wood and iron of which ships are composed. In the case of this explosion which has just happened it is probable that no fragment of anything which can ever be recognized except by chemical analysis as having belonged to a human body will ever be found, where the Zephyr and the Themis blew up. Fragments of the solid lower masts of the ships were found, torn with and across the grain of the wood, the fibres being ground to a kind of powder, iron bolts thrown ashore, or kept afloat by fragments of wood adhering to them were twisted into knots and an explosion which could do this would simply annihilate flesh. How the terrible accident occurred can never be known, whether some unfortunate coolie, promptly punished for his carelessness, caused the accident, or whether any of the Europeans forgot the responsibility resting on them while they were handling this dreadful cargo, can only be a matter of conjecture now and henceforth. The accident has happened; that is all we know of it, or even can know of it.

For headache, use Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil. Its use cures toothache, ague in the face and jaws; also spinal complaints, rheumatism. "It works like a charm." For sale by Grosvenor & Co.

ALWAYS LOVE.

Because Love's light is but a sigh,
Doubt it the less Love's heart is close?
Because the rose must fade and die,
Is it the less the lovely rose?
Because black night must shroud the day,
Shall the brave sun no more be gay?
Because chill autumn frights the birds,
Shall we distrust that Spring will come?
Because sweet words are only words,
Shall Love for ever be a dream?
Because our lives are fleeting bliss,
Shall we who love forbear to kiss?
Because those eyes of gentle mirth,
Must sometime cease my heart to thrill,
Because the sweetest voice on earth
Sister or later must be still,
Because its life is unsure,
Shall my strong love the less endure?

Ab, no! let lovers breathe their sighs,
And roses bloom, and music sound,
And passion burn on lips and eyes,
And treasure's merry world go round:
Let golden sunshine flood the sky,
And let me move or let me die!

Our annual continuous snow-storms during the latter part of February and first of March were grievous enough for all city residents, but we considered ourselves with the idea that they were doing the farmers a great deal of good. Some curious in such matters has made a rough estimate of the weight of snow that fell about that time between Kansas and Maine, averaging the depth at one end of the line and the superficial area at fifteen hundred miles long and three hundred wide, giving a delicate mass of fourteen hundred million tons. Suppose it had all fallen at once instead of flake by flake! But a man of the West scoffs at such slight operations. The same storm, or a snow-storm about the same time, ranged along the whole Sierra Nevada and Cascade range, stretching one thousand miles through California, Oregon and Washington; and over a width of fifty miles he takes a small average estimate of ten feet depth, and in that limited area estimates a deposit of sixteen hundred million tons of snow.—[Exchange.]

Know Thy Destiny.
MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrist, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest and most important events of the future to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person who is to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of life, known as the Psychometre, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can attest. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair, and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive that picture and desired information by return mail. All communications, strictly confidential. Address in confidence, MADAME E. F. THORNTON, P. O. Box 223, Hudson, N. Y. Feb. 19-19

ASTROLOGY.
The World Astonished
MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST, MADAME H. A. PERRIGO.
She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from delicate events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relatives and friends, loss of money, &c., have become dependent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends, tells of lost property, lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best advised to pursue, and in short, she is the most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person, reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers, unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From stars we see the firmament—the male stars that overcome or pre-destinate in the future, from stars we see the positions of the planets and fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man, and in short, she is the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again see so favorable an opportunity. Consultation free, with license and all desired information $1. Parties living at a distance can send inquiries by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all the inquiries answered and illustrated, closed, sent by mail on receipt of the price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or dispatched. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write immediately the day of the month and year in which you would be happy enclosing a small lock of hair, to

Hear Reason. Strengthen the Defences

When a garrison apprehends an attack from an outside enemy, what does it do? It STRENGTHENS THE DEFENCES. The human system, at this period of the year, is beleaguered by morbid influences. The inclement air is full of them. Every change of weather lays the feeble open to their attacks. What is to be done in order to baffle these unseen, but ever active, foes? STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES. Do you ask how? The answer is simple—the means within the reach of all. Reinforce the vital organs and the nervous system with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Tone the stomach, regulate the bowels, rouse the sluggish liver, cheer the spirits, enrich and purify the vital current, with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. That's the way to STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES, and render the capital healthy and invulnerable. If you wish to escape bilious headache, intermittent fever, indigestion, and nervous visitations—to enjoy, in all its plenitude, the blessing of "a sound mind in a sound body," use this incomparable preventive and restorative. It preserves health in the healthy, and renews it in the weak and ailing.

Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

It is real pleasure to us to speak favorably of this article, known almost universally to be good, and safe remedy for lumbago and other pains of the body. It is valuable not only for colds in the winter, but for various summer ailments, and should be in every family. The casualty when demands it may come unawares—CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

PAIN KILLER, taken internally, should be adulterated with milk or water, and sweetened with sugar if desired, or made into a syrup with molasses. For a Cough and Bronchitis, a few drops on sugar, eaten, will be more effective than anything else. For Sore Throat, gargle the throat with a mixture of Pain Killer and water, and the relief is immediate and cure positive. mch 30-1m

FIRE & LIFE

WESTERN NOTES.

One pleasant morning in the early part of April I packed my trunk with wearables, my basket with eatables, my wallet with paper currency, and with a pair of bran new boots on my swollen feet, a soft, slouched hat on my head, and a stout, heavy Raglan coat on my back, your correspondent set out from a very pleasant home not five miles from the Journal office, for this region of prairies.

I did not take the first train for Boston,

for it was only necessary that I should be in season for the 8:30 train on the Worcester Road. So, on this occasion, I went in company with the second of the three classes of men, who, living in the suburbs, visit the city every day except Sabbath. Do you know of this threefold division of citizens, Mr. Editor?

First, there are the "Workies," they go to the city by the first train, say at six o'clock. Next are the "Clerks;" they go by the 7 or 7-30 train. Last are the

"Shirkies," who get to their easy chairs

in the counting rooms between 9 and 10 o'clock, A. M.

In travelling a thousand miles westward, a Massachusetts man is sure to see a great variety in the face of the country, the faces of the people and the soil.

In his own state he will see a sandy,

rocky soil, supporting a feeble growth of timber; and in the next hour he will see towering mountains, over, beside, under a through which the inevitable iron track has been laid by the labor and skill of man. There is one strip of good land between you cross the mountains in the western

THE HOURS OF LABOR.

We have never seen so wide spread a movement as at the present time, to reduce the hours of labor, by mechanics. Journeymen Tailors, Carpenters, Printers, Masons, Cabinet Makers, Boot and Shoe Makers, Ship Builders, Iron Workers, Riggers, Sail Makers, Factory men, and many other trades and occupations, demand a reduction of what has been called a day's labor. Parties have been organized to carry the subject to the polls, in the hope of compelling legislation in their favor, and acts have been passed by some legislatures fixing the number of hours for a day's labor. Men of similar trades have banded themselves together to secure reduced hours, and in some cases have succeeded, and in other cases, have received advanced wages for what they consider more than a day's work.

This whole subject ought to be met fairly by all the parties concerned, and the golden rule, which may be expressed by the phrase, "Live and let live," should be applied. In the first place we are living in times of high prices, when it costs a man more than twice as much as it formerly did to live, and our mechanics, even with their advanced wages, find it more difficult than ever to support their families, as they have been accustomed to do. The master workmen, or bosses, are not however able to pay more wages, or do with less hours of service, because, they themselves, are not doing a profitable business. The taxes are weighing heavily on this class of people, and the increased wages that they already pay and the additional expenses of living make them feel poor.

So with the manufacturers. Some few, like the paper makers, are making money, but the majority of woolen and cotton mills are running without much gain, if not loss. And how is it with the great public? Salaried men suffer the most from the times, for while the expenses of living have more than doubled, their salaries, take the majority, have not been raised, or but little. There are some country ministers getting only $500 a year, the same that they received ten years ago. Clerks in some cases get a little more than before, but in general, our young men who are clerks, can do no more than support one, or pay their own expenses.

Commercial men, owning vessels and sailing them, find the business continually out of pocket and look with despair upon their prospects. Shop keepers, or traders, both wholesale and retail, complain of the dullness of the times, and look forward with no hope of bettering their condition.

Doctors and lawyers, of established fame, are, perhaps, doing a fair business, but nothing to boast of.

The holders of U. S. bonds, which are exempted from taxation, are better off than holders of stock generally, but if a man gets 7-10 per cent interest, instead of 6, the extra amount will not enable him to pay twice as much for his living as formerly.

It is, therefore, looking at the condition of the whole people,—no time to demand special favors for any one class. The Banks, which have some of the privileges just now, are by no means confident of the future, and find the present times critical.

The whole aspect of society is not pleasant to contemplate. "If your shoe pinches, so does mine—if you want better times, so do I." Unreasonable hours of labor ought not to be required by the employer, but in most instances by reduction of hours, a diminution of wages will ensue, which will benefit neither party.

Manufacturing corporations, who work their operatives 12 and 14 hours a day, and exhaust the strength of men and women and children, while giving them wages barely sufficient to live from day to day, ought to reduce the hours, and increase the pay, especially those who have made fortunes out of their laborers during the war and the subsequent period.

With the kindest feelings towards mechanics and laboring men, whose lot is hard in this time of extravagant prices for rent, clothing, and food, which are all taxed, indirectly and directly, because the nation is in debt and can't go back to a specie basis and currency, to them, we say, that it is not the time to demand favors which the struggling community might grant under other circumstances, but cannot well do now, and that the best course for all parties is to "luff and bear away," or be as easy as possible in a crowded stage coach which threatens to break down before we end our journey.

George Peabody made a farewell visit to Washington and Baltimore last week, before leaving for England. While in Washington, he marked his remembrance of his former residence in Georgetown, by making a donation of $15,000 as the foundation of a circulating library there. Accompanied by Mr. Riggs, the banker, and Sir Frederick Bruce, the British Minister, he visited the Executive mansion, where he spent a short time with the President. The latter thanked him on behalf of the American people for his great and continued acts of beneficence. Mr. Peabody stated that he designed to leave New York on the first of May, and expected to return to this country in three years, and he hoped and believed that prior to that period the harmonious relations of our whole people would be restored. He and the President parted with the most cordial assurances of mutual esteem. The citizens of London are about to confer distinguished honor upon this eminent American banker, and still more eminent philanthropist, by the erection of a statue in testimony of his sense of his virtues.

EUROPEAN OPINION OF AMERICAN IRON-CLADS.—Sir Archibald Allison, in a recent speech delivered in Glasgow, acknowledged the rapid advance of the United States as a naval power, compared with England. His remarks are reported as follows:

"And here an observation of the utmost importance occurs, to which, gentlemen, I earnestly request your particular attention. It is, that the application of iron to the plating of vessels, and casing all ships of war in armor which is impervious save to two hundred or three hundred pounds, has not only made a change in the art of naval war, but has at one blow deprived us, so far as available ships go, of our naval superiority. Three Trafalgars won by the French or Russians, the Germans or Americans, could not do this as effectually as the iron vessels have done. Our great wooden fleet, so long the pride of Britain, the green bayonet which worked up in Portsmouth harbor, of no earthly use in maintaining any maritime contest. Those noble three-deckers, such as the Duke of Wellington, would be brought to the bottom by a single gun carrying a three hundred pound ball. We have at one blow virtually lost the fleet which seems to add more speed to his flight on years. For the construction a new fleet of iron-clads we must wait for time and money, just as all other powers must do. We have lost our start in the race; we must all set off anew and abreast. This is the real secret of the vast sums voted annually for the navy, and the general opinion that we have so little to boast of for them. We have been laying the foundations of a fleet which can be as yet only in its infancy. Other nations are just as far on as we are. It is doubtful whether our Royal navy as yet equals that of America. I need not say that of Russia, a latter is decidedly superior to anything we could bring forward. If a forest of hostile iron-clads appear off Spithead or Plymouth, vain will be the forty or fifty noble sail of the line lying in our harbors. Everything will depend, not on the fifty old wooden line-of-battle ships, but on the eight or ten fine iron-clads. This great change has entirely altered our relative position in any future naval war; and unless steps are taken, and that speedily, to counterbalance its effects, it may safely be predicted the evil days are coming upon us, and that the days of our national independence are numbered."

Matters wear an ugly and dangerous look out West at the result of the eight hour movement. The Chicago Times of Saturday says—"For two days, Chicago has been at the mercy of a lawless mob. Bands of armed ruffians have paraded the streets, threatening violence to peaceable and law-abiding citizens, and in many instances carrying shot threats into execution. Men proceeding to their usual occupations have been set upon by crowds of rioters and compelled to fly for their lives. Shops and manufactories have been entered by force, and the workmen driven from their occupations with clubs and brick-bats. In all parts of the city men are prevented from pursuing their labors by fears of personal violence, which, for two days, have been too well founded. The police force have made a show of dispersing the rioters, and in some instances have essayed to protect the property and rights of citizens from destruction and outrage. But it has been manifest that their numbers are inadequate to the performance, and that there has been inefficiency at headquarters. They have failed to maintain the law—they have failed to preserve public order. They have not prevented violence, nor shielded citizens who have an absolute right not only to be vindicated under the law, but to be protected against personal violence." The Times is very severe upon the Mayor for his want of decision, and upon the politicians who have brought such trouble upon the city.

THOUGHT FOR THE MORROW. There are two sorts of "taking thought for the morrow;" the one proper and necessary to success, the other useless and ruinous to one's happiness. The first kind consists in a thoughtful and serious consideration for the wants and contingencies of the future, leading to earnest efforts to make provision for them. The second kind consists in painful misgivings, forebodings, and fears in respect to the wants and contingencies of the future, when it is wholly out of our power to make any provision for them. So long as any practical means will result in making a serious thought as to how this want shall be met, or that evil averted, a man does well to be anxious as to what he shall do in the future; but when it is beyond one's power to meet the want, or avert the evil, or secure the good contemplated, when all most serious concern and active diligence, and untiring earnestness can effect nothing—then anxiety becomes useless, sinful, and ruinous to happiness.

WOBURN LOCALS.

DISBANDED.—The company having charge of the hose carriage and the new steam engine. A meeting is called for Saturday evening, to form a new company.

We learn from good authority, that arrangements have been made, whereby, in case of fire, the steamer will be out as usual, prepared to do its accustomed work. It is thought the department will be thoroughly re-organized in the course of a week.

UNITING WITH THE CHURCH.—Nineteen persons were received into the First Congregational Church of Woburn, on Sunday last. The services were solemn and impressive.

At a regular monthly meeting of Co. G, held at their Armory on Monday evening last, to fill all vacancies, E. F. Weyer, 2d Lieutenant, was chosen first Lieutenant, vice M. S. Seeley, resigned; and 1st Sergeant Horace Marston was chosen 2d Lieutenant, vice E. F. Weyer, promoted. A unanimous vote was given to the meeting. Col. W. T. Grammer presided at the meeting.

Rev. J. E. Swallow, late of this town, has been invited to settle over the Congregational Church in Groton, Ct.

Deputy State Constable John E. Tidd, made a seizure of liquors on Thursday last week, at the hotel in Lexington, kept by Charles Adair, and took therefrom about six hundred dollars worth of all kinds of liquor. See advertisement for full particulars.

GOLDEN WEDDINGS.—The fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus Wood was celebrated on Tuesday evening the seventh. At an early hour the friends and relatives to the number of about eighty, began to arrive, bringing with them some token of regard to the happy couple. After about two hours of social intercourse and conversation, which was spent in an exceedingly pleasant manner, the company were invited to the dining room, where an entertainment was provided under the supervision of our worthy caterer, Mr. O. R. Still.

The relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Tidd, to the number of about fifty, met at their house on Wednesday evening, May 8th, that being the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. It was a very pleasant and social gathering, and must have been enjoyed by all, if good company and a well-filled table had anything to do with it. The company left with many valuable presents, and fifty dollars in the green back which could have been bestowed upon a more worthy couple. Dea. John Tidd presented the gifts in behalf of the company, and Mr. Luke Tidd made a brief reply, thanking the company for the gifts.

The evening was passed, as all such evenings are, rather too soon, as time seems to add more speed to his flight on such occasions, and ere the company was aware the clock struck eleven. The older members of the company retired first, and before twelve o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Tidd and family had once more the house to themselves. Long may they live, and the society of their numerous friends.

—Mr. A. Abbott having taken the store in Lyeum Building, recently occupied by Mr. C. W. Macy, has made great additions to the stock, and is now offering to the people of Woburn and vicinity, a large and desirable assortment of Fancy and Dry Goods, at prices as low as can be obtained anywhere.

The forty-ninth Anniversary of the First Baptist Sabbath School, will be observed next Sabbath afternoon. Addresses are expected from Judge Smith, of Boston, and Rev. Mr. Carlton, Chaplain of the Charlestown State Prison. In the morning a sermon will be delivered to young men, by the Pastor.

BASE-BALL MATCH.—On Saturday last quite an excitement prevailed among a number of the young men of this place, there being a base-ball match to be played in the afternoon. The match was between the High School and the Warren Academy, the latter being the challengers.

Although the playing was not very scientifically carried on by either side, the challenges were outwitted by the other. Out of nine innings the number of rounds were 8 to 5.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—On Monday the homestead of the late Eli Jones, on Warren street, was sold at auction, to Mr. George Holden, formerly of this town, for the sum of $7,500. This is said to be the best bargain made in purchasing real estate in town this season.

On the same day, the house of S. M. Allen, Esq., on Warren street, was sold for the sum of $6,600. Mrs. S. M. Allen was the purchaser.

Three other houses, situated on Jones' Court, were sold on the same day. One was bid off by Mr. George A. Carter, for $2,000; one to Mr. A. Willoughby, for $1,875; and the other to S. M. Allen, for $1,810. A lot of land on Lawrence street, containing about a quarter of an acre, was sold to Mr. George A. Carter, at 4 cents per foot.

—Mr. Moses J. Persons has sold his estate on Rail Road street, consisting of a dwelling house and two and a half acres of land, to Mr. Samuel Cook.

—Mr. A. J. Wade has sold his livery stable to Mr. Thomas J. and B. T. H. Porter. We wish them success in their new business.

The Literary and Musical Exhibition, at Lyceum Hall, on Thursday evening, under the auspices of Good Samaritan Lodge, I. O. of G. T. H. Porter, was a success in every particular. The house was literally crowded in every part, and the performances elicited much applause. The receipts were large.

Henry Aborn, of South Reading, for larceny of bank notes, was discharged, for want of evidence.

The oil and bone taken by three whale-ships which arrived at New Bedford this season, during their last voyage amounted to over nine hundred thousand dollars. Have the courage to show your respect for honesty, in whatever guise it appears; and your contempt for dishonest duplicity, by whomsoever exhibited.

TRINITY CHURCH.—It is expected that the Rev. W. R. Woodbridge, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Vergennes, Vt., will officiate at the marriage of Mr. Lyceum Hall, on Sunday next, morning service to begin at 10.30. There will be no service in the afternoon, but evening service will be held at 7.30 o'clock, at which the Rev. C. H. Leary, Rector of Grace Church, Medford, will officiate.

On Tuesday next, 14th instant, the Right Rev. Mantion Eastburn, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of Mass., will preach at Trinity Church and administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. The Reverend Bishop will be assisted by Rev. C. H. Leary, of Medford. The services will begin at 7.30 o'clock, and a most cordial invitation is hereby extended to all to witness this most ancient and solemn ceremony of the Church, then for the first time in this town's history to be performed here. This interesting event and the fame and eloquence of Bishop Eastburn, will doubtless insure a large congregation. Woburn, May 10, 1867.

WINCHESTER.—The officers elect of the Winchester Lodge, I. O. of G. T., were duly installed on Thursday evening of last week, by John L. Parker, J. Fred. Leslie and Albert B. Johnson, of Woburn.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—The Estate on Main street, owned and occupied by Mrs. Lindley, has been sold to a gentleman of Portland, for $5,000.

RELIGIOUS.—That a considerable degree of interest is manifest in religious matters is apparent from the fact that on the last Sabbath, at the Orthodox Church, seven were admitted by profession and six by letter.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., April 27th, 1867.

The Enigma in your paper of the 20th is easily answered, as history says that Vincennes is the oldest town in Indiana. We have had a cold, wet Spring. The Peach trees blossomed finely in and about this city, and looking forward to a new out of blossom. The Apple trees are now in full bloom. Farmers have sowed their spring grain and are beginning to plant corn. We hear of good prospects for wheat everywhere.

Yours, S. S. RICHARDSON.

Horace Greeley says that the darkest day in any man's earthly career is that wherein he first fancies that there is some easier way of gaining a dollar than by squarely earning it.

A Friendly Horse.—A few days since, as we were leaving our residence on our usual morning visit to the office, a sorrel horse belonging to us galloped up and caught our arm, and made an attempt to pull us in his direction.

He then left, and went off at a quick gallop toward a pasture on a farm about a quarter of a mile distant from our residence. In a few minutes he approached us again, making an unusual noise, and seemed by his actions to desire us to follow him. This we did, and when we reached the pasture, we observed the mate of the horse entangled in a bridge, which had broken through with him. After we had extricated his companion from his dangerous position, the horse which had given us notice of his companion's danger, came up and rubbed his head against us, showing signs of satisfaction. The Animal Advocate.

GAS FROM SAW-DUST.—For some time past the town of Coburg, Canada West, has been lighted up with gas prepared according to Ensley's patent process. This gas is made from pine wood and bones, or any other vegetable or animal refuse matter, and since its introduction the lessees of the Coburg Gas Works have reduced its price one dollar per 1,000 feet.

A gentleman was, one winter's day, looking in at the window of paint shop, when he felt some one at his pocket. As there was only one bystander, he instantly turned round, and looking him full in the face, he said: "Your hand, sir, was in my pocket." "Was it, sir?" the other very calmly replied, "I really beg your pardon if it was; but the weather is so very cold one is glad to put one's hands anywhere."

A landlady who had some very weak chicken broth for dinner the other day, was asked by one of her boarders if she couldn't coax that chicken to wade through that soup once more!

A writer in the New England Farmer says that when tomatoes are growing near an apple tree the borers will not trouble the tree. He plants tomatoes by the trees to prevent them.

A pamphlet recently issued in the oil regions of Pennsylvania speaks of the losses, embarrassment and depreciation, which succeeded to the excitement of former years, and gives a statement of the oil product, as follows: "During the past six years there have been sunk up to January 1, 1867, 7,350 wells in the United States, and there have been produced a total of crude oil equal to about 11,640,670 barrels."

A LIBERIA FARMER.—A colored man in Liberia has already gained pre-eminence as an agriculturist. A letter from Monrovia, after speaking of the steady progress of the American colonists there, describes the handsome farms and dwelling which line the banks of St. Paul's River, and adds:

Among the most enterprising farmers on the banks of the St. Paul is the Hon. Augustus Washington, the present Speaker of the House of Representatives. He has over 1,000 acres of land; raises a large amount of sugar and other products; gives employment to a large number of poor men, emigrants and natives; has a fine sugar mill on his own premises, which he has lately fixed after the most approved style of the British West Indies, but which is too small for the immense amount of cane now ready for grinding on his farm. He has, therefore, recently leased for a time, the large steam mill formerly owned by L. L. Lloyd, and has expended some $1,800 in repairs and fixing it like the mills in the West Indies. In view of his limited facilities for grinding, this season he will send to Europe or America over one hundred thousand pounds of sugar, and a proportionate share of syrup and molasses. Mr. Washington has six yokes of very fine oxen, and uses the plow. When he moved upon his farm it was a wilderness, and he was penniless. This was about fourteen years ago.

THE COUNTRY EDITOR.—A city contemporary gives the following description of a country editor, and remarks that he would not be one:

"A country editor is an individual who reads newspapers, writes articles on any subject, reads the proof, sends the press, folds and mails papers, prints jobs, runs on errands, saws wood, works in the garden, talks to all who call, receives blame for a hundred things that are no one's business but his own, works from 6 A. M. until 10 P. M., and frequently gets cheated out of one fourth his earnings."

Those of our readers who need anything in the line of Groceries or Toilet articles, would do well to patronize the firm of BERGER, SMITH & CO., Troy, N. Y. They are the only agents in America for the most valuable French and English Toilet Articles and Preparations that are used by the Beauties of the Old World, to beautify and make attractive their person. See their advertisement in another column.

HAVE you a Cough, Cold, pain in the Chest, or Bronchitis? Do not let the preliminary symptoms of the "insupportable" Consumption, or other pulmonary troubles, reach the stage of Dr. WISTAR'S BALM FOR WICK CHERRY, which in many cases where hope had fled, has saved the victim from the yawning grave.

Some people suffer, and their friends suffer, from severe pain; while they spend more money foolishly than they would cost to cure them, if they used Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil. Take our advice and use this popular and certain cure for such ills as rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, &c., &c., as they are here. For sale by Grocers and Druggists.

A little girl asked an Apothecary "if he had anything for a good sore stomach." The unfortunate man lost a customer, by not having on hand the great remedial remedy. This was ten years ago, when Dr. HARRISON'S BITTERS, though well known, were not in the hands of every druggist and merchant, as they now are.

MANLY AND YOUTHFUL VIGOR are regained by HARRISON'S EXTRACT BUCK.

Read the Certificate of Rev. R. T. Flualin.

TO DR. HOSSETTER: Dear Sir—This is to certify that I was taken with the dyspepsia a year ago last March, and for a period of eight months, was one of the most miserable creatures you ever beheld, not being able to eat, drink or sleep, and was compelled to walk the floor incessantly. I was nearly deprived of my reason, and hope had entirely left me, all the efforts made for my recovery having proved fruitless.

At the end of November, 1865, I had become so weak and feeble that I could scarcely stand alone, and to all appearance, would soon die. At this time (having read your advertisement), my wife prevailed upon me to try your Bitters. A bottle was procured, and, strange to say, I commenced recovering. I have taken four bottles, and am enjoying as good health now as could be expected for one of my age (about sixty years). I have no doubt that it was your Bitters alone, under Divine Providence, that effected this wonderful cure.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

The necessity of a due proportion of iron in the blood is well known to all medical men; when it becomes reduced from any cause whatever, the system suffers, the weakest part being first attacked, and a feeling of languor, lassitude and "all gone-ness" pervades the system. The remedy is simply to supply the blood with the necessary quantity of iron. This can be done by using the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

A protected solution of the protoxide of iron, which is so prepared that it assimilates at once with the blood, giving strength, vigor and new life to the whole system.

To take medicine to cure diseases occasioned by a deficient quantity of iron in the blood, without restoring it to the system, is like trying to repair a building when the foundation is gone.

An eminent divine says: "I have been using the PERUVIAN SYRUP for some time past; it gives me vigor, buoyancy of spirits, elasticity of muscle."

Pamphlets containing certificates of cures, and recommendations from some of the most eminent physicians, clergymen and others, will be sent free to any address.

The genuine has "PERUVIAN SYRUP" blown in the glass. J. P. DINSMORE, Proprietor.

SETH W. FOWLE & SON, Boston, Proprietors. Sold by all druggists.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE. From Mr. E. TUCKER, Depot master at Salisbury, Mass.

"I have been troubled for years with a bad humor, sometimes outwardly, and sometimes inwardly. During the past summer it manifested itself more than usual outwardly, and I used your Salve. All signs of it have since disappeared, without affecting me inwardly, indicating, I think, the eradication of the Salve."

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS, at 25 cts. a box. Sent by mail for 35 cts. may4-1t

The Bible.—Some writer gives the following analysis of the book of books, the Bible!

It is a book of laws, it shows the right and wrong. It is a book of wisdom, that makes the foolish wise. It is a book of truth, which detects all human errors. It is the book of life, and shows how to avoid everlasting death. It is the most authentic and entertaining history ever published. It contains the most remote antiquities, the most remarkable events and wonderful occurrences. It is a code of laws. It is a perfect body of divinity. It is an unequalled narrative. It is a book of biography. It is a book of travels. It is a book of voyages. It is a book of the best covenant ever made—the best deed ever written. It is the best will ever executed, the best Testament ever signed. It is the young man's best companion. It is the schoolboy's instructor. It is the learned man's masterpiece. It is the ignorant man's dictionary, and every man's directory.

The young lady that kept her word has found it very useful.

SYMPTOMS, CAUSES, AND REMEDY.
 Symptoms of Dyspepsia—A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, together with flatulency, acidity, sour, offensive belching of wind, water-brash, and vomiting, and a great deal of what a person calls an all-over feeling at the end of the stomach; frequently there is also a palpitation of the heart, which physicians in this condition it is coated with a mucus or slime. The tough shrewd portions of the stomach, similar to what we see in tripe, which throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a thick coat of slime, it prevents the gastric juice from doing its duty, and the stomach becomes diseased, and digestion ceases. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves this mucus or slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off this morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption, and one-third of the cases of the liver becoming torpid, it ceases to throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucus membrane of the bronchial tube sympathizes with the other organs, and before the patient is aware of it, he or she has bronchitis or Pulmonary Consumption.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely through the blood when the system is in this locked-up condition, without the aid of the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. The Liver has the venous blood to strain, and when it gets in a morbid condition, blood and bile are thrown into the system, and the whole body becomes so low and the blood so thick, it can hardly run through the system. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the only remedy for this condition. The Mandrake Pills are the only remedy for this condition. The Mandrake Pills are the only remedy for this condition.

Dr. Schenck will be professionally at his rooms every week, 22 Bond Street, New York, and 50 Hanover Street, Boston, from A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. A full supply at all half at his rooms. Mandrake Pills 25 cts. per box. Seaweed Tonic 50 cts. per bottle. U. S. G. G. & CO., 30 Hanover Street, Agents for Boston. For sale by all druggists.

Especially recommended to the growers of Strawberries, Raspberries, Blackberries, AND ALL SMALL FRUITS.
MORE than 13 years of regular use upon all description of Crops grown in the Middle and Southern States, has given a high degree of popularity to this MANURE, which places its application now, entirely beyond a mere experiment.
BAUGH'S RAW BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME.
Is eminently a success as a substitute for Peruvian Guano and Stable Manure—and is offered to the Agriculturists of the Northern and Eastern States as a fertilizer that will cheaply restore to the soil, those essentials which are constantly drained from it by constant cropping and light manuring.
It is very prompt in its action—lasts in effect to a degree undisturbed by commercial manure in the market and is as effective as a much less cost than bought Stable Manure, or Peruvian Guano. The labor involved in its use is far less than that of applying stable manure, while there is no risk from its introduction into the soil.
Farmers are recommended to purchase of the dealer located in their neighborhood. In sections where no dealer is yet established, the phosphate may be procured directly from the undersigned. A Price Circular will be sent to all who apply.
Our NEW PAMPHLET, "How to Maintain the Fertility of American Farms,"—60 pages, giving full information in regard to the use of raw bone phosphate, will be furnished gratis on application.

FIRST.—By living strictly within the law of nature.

SECOND.—By spending less than you earn, and

An Invaluable Medicine for the Purifying of the Blood.

DR. J. W. POLAND'S HUMOR DOCTOR.
A Positive Remedy for all kinds of Humors, PARTICULARLY
Erysipelas, Nettle Rash, Salt Rheum, Scrofula Carbuncles, Boils and Piles.
It is very easy to say of this, or any other Medicine, "It is the very best Remedy known." It is not always so easy to prove it. It is, however, exceedingly gratifying to the proprietor of this Medicine, that, while he declares to the public that this is a most wonderful and effective specific for Humors, as stated above, he has abundant proof at hand to sustain his statement.
For sixteen years the HUMOR DOCTOR has been manufactured and sold, and every year has increased the value of its reputation, and the amount of its sales. In New Hampshire, where it was originated, no remedy for Humors is so highly prized. An eminent physician (now an army surgeon) when practicing in N. H. purchased from fifty to sixty gallons of it, during some seven or eight years, and used it in his practice. He has since then ordered it for the Hospital where he was stationed. Other physicians have purchased it, and have used it in practice with great success. When the proprietor lived in New Hampshire, at Goffstown Centre, he was called upon to treat a case of Erysipelas in a young man, who had been in the Hospital where he was stationed. Other physicians have purchased it, and have used it in practice with great success. TO MY DVS.

ROBERT C. WINTHROP AND JOHN WINTHROP.—George Peabody, as he was about to embark for England, in conversation with a friend, relating his intimacy with Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, and the great assistance he had rendered him in consultation as to his charitable bequests in the United States, remarked, "that he would make an excellent President of the United States, and that, if he had the power, he would put him into the office."

Mr. Winthrop and his friends, may well be proud of such testimony of such a man; and yet, there is not a person in the country, but who would endorse his fitness, and especially, would Massachusetts in her sober moments, apart from political partisanship, rejoice to see her distinguished son in such a position. The Boston Daily Advertiser, in noticing this testimony of Mr. Peabody, said, that no one but Mr. Winthrop, himself, has stood in the way of his being President.

We do not quite understand what the Advertiser means by this declaration, but suppose it intends to say, that if Mr. Winthrop had come over from the Whig party, when so many others did, and joined the Free Soil or Republican party, he would have been so popular, that he would have been made President.

Now, we do not believe a word of this. No man of the character and ability of Mr. Winthrop, could at any time within the last twenty years, have been chosen President, whatever his party politics. Seward had to give place to Lincoln; and before that, Polk, Taylor, Pierce and Buchanan, were chosen for availability, in preference to superior men. The day has past, and we fear never to return, for the greatest and the best men to be elected to that office. Politicians now make Presidents; and they choose men that they can use, and also, men that they can elect, available candidates. It is even doubtful whether they will take Gen. Grant, for though they may be able to elect him, they will not, perhaps, be able to use him for partisan purposes.

It is, we had almost said, a greater honor, as things are, to have George Peabody make such an announcement concerning Mr. Winthrop, than for any party to actually make him President. Mr. Peabody stands now, in a social point of view, as high as George Washington was elevated in his day, in a civil and political position, and he is certainly a noble man, and is simply an American, and one of the stamp of better days than we have fallen upon.

If it be true, as the Advertiser hints, that Robert C. Winthrop could have been President, if he had joined the Republican party, and gone with them in all their movements, then, he cannot be accused of having an insane desire for office; and right or wrong in his political sentiments, he must command the respect of all honorable men, for preferring the public neglect to the sacrifice of his principles, loss of office to the obtaining of it, and that the highest office in the gift of the American people.

But we have wandered from our subject. We took up our pen, to notice the recent issue of the second volume of the Life and Letters of John Winthrop, first Governor of the Massachusetts Colony. This volume is finely got out, and contains nearly 500 pages. While the first volume, narrated his life before setting out, this, dates from his embarkation for New England in 1630, with the Charter and Company of the Massachusetts Bay to his death in 1643.

If any one doubts the excellent motives of the first settlers of Massachusetts; their high religious aims, let him read these volumes and be satisfied.

Mr. Winthrop was not only a noble and a filial work for an ancestor, whose character and services are truly depicted in these volumes in his own letters and other testimony, which will be an everlasting monument to the glory of Gov. Winthrop; but he has done a noble service for the Puritans, and honored our country for all time, by his wonderful industry and perseverance in gathering together and weaving with his own clear and elegant statements so noble a work, containing the life, character, and services, of one whom the world will delight to honor—a Christian in whom was no guile.

It is somewhat wonderful, that after the lapse of more than two centuries, that we have in descent from Gov. Winthrop, one in a direct line, whose merits, in every respect, are an honor to the State, and the Nation,—living in the same old town of Boston,—and performing a filial work, as President of the Historical Society, and a lover of the good men of the past,—a delayed work of two hundred years, and uniting his name and fame with an illustrious and historical ancestor.

LICENSE LAW.—The majority of the Committee of the Mass. Legislature on the subject of a license law, have reported a bill in favor of a license law, it provides for giving licenses to innholders and victualers, to persons who sell in quantities not less than one gallon or in the original packages, and to apothecaries; City Councils and town meetings may prohibit the licensing of either or of all these classes, and may fix the sum to be paid for licenses; every license is to be given on condition that no public bar shall be kept by the licensee, that he shall not sell on Sunday unless he be an apothecary, that he will not sell to any minor or student, nor to any person whose wife requests him not to, and that the liquor sold shall not be drunk on the premises, unless he be an innholder or victualer; these classes are permitted to sell to lodgers or persons resorting to their houses for meals; cider, beer and malt liquors, containing not more than three per cent of alcohol, may be sold by other persons who are registered under the supervision of the police. The provisions of the existing law shall apply in the main to unlicensed dealers. All places of business for the sale of liquors shall be open to municipal authorities, and nothing in this act shall affect offences previously committed or pending proceedings.

Three minority reports were also presented. These are in favor of the present prohibitory law. The whole matter will now come directly before the Legislature for their decision, and we may look for warm and protracted discussion before the final vote is taken.

Jeff Davis, the arch-traitor, has been released from prison, Horace Greeley, and other well known gentlemen, becoming bail for him in the amount of $100,000. The bill bond signed by the sureties for Jeff Davis reads as follows: "The condition of this recognizance is such that if the said Jefferson Davis shall in proper person well and truly appear at the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Virginia, to be held at Richmond, in the said District, on the fourth Monday of November next, at the opening of the Court on that day, and then and there appear from day to day, and stand to abide and perform whatever shall be then and there ordered and adjudged in respect to him with said Court, and not depart from the said Court without the leave of the said Court in that behalf first had and obtained, then the said recognizance to become void; otherwise to remain in full force."

WINCHESTER.

APPOINTMENTS.—Daniel Dana Patten, Esq., a member of the Boston Bar since Dec. 4, 1860, and previously a successful teacher in Providence and elsewhere, has been appointed Principal of the High School in place of Wilson Palmer, resigned. Mr. James H. Foss is the teacher of the new grammar school in place of E. P. Jackson, resigned.

SALE OF STABLE.—Mr. F. H. Johnson has sold the stock and stand so long occupied by him for the purposes of a stable to George H. Buxton.

SINGING SCHOOL.—The Singing School which has been kept through the winter by the veteran teacher, Joseph Bird, under the auspices of the Unitarian Society, was brought to a close on Friday evening, of last week, by a public exhibition of the proficiency made by the pupils in Lyceum Hall. The children sang quite a number of songs, and also the notes in the scale with a good degree of accuracy. The entertainment, the master had done his duty, and that the rudiments of music had begun to be apparent to their minds. The adult portion of the school sang several pieces, and instrumental music was well given by five young men who were pupils of Mr. Bird, and who had but recently learned to play upon the violin. The singing of the instrumental music, which had fallen into dis-repute, as a pleasant and useful occupation for their leisure time. We know of no one better adapted to teaching singing than Mr. Bird, and his genial countenance will certainly keep his pupils in good humor, and draw out any singing quality they may have in them.

HAIR DRESSING ESTABLISHMENT.—Mr. John W. Price, from Boston, has opened a first class establishment of this kind which is worthy of the patronage of our inhabitants.

EVENING SCHOOL.—This school which has been in successful operation for the past two months, closed on Saturday evening of this week. Since its opening the interest has been unabated, and regret is expressed by many, that the short evenings and the approach of warm weather prevents its continuance. With the return of another winter, it is hoped that the school may be re-opened, and continue its good work, so well and auspiciously begun this season.

INCOME TAX PAYERS.—Having given the greater lights in this respect, we now give the lesser ones, or those who are taxed on less than $1,000, viz:

L. Abbott, $519; P. W. Baker, $151;
J. H. Bacon, $151; L. G. Cilley, $160;
B. C. Cowdry, $151; S. Butler, $151;
Cutter, $773; John Clark, $781; G. Cook, $600; J. R. Cobb, $347; R. M. Copeland, $226; S. H. Dickinson, $444;
J. L. Eldridge, $145; Stillman Fletcher, $175; S. F. Ham, $136; S. S. Holton, $140; J. Huse, $300; W. Johnson, $330;
Francis Johnson, $325; Jas. Kelsey, $323; John T. Manney, $308; F. H. Morse, $800; R. Metcalf, $498; L. Nutter, $500; George F. Parker, $303; A. Pratt, $305; H. Parker, $553; H. A. S. Payne, $200; H. E. Rice, $180; R. T. Robinson, $659; C. P. Sanborn, $568; E. Sanderson, $620; H. K. Stanton, $223; H. W. Symmes, $49; G. W. Spurr, $358; Thos. P. Tenney, $603; W. Winsor, $419; Wm. A. Warren, $105; J. Whitney, $100; Otis Wetherbee, $141; E. A. Wadleigh, $876; Geo. L. Rice, $527.

We miss the names of many of our prominent citizens from this and the other list, whose income it is presumed greatly exceeds the sum of $1,000, or they must be living beyond their means. Will some one explain the cause of this omission, or tell us why those having a small income have to pay a tax, and some of those having large ones manage to escape, or get off with a small sum.

COURT MATTERS.—P. L. Converse, Trial Justice.

Tuesday, May 14.—Two boys, sons of Patrick Kennedy, were brought up by Constable Day, for assault on Sarah Donahoe, wife of Patrick Donahoe, by throwing stones at her and knocking her down. It seemed by the evidence that there had been some ill feeling between the families, who had been living in the same house, and when Donahoe left there was considerable rejoicing on the occasion, which was manifested by the rattling of tin pans and other unmusical noises. When Mrs. Donahoe left the house she slapped one of the Kennedy boys on the face. The boys resented by making these noises; she then threw stones at them and they retaliated by throwing at her as before stated. The boys, although not probably the most to blame, were fined five dollars each and half of the costs. Paid.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire on Monday forenoon proceeded from some burning brush near S. O. Pollard & Co.'s tannery.

J. F. Frisbie, M. D., is about to erect a dwelling house on the lot on Bennett street, recently purchased by him of Gen. Abijah Thompson.

THE HORSE RAIL ROAD.—Arrangements are being made to construct the road. There may be some little delay in procuring the rails, should it be found necessary to send to England for them.

On Thursday evening the Engineers of the Fire Department met at engine house on Railroad street, and organized a company to have charge of the "Independent Hose" Carriage. The following officers were chosen:—

Foreman—Francis Cummings.
Second Foreman—Charles A. McDonald.
Third Foreman—John Sullivan.
Clerk—Fred W. Ellis.
Treasurer—H. Harriman.
Steward—Robert F. McKee.
Standing Committee—F. Cummings, F. W. Ellis, C. A. McDonald, Geo. L. Brown, W. F. Vose.

THE NEW YORK EVENING POST says the State of New York owes fifty millions, and the counties and city of New York one hundred and fifteen millions more, and that taxation is at the rate of $27.50 per every man, woman and child in the State. It also says the debt of Massachusetts, State and towns, is sixty millions.

This is all independent of the debt of the United States. We stated more than a year since that the debts of the several "loyal" States amounted to one thousand millions of dollars. Nobody doubts it now. It is probably much greater. The debt of New York and Massachusetts according to the Evening Post are nearly one-fourth of one thousand millions.

The whole debt of the country is unquestionably more than FOUR THOUSAND MILLIONS OF DOLLARS!—Larger than the entire debt of Great Britain, on which only about 3 per cent interest is paid.

The interest on our State and town debts are paid by direct taxation, and our people know how burdensome it is. But that is only one-fourth of the amount we are paying interest on. The other three-fourths is paid by indirect taxation which every man feels when he buys a barrel of flour, a piece of meat, or a suit of clothes. "A national debt may be a national blessing!" [Salem Statesman.]

As a Tonic and Appetizer, nothing can equal the effect of Dr. H. A. Apple's Lotion Water. Unlike all stimulants its effect is permanent, building up the body and giving strength and vitality to all parts of the system. In old and chronic cases it may be used with absolute safety, and with the most certain success. Headache—Mix half a half of Rempe's Malt Oil and Water, then saturate the head with the mixture, then put a few drops of the oil clear on the temple and where the pain is severest, also swallow 2 or 4 drops of the oil, if it stick at the stomach, then use the oil in the mouth. For sale by Urline Derby.

You have heard of the man who was so stingy that he put green goggles on his nose, to make him always steady in his eye. PERSONAL.—Mr. William Fowler, of this town, has enlisted in the Regular Service for three years. He left town Friday week for New York. He intends to join a Battery destined to fight the Indians.

A VALUABLE TOKEN OF APPRECIATION.—Mr. Wm. H. Clarke, Organist of the 1st Congregational Church, has received a valuable present from a musical amateur and friend, Horace W. Coon, Esq., of Syracuse, N. Y., being nothing less than a most excellent Cremona Violin, valued at $500. The violin was brought to America in 1785, by an Italian, artist, who came to this country to give concerts, and soon after died. The violin then passed into the hands of Mr. Geo. Dutton, a great amateur violinist of Utica, N. Y., in whose hands it remained until obtained by Mr. Coon, who presents it to Mr. Clarke, in the hope that he will be made happy in its use as often as he was himself.

ORGANIZATION.—On Monday evening last, the Mishawaka Base Ball Club, consisting of 25 members, was organized with the election of its officers for the term of three months. Business meetings are held once a week, and one morning and two evenings are given to field exercise. The club is now in a flourishing condition and bids fair to make its mark among the many clubs in this state.

THAT JEFF DAVIS ought to have been tried promptly, either by the military or civil authorities, is true. That he was not tried before the Supreme Court is the fault or the error of Chief-Justice Chase. That he was not arraigned before a military tribunal, is the fault or the error of the President. It is not, however, that Davis has any right or reason to complain, but that the Government is embarrassed and complicated by its inaction. But Jefferson Davis is the last man at liberty to complain. He is too sure to escape with impunity, and punishment that he deserves. What is a year's confinement in Fortress Monroe, with air, exercise, books, and a good table, for a man who, to destroy the Government and divide the Union, deluged the country in blood. [N. Y. Commercial.]

A VALUABLE CAT.—A lady in Portland applied at the Police office on Monday in search of a lost cat. She said she would give $1000 to have the feline returned to her, as it was one she brought from England, and set a great deal by it. The cat had a gold necklace on that was worth forty dollars.

BLOSSOMS.

BY GEORGE JOHNSON.

The apricot has burst its buds.

And leaves its head of bloom

Against the garden wall, as if

Faint with its own perfume.

The apple-boughs can scarcely give

Their crowded blossoms room.

The cherry trees stand in the field—

A great white flower is each;

The pear-bloom hides the robin's nest,

And rose groves of peach.

Like earth-caught summer clouds, along

The sunny hillside reach.

The crooked quince is rich with buds,

But keeps them close and hid;

The strawberry blossoms in the grass

Like tiny stars are set.

Where'er I turn, with fragrant bloom

And beauty I am met.

O, fair, frail children of the May!

Your lives too soon must close;

Your stars will shine no more awhile,

Then fall in scented snows.

As Summer draws a warmer breath,

And opens like a rose.

THE PRIEST'S TALE.

BY E. WILBERFORCE.

Lest it should be thought that the hinge on which this story turns is so great, I will relate to you the two chief circumstances—that of a priest

being sent to faint in the confessional,

and that of a priest drawing a criminal into conversation about his crime, and then taking part in giving him up to justice—were related to me by a friend who is closely connected with the Roman priest-hood. There would be no merit in such a story if it were an invention.

But where stringent rules exist, and it would be unjust to infer that they are broken, there is good reason for occasionally dwelling on the exceptions which, though they may be, prove them to be sometimes evaded.

I was on a walking tour in the Tyrol.

My companion knocked up at the village of Zell, in the Zillertal, and as we had not much time to spare, I left him to recruit himself while I went alone to see the waterfall at Krimml. I was climbing steep track which leads out of the valley, and growing a little under the weight of my knapsack, as I stepped from one of the boughs of which the path is composed to another when an old woman hailed me, and offered to relieve me of my burden. She was a strong and hearty old creature, though bent almost double. When I stood on a jutting stone, my knapsack was soon transferred to the basket on her back, and while I went on twice as nimbly as before, the weight

did not affect her visibly. I had full leisure to observe the grand scenery of the glen, which she did not seem to notice. When I came to a jutting stone, by the roadside and peered over the precipitous side of the ravine to the torrent dashing and breaking some hundreds of feet below, I was not sorry to have my back and shoulders free from a weight that would have made craning perilous.

As we rose higher, the fir-woods grew more gloomy, the sides more abrupt,

the roar of the torrent more awful. We suddenly turned a corner, and I almost started at the scene it opened. On the right the bank had been hollowed out, so that a man might have lurked there with out chance of being observed, and it was too late. In front of me and behind you nothing but the lonely path winding painfully through the somber forest; and on the left a gap in the trees disclosed a slide like the track of an avalanche going straight and sheer to the raging waters.

The place had a fearful look; one could not help imagining tales of horror.

Heaven help us! I was expecting passenger who met danger here! Still there was a strange fascination in the sight and thought, and I could not help taking a long and earnest gaze. My old woman noticed it, and began nodding her head significantly from one side of the path to that a fall, sure enough. Ay, ay.

"Was it an avalanche?" I asked.

She laughed feebly, and wagged her head again.

"An avalanche, gracious gentleman,

ay, ay, perhaps it was an avalanche. No,

no, it was no avalanche, though you may well look. And the look, however, was so well just above which one could slip behind so easily if he was not alone? Ay, and where's the rock that stood there?"

This speech was uttered with such strange gestures that I feared the good old lady was wandering in her mind.

The look of the place evidently affected

her, and I was not sorry to move on a little briskly. She trudged after me, but still continued her mutterings. I could hear broken phrases, such as, "It's in the stream now, you can tell it from all the

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Read the Certificate of Rev.
R. T. Flualin.
TO DR. HOSKETCHER:
Dear Sir—This is to certify that I was taken with the dyspepsia a year ago last March, and for a period of eight months, was one of the most miserable creatures you ever beheld, not being able either to eat, drink or sleep, and was compelled to walk the floor incessantly. I was nearly deprived of my reason, and hope had entirely left me, all the efforts made for my recovery having proved fruitless.
By the first of November, 1865, I had become so weak and feeble that I could scarcely stand alone, and to all appearance, would soon die. At this time (having read your advertisement), my wife prevailed upon me to try your Bitters. A bottle was procured, and, strange to say, I commenced recovering.
I have taken four bottles, and am enjoying as good health now as could be expected for one of my age (about sixty years). I have no doubt that it was your Bitters alone, under Divine Providence, that effected this wonderful cure.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.
The necessity of a due proportion of iron in the blood is well known to all medical men; when it becomes reduced from any cause whatever, the whole system suffers, the weakest part being first attacked, and a feeling of languor, lassitude and "all goneness" pervades the system. The remedy is simply to supply the blood with the necessary quantity of iron. This can be done by using the PERUVIAN SYRUP.
A perfect solution of the protosulfide of iron, which is so prepared that it assimilates at once with the blood, giving strength, vigor and new life to the whole system.
To take medicine to cure diseases occasioned by a deficiency of IRON IN THE BLOOD, without resisting it to the system, is like trying to repair a building when the foundation is gone.
An eminent divine says: "I have been using the PERUVIAN SYRUP for some time past: it gives me new vigor, buoyancy of spirits, elasticity of muscle."
Pamphlets containing certificates of cures, and recommendations from some of the most eminent physicians, clergymen and others, will be sent free to any address.
The genuine has "PERUVIAN SYRUP" blown in the glass. J. P. DIMSMORE, Proprietor,

GLACIERS CELEBRATED SALVE.
From Mr. E. TUCKER, Depot master at Salisbury, Mass.
"I have been troubled for years with a bad humor; sometimes outwardly, and sometimes inwardly. During the past summer it manifested itself more than usual outwardly, and I used your Salve. All signs of it have since disappeared, without affecting me inwardly, indicating, I think, the eradication of the Salve."

A Positive Remedy for all Humors.
PARTICULARLY
Erysipelas, Nettle Rash, Salt Rheum, Scrofula Carbuncles, Boils and Piles.
It is very easy to say of this, or any other Medicine, "It is the very best Remedy known." It is not always easy to prove it. It is, however, exceedingly gratifying to the proprietor of this Medicine, that while he declares to the public that this is a most wonderful and effective specific for Humors, as stated above, he has abundant proof of and to sustain his statement.
For sixteen years the HUMOR DOCTOR has been manufactured and sold, and every year has increased the value of its reputation, and the amount of its sales. In New Hampshire, where it was originated, no remedy for Humors is so highly prized. An eminent physician (now an army surgeon) when practicing in N. H. purchased between fifty and sixty gallons of it, during some seven or eight years, and used it in his practice. He has since then ordered it for the Hospital where he was stationed. Other physicians have purchased it, and have used it in practice with great success. When the proprietor lived in New Hampshire, at Goffstown Centre, for the space of thirty or forty miles around, and in Manchester, where he resided, the HUMOR DOCTOR was well known and highly valued for the numerous and wonderful cures which it effected. Though manufactured in large quantities, the supply was frequently exhausted, and purchasers had to wait for more to be made. In that region, some severe cases of erysipelas were treated with it, and they were cured. Erysipelas sores, or carbuncles, those ugly painful ulcers, were entirely removed, wherever this medicine was faithfully used. So it was with scrofula and salt Rheum. The HUMOR DOCTOR cured them.
Since the proprietor's removal to Woburn, Mass., his present residence, he has been regularly selling it to patients who have applied to him in person, and has been very successful in relieving and curing them. One case of Erysipelas—of an old man 72 years—is worth mentioning in particular. When he came to the Doctor's office he could only wear a pair of old rubber overshoes his feet and ankles were so swollen and sore. When he pulled off his socks the sores came with them, and the raw, bleeding feet, were frightful to behold. Suffice it to say, that less than one dozen bottles of the HUMOR DOCTOR (and in a few weeks) he had his feet and ankles so well and sound, that they were smooth and apparently sound. The man wore boots without inconvenience. Numerous cases of pimples in the face have been treated with this medicine, to the entire eradication of them. In Melrose alone, there are more than a hundred persons who have used the HUMOR DOCTOR, and give it an excellent name. In all the towns around it is well known and approved.
For the sake of showing what is thought of it a few testimonials are here inserted:—
MILTON GALE, ESQ., Boston.
I hereby certify that I was sorely afflicted with boils for two years, developing them upon my limbs and other parts of my body. The suffering which I endured from them are indescribable. Suffice it to say that I faithfully tried several of the most popular humors remedies, but without removing the affliction. At length, by the earnest request of an intimate friend, I was induced to try Dr. J. W. Poland's Humor Doctor, and am very happy to attest that all my boils were removed, and my health was restored by using Dr. Poland's aforesaid medicine.

A. C. WALLACE, ESQ., Manchester, N. H.
Dr. J. W. Poland, Dear Sir,—I very cheerfully give my testimony in favor of your Humor Doctor, as an excellent remedy for Humors. My numerous acquaintances in Manchester know how severely I was afflicted with boils, as they know how perfectly good my health is at present. Your Humor Doctor cured me. Please refer to me for particulars in my case.

MRS. WHEELER, Stoughton, Mass.
I very confidently and earnestly recommend Dr. J. W. Poland's Humor Doctor as an excellent remedy for Humors, having been wonderfully benefited by it myself. My own case was a very severe and obstinate one. I had been two years the skin upon the inside of both my hands, and even down on the wrist, was constantly cracked and broken up, so that I was unable to use my hands in work, and was obliged to wear gloves in so doing to avoid getting blood upon my work. The humor which so afflicted me was probably a combination of Erysipelas and Salt Rheum. My general health was quite poor. Soon after I began to use the Humor Doctor, I could perceive signs of healing. I continued to take the medicine till I was finally cured. My hands are perfectly free from pain, and to all appearances my whole system is clear of it, and has been for several months. I used eight bottles before I felt safe to give it entirely up, but they cured me.

Dr. Poland,—I received your letter inquiring as to the effects of your medicine on sea sickness. I am happy to say that I think it is "the medicine" for that dreadful sickness. I tried various prescriptions, but found none that settled the stomach and cleared the head like the Humor Doctor. I felt as though I could hardly wait to get ashore, to entrust you to introduce it into ship chandlery stores, that it may find its way to those who suffer upon the mighty deep from sea sickness. If captains who take their families with them, or carry passengers, should try it for once they would never be willing to voyage without it. I have used it in my family since its introduction to the public; for bilious habits, headache, and humors about my children, and have always found it a sure cure.
I am not fond of having my name appear in public, and would not consent to it on any account but to relieve the suffering; but, if the foregoing will be of any service to you or the public, you can make use of it.

An Invaluable Medicine for the Purifying of the Blood.
DR. J. W. POLAND'S
HUMOR DOCTOR.
Erysipelas, Nettle Rash, Salt Rheum, Scrofula Carbuncles, Boils and Piles.
It is very easy to say of this, or any other Medicine, "It is the very best Remedy known." It is not always easy to prove it. It is, however, exceedingly gratifying to the proprietor of this Medicine, that while he declares to the public that this is a most wonderful and effective specific for Humors, as stated above, he has abundant proof of and to sustain his statement.
For sixteen years the HUMOR DOCTOR has been manufactured and sold, and every year has increased the value of its reputation, and the amount of its sales. In New Hampshire, where it was originated, no remedy for Humors is so highly prized. An eminent physician (now an army surgeon) when practicing in N. H. purchased between fifty and sixty gallons of it, during some seven or eight years, and used it in his practice. He has since then ordered it for the Hospital where he was stationed. Other physicians have purchased it, and have used it in practice with great success. When the proprietor lived in New Hampshire, at Goffstown Centre, for the space of thirty or forty miles around, and in Manchester, where he resided, the HUMOR DOCTOR was well known and highly valued for the numerous and wonderful cures which it effected. Though manufactured in large quantities, the supply was frequently exhausted, and purchasers had to wait for more to be made. In that region, some severe cases of erysipelas were treated with it, and they were cured. Erysipelas sores, or carbuncles, those ugly painful ulcers, were entirely removed, wherever this medicine was faithfully used. So it was with scrofula and salt Rheum. The HUMOR DOCTOR cured them.
Since the proprietor's removal to Woburn, Mass., his present residence, he has been regularly selling it to patients who have applied to him in person, and has been very successful in relieving and curing them. One case of Erysipelas—of an old man 72 years—is worth mentioning in particular. When he came to the Doctor's office he could only wear a pair of old rubber overshoes his feet and ankles were so swollen and sore. When he pulled off his socks the sores came with them, and the raw, bleeding feet, were frightful to behold. Suffice it to say, that less than one dozen bottles of the HUMOR DOCTOR (and in a few weeks) he had his feet and ankles so well and sound, that they were smooth and apparently sound. The man wore boots without inconvenience. Numerous cases of pimples in the face have been treated with this medicine, to the entire eradication of them. In Melrose alone, there are more than a hundred persons who have used the HUMOR DOCTOR, and give it an excellent name. In all the towns around it is well known and approved.
MILTON GALE, ESQ., Boston.
I hereby certify that I was sorely afflicted with boils for two years, developing them upon my limbs and other parts of my body. The suffering which I endured from them are indescribable. Suffice it to say that I faithfully tried several of the most popular humors remedies, but without removing the affliction. At length, by the earnest request of an intimate friend, I was induced to try Dr. J. W. Poland's Humor Doctor, and am very happy to attest that all my boils were removed, and my health was restored by using Dr. Poland's aforesaid medicine.

[From Good Words for May.]

THE COUNTRY SERMON.

It was a shining Sunday morn,

Out of a flock of slender birds,

And something like their summons peal'd,

For country-folk, o'er farm and field,

I sought the church that on the hill,

Towered in the sunlight pure and still;

I sat upon a grave-stone gray,

To breathe the balm of that bright day.

I watched the people gathering slow,

From the far parish spread below,

From gabled grange, historic hall,

From many a cottage, rustic wall.

They came in choicer Sunday guise,

With Sabbath peace in patient eyes,

As those who doubtless looked to find

Some balm for pain and grief and mind.

I had not thought to have the stone

Whereon I sat and mused alone

OLD TIMES.

There's a beautiful view in the slumberous air.

That drifts through the valley of dreams;

It comes from a clime where the roses were,

And a sweet and a bright and a true;

That waved in the morning beams.

Soft eyes of azure and eyes of brown.

And snow-white forelocks are there;

A glimmering cross and a glittering crown.

A thorny bud and a cone of down.

And a heart and a hand and a true.

A breath of spring in the breezy woods.

Sweet waits from the quivering pine—

Blue violet eyes beneath green hoods.

A bubble of bubbles, a song of birds.

Bird warbles and clambering vines.

A rosy wreath and dimpled hand.

A ring and a smile and a true.

Three golden links of a broken band.

A thy track on the snow-white sand.

There's a picture of grief in the beautiful song.

That tells of the slumberous air.

And loneliness felt in the festive throng.

CRIME.—From all parts of the northern States we are receiving accounts of horrible crimes. It appears as if one of those periods was upon us in which men regard crime as an epidemic. The form which it takes is by no means distinctly marked just now. One man smashes his wife's head with a stone, another uses a knife, another the pistol, another poison.

Murder is not the only development of the supposed epidemic. There is scarcely any known process by which men do injury to one another, in person or purse, which is not illustrated from day to day.
In our own city the police are beginning to be regarded as an expensive luxury for show, but useless for any purpose of repressing crime.

Is it not just possible that we have been so much occupied of late with regarding the crimes of our neighbors and taking measures for punishing them, that we have forgotten to look to our own moral? Have not our teachers of the people in religion and morality been wasting words on far-off sinners, while the youth around them have gone to destruction? [New York Journal of Commerce.]

Union Pacific

RAILROAD CO.

Are now constructing a Railroad from
OMAHA, NEBRASKA,

westward towards the Pacific Ocean, making with its connections an unbroken line

ACROSS THE CONTINENT.

The Company now offer a limited amount of their FIRST MORTGAGED BONDS

having thirty years to run, and bearing annual interest, payable on the first day of January and July, in the City of New York, at the rate of SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD.

Ninety Cents on the Dollar.

This road was completed from Omaha 305 miles
west on the 1st of January, 1867, and is fully equi-ped, and trains are regularly running over it. The Company has now on land sufficient iron, ties, etc.,
to finish the remaining portion to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, 212 miles, which is under contract to be done September 1st of this year, and it is expected that the entire road will be in running order from Omaha to its western connection with the Central Pacific, now being rapidly built eastward from Sacramento, Cal., during 1870.

Means of the Company.

Estimating the distance to be built by the Union Pacific to 1,265 miles, the United States Government issues its six per cent. Thirty-year Bonds to the Company as the road is finished at the average rate
of about $28,250 per mile, amounting to $44,208,000.
The Company is also permitted to issue its own
First Mortgage Bonds to an equal amount, and at the same time, which by special Act of Congress
made a First Mortgage on the entire line, the bonds
of the United States being subordinate to them.

The Government makes a donation of 12,500
acres of land to the mile, amounting to 20,000,000 acres, estimated to be worth $20,000,000, making
the total resources, exclusive of the capital, $118, 416,000; but the full value of the lands cannot now
be realized.

The authorized Capital Stock of the Company is
one hundred million dollars, of which five millions
have already been paid in and of which it is not supposed that more than twenty millions at most will be required.

The cost of the road is estimated by competent
engineers to be about one hundred million dollars,
exclusive of equipment.

Prospect for Business.

The railroad connection between
East is now complete, and the earnings of the Union Pacific on the sections already finished for the first two weeks in May were $115,000. These sectional earnings as the road progresses will much more than pay the interest on the Company's bonds, and the through business over the only line of railroad between the Atlantic and Pacific must be immense.

Value and Security of the Bonds.

The Company respectfully submit that the above statement of facts fully demonstrates the security of their Bonds, and as additional proof they would suggest that the Bonds now offered are less than ten million dollars on 517 miles of road, on excepted twenty million dollars have already been expended—320 miles of this road the cars are now running, and the remaining 187 miles are nearly completed.

At the present rate of premium on gold these bonds pay an annual interest on the present cost of Nine Per Cent.,

and it is believed that on the completion of the road,
the Government Bonds will go above par.
The Company intend to sell but a limited amount at the present low rate and retain the right to advance
the price at their option.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

15 Years Ago and Now.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS was struggling into notice against the prejudice which everything new, however excellent, is doomed to encounter.

TO-DAY
it stands at the head of all the tonic and alterative preparations in existence. Its celebrity has evoked many imitations but NO RIVALS. Physicians promote it as the ONLY SAFE STIMULANT that has ever been introduced into the sick chamber. In the Hospitals of the Army and Navy, the surgeons find it the very best tonic for convalescents, and report it as invaluable for sustaining the vigor of troops on the march, as a remedy for scurvy and all scorbutic affections, and as the only specific for sea-sickness. California and Australia have enthusiastically endorsed it, and in Spanish America and the tropical climates, it is considered the only reliable antidote to epidemic fever.

There is no mystery about the causes of its success. It is the only stomachic and alterative in use, by the action of the barrel. Impurities and poison, and uninvited vegetable stimulants, with the select selection of tonic, anti-bilious, anti-scorbutic, aperient, and deobstruent herbs, plants, roots, and barks that have been ever intermixed in medicinal preparation.

It is also proper to state that the Bitters are sold exclusively in glass, and never, under any circumstances, by the gallon or barrel. Importers and dealers are abroad, and the only safeguard the public has against those who have not the Bitters they buy, is to look for the engraved label and note of Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, and the Government stamp over the cork of the bottle.

Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

Where this article is known it is a work of superiority to say one word in its favor, so well it is established as an unfailing remedy for Coughs, Cold, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, diseases of the Throat, Chest, and Lungs, as well as that most dreaded of all diseases, Consumption, which high medicinal authority has pronounced to be a curable disease. Those who have used this remedy know its value; those who have not, have but to make a single trial to be satisfied that of all others it is the remedy.

The Rev. JACOB SECHLER,
well known and much respected among the German population of this country, writes as follows—
HAKOVER, PA., Feb. 16, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & SONS, BOSTON.

Dear Sirs—Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY—it is my pleasure to recommend it to the public.
My wife, who has long suffered from Coughs and Asthma, and little hopes of her recovery were entertained. I then procured a bottle of your valuable Balsam, and before she had taken the first dose, she was greatly improved in her condition, and before she had taken the second dose, she was completely cured, and has since remained in perfect health, and has exhibited a most happy and contented countenance.
I am, Sir, very respectfully,
Yours truly,
JACOB SECHLER.

CHRONIC DISEASES, SCROFULA, ULCERS, &c.

It is well known that the benefits derived from drinking of the COGNAC, SAKATOLA, and other found in the spring waters, but over 500 per cent in quantity, containing as it does 11 grains to each fluid ounce, dissolved in pure water, without any of the disagreeable long sought for, in this country

WOBURN:

SATURDAY, JUNE 15, 1867.

R. MARCHANT, Editor and Proprietor.

A FESTIVE SEASON.

The present summer presents unusual attractions to the lovers of pleasure. We have sent abroad an unusual large number of persons to make the "Grand Tour," and wind up with the great Paris Exposition.

At home, we have trials of skill at Base Ball playing, a revival of an old fashioned game which we think is much preferable to that of Cricket. Boat racing and Horse racing, are also, introduced to while away the summer time.

The "Far West," has drawn out parties of ladies and gentlemen from the East, notwithstanding the threatened Indian hostilities.

President Johnson, forgetting the threatened cloud of impeachment, rides abroad south and east, calm as a summer's day. Ben Wade, who, in a certain contingency may be President, is entertaining himself and friends with Moose hunting.

Wendell Phillips and wife, the latter called by Mrs. Mott, the back bone of the abolition party, are going to some fashionable watering place to enjoy themselves.

Mr. Ashley has gone to his home at the West, and Benjamin Butler will doubtless spend his time again on the rock bound shore of Cape Ann, and converse with the voters of "his own" district.

A complimentary dinner has been given the present week at Boston to Major General Foster.

Class day comes off at Cambridge, on Friday, June 22; and, if they have one half the display of beauty and fashion, feasting and music, of last year, it will be a sight worth seeing. But this will depend upon the length of the purses of the Papas, whose boys graduate, and the comeliness and will of their lady friends.

The 24th of June—St. John's day—will be honored by a great Masonic parade in Boston, and the dedication of their new and splendid Temple. The presence of President Johnson at this pageant, his first visit to New England, will add greatly to the number who will be present. We should not be surprised, if this should be a holiday in Boston, and business be given up.

The 17th of June, the week previous to the Masonic festival, the good people of West Cambridge, now Arlington, propose to celebrate, and, also, the people of Charlestown.

Our old patriotic days are coming back upon us with their former vivacity, and July 4th will receive much attention.

Sabbath School, and other Pienies, will in the mean time be going forward, and the young folks will flock gaily to them and drink in the inspiration of joy.

Many a family will pack their trunks and pass out into the quiet scenes of the country, or journey to the sea-side, in pursuit of health and pleasure.

Every where, but at the South, the pleasure season looks promising. We don't know that any body laughs there, except the negro, who laughed before in bondage, and will laugh now in freedom.

Flour is coming down, and many other things for food and clothing, and it rents come down, and houses are provided for the increased and increasing population, so that a young couple wishing to get married, and having only moderate means, may be gratified, by a prospect of meeting expenses, why, then, we may look for happiness.

Life, however, is not all pleasure, and was not so designed. The warm weather of last week was suddenly interrupted, while vegetation was growing at a rapid rate, by the chill air and storm, and, so, with all human affairs. Society needs its recreations and requires its sober hours.

A person employed in labor, if not too arduous and perplexing, is made happy thereby, and in every well ordered home there is daily a vast amount of enjoyment, and in every well regulated mind, there is a daily feast in the performance of duty, in social intercourse, acquiring knowledge and enjoying religious thought.

THE STATE OF NEVADA.—This is one of the richest States in the Union. Its undeveloped resources are immense. Within it are found gold, silver, copper and iron; sulphur, cinnabar, gypsum, manganese, plumbago, kaoline, and other clays useful for making pottery and firebrick; soda in all its combinations; platinum and tin; zinc, antimony, nickel; limestone, granite, marble, and slate, and many other kinds of stone suitable for building purposes, &c. &c. The salt beds are numerous and of enormous proportions, sufficient being found to supply the entire world. Our readers will be interested in a short account of one or two of these, gathered from a very interesting volume recently issued under the direction of the U. States, by J. Ross Browne and James W. Taylor, special commissioners for the collection of statistics concerning the resources of States and Territories west of the Rocky Mountains.

About fifty miles north of Sand Springs, in Churchill county, near the line of Humboldt, is an extensive salt bed, its superficial area being nearly twenty square miles. At this place there is first an inch of dry white salt on top, then six inches of wet, overlying a stratum of tough mud, or blue clay, a foot and a half thick, and filled with cubical crystals of salt, some of them several inches square and bearing a strong resemblance to ice. Under this clay comes another layer of clean, rough salt, reaching downward to an unknown depth. This field is also owned by a company who have erected a railway for running out, a platform for drying, and a house for storing their salt. Owing to its distance from the chief point of consumption, Virginia City, but little of this salt has been sent to that place, though the Humboldt mills and those at Austin, in part, have drawn from here their supply. Large as is this bed, it is surpassed by another situated in Nye County. This deposit is about one hundred and twenty miles S.W. from Austin, and seventy miles in the same direction from Ione, the shire town of Nye county. This bed covers more than fifty square miles, over nearly all which the salt, clean, dry, and white, being the pure chloride of sodium, lies to a depth varying from six inches to two feet. This is the surface deposit, what there may be below never having been ascertained, nor does it matter, the amount in sight being ample to supply the wants of the whole world for centuries, could it but be readily furnished at the points where required; and though at present of so little avail, when railroads come to be extended into these regions, there is no doubt but salt can be shipped to California, and perhaps to more distant localities with profit. Though sold on the ground by the companies claiming these beds at one cent per pound, and sometimes for less, this salt should be afforded at a price scarcely more than the bare cost of gathering it up—in most instances a mere nominal sum. Upon the great saliferous field of Nye county millions of tons could be shovelled up lying dry and pure upon the surface to a depth varying from six inches to three feet, with most likely still more heavy bodies below. This like the more limited beds elsewhere, is claimed by private individuals, either under some of the various land laws of the United States, or enactments of the State of Nevada, or perhaps by virtue of certain regulations similar to those adopted by the mining community, and which hitherto have constituted the tenure of their mining properties. As a means of guarding against the possibility of such a thing, it might be expedient to have the salt sold to the public by the government to take measures to prevent these salt beds being so completely monopolized by private parties, as is otherwise likely to be the case. Besides these more extensive beds, there are numerous plains upon which the salt is deposited to the depth of an inch or more by the process of efflorescence, the soil being damp and impregnated with saline matters to a greater or less degree. At these spots the salt, generally mixed with a small percentage of foreign matter, such as soda, lime, or magnesia, is gathered by simply scraping it in heaps upon the surface, which operation must be performed in the dry season, the smallest amount of rain causing it to dissolve and wholly disappear. It reforms, however, with fair weather, and when removed is speedily replaced by new deposits, being in this respect like the heavier beds, practically inexhaustible. The admixture of foreign matter does not seem to impair its value for the reduction of ores, through rendering it unfit for culinary uses. From one of these plains, situated in Big Smokey valley, forty-five miles south of Austin, the mills at that place and elsewhere in the Reese river region obtain their principal supplies of salt, it being furnished on the ground at one cent a pound; and as the average cost of hauling to the mills is not over twenty dollars per ton, the latter get this article at a comparatively moderate price. Upon these salt fields there are no signs of animal or vegetable life, though it is a singular circumstance, that coming up through the saline incrustation, near the edge of the largest of them, is a fine spring of pure cold water; similar springs being found either upon or in close juxtaposition to others. The deposits of salt in this region are not confined to these beds or plains; it sometimes occurs in elevated positions, the strata often, in the aggregate many feet thick, being imbedded in hills and mounds of such extent as to almost justify their being called mountains. One of these, situated in the newly created, but not yet organized county of Lincoln, in the extreme southeastern corner of the State, covers an area of several thousand acres, the layers being composed of cubical blocks of salt, often a foot square, nearly pure, and as transparent as window glass. There are elsewhere in Nevada other mounds of salt, the strata separated by layers of earth, similar to this, but none, so far as known, of equal magnitude.

THE FRENCH EXPOSITION.—A correspondent of the London Star, in a letter descriptive of the toys on exhibition, says:—

The great attraction of the toy exhibition undoubtedly is in the French section, where crowds of visitors gather every afternoon to witness M. Theronde's surprising mechanical toys and automata. A regular concert takes place here every afternoon, the personnel of the band consisting of an ugly monkey, who performs on the violin with much ease as Paganini or Joachim, whilst a leopord beats the drum, a cat with agile grace sweeps the strings of a harp, a negro plays the flute, and a splendid Newfoundland joining this strange concert by his inopportune but repeated barking. Never was I more surprised than by the performance of a bird flying about from one stick to another, flapping its wings, &c., within a cage, and discovering they were stuffed. More wonderful still is the canary who, perched in another cage, moves its head, opens its beak, sings the most lively and sweetly varied tunes in perfect imitation of nature. Next to it, perched on a dwarf palm tree, is a blue bird, whose song, for softness and richness, surpasses all that can be imagined. This tiny warbler, with its beautiful plumage, is as lively and active as though he were gifted with life.

THE NATIONAL ASYLUM FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS.—The Board of Managers of the National Asylum for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers give notice that they are now prepared to receive beneficiaries into either branches near Augusta, Me.; Milwaukee, Wis.; or at the Central Asylum, near Columbus, Ohio.

Volunteer soldiers are admitted upon application by letter to either of the Managers, or at the Branch Asylum nearest to their place of residence; whereupon blank applications will be sent to the applicant, and, if duly qualified, transportation will be furnished him.

The requirements are:—First—An honorable discharge from the Volunteer Service. Second—Disability by wounds received or sickness contracted in the line of duty.

If the applicant is unable to travel, or for sufficient cause, relief will be furnished under the direction of the Manager to whom application is made.

LADIES' WESTERN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—The 27th anniversary of this society, which is connected with the Orthodox Church, was observed on Thursday evening of last week, in the vestry of said church. After a brief time spent in social converse, the company partook of the tea and other good things provided. The society has prospered exceedingly during the past year, and has sent out two barrels of clothing, valued at some two hundred dollars each, to needy clergymen and their families in the West, besides having been the medium through which the sum of five hundred dollars was raised and expended in the fitting up of one of the vestries in a neat and commodious manner for the accommodation of these and similar social meetings.

Mrs. Harrison Parker is the efficient President of the society, which has entered upon the second quarter of a century of its existence, and still gives evidence of that vitality which is so essential to true prosperity and success.

INSTRUCTION IN FRENCH AND GERMAN.—It is proposed to form a class of adults and children in the month of September next, for instruction in French and German, under the charge of Madlle Marie Ochs, provided a sufficient number desire it. Those wishing farther information in regard to this, will apply to Dr. Winsor.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—Mr. John T. Manny has sold the estate owned and occupied by him, on Washington street, to Mr. William A. Chandler, formerly a resident of our town.

RAILROAD SUIT.—The recent decision of the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth in the case of Sarah Hickey, Administratrix vs. the Boston & Lowell Railroad Corporation, is one of great importance to those travelling upon railroads, as involving the liability of railroad corporations in case of accidents to them. The Supreme Court in rendering their decision in favor of the defendants, which is given by Judge Wells, says:—

"The plaintiffs own evidence shows that her intestate had left the place assigned for passengers before the arrival of the train at the proper place for leaving the cars, and was occupying an exposed position, and that the injury was due in part at least, to the fact of that position at the time of the collision. The plaintiff also entirely fails to show any reasonable ground of necessity or propriety for his taking that exposed position."

A license from the Managers of the train or from the officers of the railroad does not relieve the party from the obligation to exercise due care and prudence on his part, nor entitle him to take unnecessary risks upon the responsibility of the railroad corporation."

THE MASONIC CELEBRATION.—Wm. Parkman Lodge, F. & A. M., having voted to unite in the ceremonies attending the dedication of the new Masonic Temple in Boston, upon the 24th inst., the members and all other brethren of the fraternity residing in town, who would like to unite with them on the occasion, will meet in Masonic Hall, on the morning of that day, at 8 o'clock. It is proposed to take the express train with coaches, leaving about 5:30 o'clock, and on the arrival in Boston march under escort of the Lowell Lodges in their route to the common. Brother Chas. H. Mosely has been appointed Marshal; and brethren will remember the order requiring them to appear in black or dark clothing, black hats, white aprons and white gloves, and be punctual at the time and place appointed.

A special Communication of the Lodge will be held on Thursday evening next, at which the presence of all the brethren is desired.

EXCLUSION.

A WORD IN SEASON.

MR. EDITOR.—"Chicago prohibits Fire Works within the limits of the city, on Independence day."

Cannot our civil authorities follow this wise example? Remember Portland!

The above is clipped from the Salem Gazette.

I would inquire if it would not suit the meridian of Woburn, I would not allow bridge one of the evils of the Young America. I am most in favor of following out the recommendations of John Adams:—"Let the anniversary of our Independence be celebrated with fire works and bonfires; with demonstrations of joy."

But our young friends should not be allowed to endow the city with much as Paganini or Joachim, whilst a leopord beats the drum, a cat with agile grace sweeps the strings of a harp, a negro plays the flute, and a splendid Newfoundland joining this strange concert by his inopportune but repeated barking. Never was I more surprised than by the performance of a bird flying about from one stick to another, flapping its wings, &c., within a cage, and discovering they were stuffed. More wonderful still is the canary who, perched in another cage, moves its head, opens its beak, sings the most lively and sweetly varied tunes in perfect imitation of nature. Next to it, perched on a dwarf palm tree, is a blue bird, whose song, for softness and richness, surpasses all that can be imagined. This tiny warbler, with its beautiful plumage, is as lively and active as though he were gifted with life.

DISTRESS IN IRELAND.—Painful accounts come from the west of Ireland, where a winter of unusual severity has been experienced. The London Star says:—

ominously startling features of the former famine are already reappearing. Fever and nakedness, and the palsied look of hopelessness, accompany chronic hunger as of old, while there is the terrible novelty of cattle disease, which is so virulent that the despairing people seldom ever skin the stricken beasts and sheep, but leave them unburied where they fall. The immensity of pestilence from this source is aggravated by the fact that the carcasses of pigs dying from the murrain are being fed upon by the more destitute of the sufferers, for the price of the two local staples of food, namely, potatoes and Indian meal, is now much beyond what the ordinary miserable wages of the district would supply. But even such are no longer being earned. Employment there is virtually none. There is no scope for it, and no means of payment if there were, the few large landed proprietors having to go without their rents in great part, if not altogether. Emigration has been carried to its uttermost limits, and further exodus is impossible for lack of the wherewithal to sustain it. Hence the memorialists pray that the government give directions for some public works, which would be long be remunerative to themselves, and would much alleviate the pressure of the current visitation. Meanwhile private benevolence is earnestly solicited.

WOBURN LOCALS.

Rev. A. H. Quint, of New Bedford, will preach in the First Congregational Church to-morrow forenoon. The 49th anniversary of the Salem School will be observed in the afternoon, when Rev. Mr. Trumbull, of Hartford, Ct., and Rev. Mr. Quint will conduct the exercises.

WANTED.—To keep the dust on Main street from blowing away—a watering cart. When brother Grosvenor came to town last year, he made a solemn promise that we should have one this season. But then we have no fault to find with that worthy gentleman, even if he fails to redeem his pledge—that is, we shall have none, so long as he continues to furnish the public with such delicious soda as he daily serves to those thirsty souls who inhale the aforesaid dust.

It will be seen by a notice in another column that Mr. Mark Allen has resumed business at his old stand. Mr. Allen's Balsamic Lozenges are a specific for coughs, colds, and hoarseness, and the demand for them is constantly increasing. Clergymen find them very useful, giving a fine tone and vigor to the organs of speech, without which the best efforts of the preacher fail to please and edify at audience.

T. J. and B. T. H. Porter have added to their stable a new office on Main street, and erected a new carriage house in the rear of the establishment.

GRADING MAIN STREET.—Quite a large number of workmen have been employed for a day or two past in grading Main street, from the Methodist Church to Salem street, in order that the large quantity of water which accumulates near Salem street, in heavy rains, may have an outlet through Main street. This is a much needed improvement.

PIC-NIC.—The Irish Literary Association will hold their tenth annual picnic in Hiaiwatha Grove, to-day. Saturday, should the weather prove pleasant. If stormy, the picnic will take place on the next fair business day.

The Woburn Rifle Corps were again out for practice on Wednesday last. There were a large number in attendance. The best shots were made by Wood, Lang, and Maj. Pierce. The best average shots were by Flanders, Wyman, and Marshall Tidd.

THE NATIONAL ANNIVERSARY.—In few instances, says a contemporary, do we see a keener preparation for the observance of the Fourth of July. Is this great national anniversary going into disuse? Are the great events of which it is commemorative of less importance owing to anything which has since occurred in the history of this government? We should be loath to admit that the battle of Bunker Hill or the death of Lexington have lost any of their significance from the lapse of time, or are any the less entitled to remembrance by the intelligent patriot. Though mere skirmishes, so far as numbers are concerned, in comparison with the terrible conflicts of the recent war, the principle for which the revolutionary fathers contended is as unchangeable as truth, and as worthy of admiration now as when independence was declared.

The Methodist E. Church has been raised seven feet above its former position, and workmen are now busily engaged in shaping the lumber which is to be used in the new basement.

DOMESTIC GOODS COMING DOWN.—Charles A. Smith now offers for sale good yard wide cotton cloth at 12 1/2 cents per yard! Also, a lot of superior prints at the same low figure.

BASE BALL.—On Monday afternoon, June 17th, at half past two o'clock, a friendly game of base ball will be played on Miller's field, Cambridgeville, between the Mishawum Club of Woburn Centre, and the Webster of North Woburn. The public generally are cordially invited to be present on the occasion.

SEIZURE OF LIQUOR.—Deputy State Constable John E. Tidd, made a seizure of a quantity of liquor at the Central House, Woburn, on Thursday last. For particulars see advertising columns.

The alarm of fire on Thursday evening proceeded from some brush, which took fire, near Winchester.

THE GREAT EUROPEAN CIRCUS, will visit our town on Tuesday next, and perform during the afternoon and evening of that day. It is acknowledged to be the best and most comprehensive circus ever seen in the United States, and well worthy of patronage. The Boston Post, of the 11th inst., in noticing this establishment, says:—

The European Circus, the coming of which our readers have been apprised, made its grand entrance to the city yesterday forenoon. The pageant excited much attention and was the theme of general comment. Nothing so showy and attractive has ever before been seen in our city. The wardrobe of the performing troupe were gay and beautiful, the horses were superb, and the carriages elegant and unique. The female portion of the display was novel and added to its interest and brilliancy. The thoroughbreds through which it passed were crowded with enthusiastic and demonstrative spectators. The opening performances were given yesterday afternoon and last evening on the Fair grounds. In the evening the attendance was immense. Upwards of three thousand auditors were present, and it is estimated that as many were turned away disappointed. The performances were very satisfactory and excited vociferous applause. Those by Lucille Watson and sister, Philo Nathans, Charles Sherwood, in the pea jacket act, Mr. Pierce in the lion's den and others were admirable; and the latter was exceedingly thrilling. The public will find the Circus first-class and its performances of the best stamp.

The oil of pennyroyal will keep mosquitoes out of a room, if scattered about, even in small quantities. The inner bark of white ash, will, if brought in contact with a snake, stiffen him like a stick in an instant, and a bit of fresh tobacco placed in his tongue will kill him dead as if struck by lightning, while sheep and goats feed on it pressed with entire impunity. Roaches are exterminated by scattering a handful of fresh cucumber parings about the house. No fly will light upon a window which has been washed with water in which a little garlic has been boiled.

The Constable of the Commonwealth, Edward J. Jones, Esq., in his Circular to his Deputies, at the close of the month of May, says:—

GENTLEMEN.—The close of the month of May finds this department in a more efficient and successful condition than at any previous period since its organization, with cheerful hopes for the future. The results of your labors for the past month are highly satisfactory, and complimentary to your energy and industry. Twenty thousand nine hundred and eighty-two dollars and sixty-nine cents, in fines and costs, have been paid into the several County Treasuries, as results of your prosecutions.

One hundred and forty-one liquor seizures have been made during the same period. Four hundred and ninety-eight prosecutions have been instituted, charging parties as common sellers, and for maintaining liquor nuisances, besides two hundred and sixty-three other complaints for various offences specified in the Statistical table; and, generally, your work for the month has yielded no small amount of satisfactory results, which you, at least are aware have required unceasing and persistent vigilance and industry.

The Courts are now about to pass sentence upon those parties whose cases were dependent upon the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in the McGuire and Pever cases, in which the License and Tax questions were involved, and we anticipate that these sentences will have the effect to persuade many in the liquor traffic to abandon the business entirely.

Numerous establishments engaged in the sale of intoxicating drinks in Boston and other places in this Commonwealth are attempting to evade the law, under the guise of associations known as "Clubs." I am satisfied that the Courts will so deal with the proprietors of these establishments, that they will be persuaded that it is useless to seek protection for their traffic under such organizations.

It is generally understood by the managers and employees of the several railroads, that it is not safe for them to transport intoxicating liquors over their roads; and it is earnestly hoped that the officers of this department will use all fair and legal measures to enforce the law against this class of offenders, and thus to materially interrupt the usual means now available through which the wholesale supplies of the small dealers with the prohibited beverages.

The owners or persons letting premises to parties who are engaged in violating the 86th and 87th chapters of the General Statutes should be prosecuted, and the notice to the landlord preceding such prosecution should be served immediately upon ascertaining who the landlord is.

During the progress of one of the Baptist anniversary meetings at Chicago, on Monday, while E. D. Jones, Esq., of Missouri, was speaking, a gentleman in the audience called out, "Please stop, Bro. Jones! I can't hear all that these ladies and gentlemen around me are saying!" This, as a reporter says, was a decided "hit," and brought down the house.

A southwestern editor is so carried away with a desire to add a few more subscribers to his paper that he offers to any young lady who will send him a club of five new names, either to marry her himself, or to use his endeavors in prevailing on the young man of her choice to do so. He has blank licenses on hand for the purpose, already signed. Nothing to do but to call in the person.

The amount insured in life companies in Massachusetts in 1865, was $41,558,846; in 1866, $59,995,835; increase, $17,436,989; premiums collected in 1865, $2,624,441; in 1866, $3,164,944; increase, $540,503. In accident companies in 1865, $7,572,590; in 1866, $7,141,000; increase, $19,508,590; premiums collected in 1865, $37,916; in 1866, $145,533; increase, $108,517.30.

RESULTS OF GYMNASIUM TRAINING. A lounge in the Boston gymnasium says that there are among the amateur gymnasts 60 gentlemen who can lift 600 pounds; thirty who can lift 800 pounds; 10 who can lift 900 pounds; 2 who can lift 1,000 pounds, and 1 who lifts 1,230 pounds. This lifting is unaided by straps, pulleys, or any other mechanical help. The majority of these strong men of Boston follow sedentary pursuits—they are editors, clergymen, lawyers, traders and clerks. At one of the gymnasiums there are three ladies who can lift 600 pounds each, and one who lifts 700 pounds; a boy of 18 who lifts 800 pounds; a boy of 12 who lifts 300 pounds, and a "sweet little girl" who lifts 200 pounds.

RESULT OF ADVERTISING.—A single instance of the practical benefits derived from judicious advertising is given by the Pittsburg Gazette in the following article. This is not a solitary case, but only one of many. Hundreds would give the same testimony should it be desired, and thousands owe wealth and station to a similar cause.—"In a brief interview with one of our most liberal patrons, a few days since, we inquired his experience in the policy of advertising. We regard his answer as noteworthy, and commend it to the consideration of others. He said the same kind of business in which he is engaged had been carried on at the same stand for ten years by one, and nearly three years by another predecessor. That these men gave diligent attention to their business, were sober and frugal, but spent nothing for advertising. They were just barely able to eke out an existence. That he bought out the concern ten years ago, and begun debtor for the whole establishment. He felt poor and only expended fifty dollars per annum in each of the business papers the first year; that subsequently he increased his expenses to several thousand dollars annually for advertising, and the result has demonstrated its wonderful utility, and he is today worth $175,000, and his annual profits are constantly increasing."

LOVE IN A COTTAGE.

BY N. P. WILLES.

They may talk of love in a cottage,
And bowers of trellised vine,
Of nature bewitching simple,
And milk-maid hand divine.
They may talk of the pleasures of sleeping
In the shade of a spreading tree,
And a walk in the fields at morning
By the side of a footstep free.

But give me a sly flirtation
With music to play in the pauses,
With music to play in the pauses,
And nobody very near;
Or a seat on a silken sofa,
With a glass of pure old wine,
And mamma too blind to discover
The small white hand in mine.

Your love in a cottage gets hungry,
Your vine is a nest for flies,
Your milk-maid shocks the graces,
And simplicity talks of pies.
You lie down to your shady slumber,
And wake with a bug in your ear,
And your dandelion that walks in the morning
Is shot like a mountaineer.

True love is at home on a carpet,
And mightily likes his ease,
And true love has an eye for a dinner,
And starves beneath shady trees.
His foot is an invisible thing,
His foot is an invisible thing,
His foot is an invisible thing,
His foot is an invisible thing.

WOBURN:

SATURDAY, JUNE 22, 1867.

E. MARCHANT, Editor and Proprietor.

More about the Western Excursionists.

The excursion party on the Union Pacific R. Road, Eastern Division, have with some few exceptions in small numbers, set out for Santa Fe, Denver and Pond Creek, returned home very much gratified with the country, the ride in the cars, and the hospitable entertainment they received. The St. Louis papers hailed their arrival. The Missouri Republican of June 3, thus announced it:—

"The distinguished gentlemen from the Atlantic States, including prominent railroad men, capitalists, members of Congress, and several representatives of the press, accompanied many of them by ladies, arrived here yesterday morning, and were met by the Missouri and Union Pacific Railroad, (Eastern Division)."

The party came in a special train of three cars, receiving over six hundred different points in Ohio and Indiana. Carriages by the dozen were placed at their disposal, and every facility afforded them for seeing the city and its suburbs. They were much gratified by their excursions to Tower Grove and other attractive points near the city.

From a private letter of one of the party, after speaking of a very fine supper at Indianapolis, we get his first impressions of the prairies:

"Got into my berth about eleven and went right to sleep, and did not awake till daylight was being through my shutters. I pulled them up, and we were on the prairies of lower Illinois, most beautiful. I now understand what houses dotting the prairie means. This prairie view continued until we reached the Mississippi, which we crossed in Ferry Boats."

On the party's arrival at Lawrence in Kansas, which the excursionists reached on Tuesday June 4, at half past 8 o'clock in the evening, they were escorted from the depot, by the City Council and several citizens to the Eldridge house, and after partaking of an excellent supper, they were very generally introduced to the citizens, and afterwards repaired to Frager's Hall, where they met a very large concourse of citizens. The venerable Judge G. W. Smith called the meeting to order, who introduced the Hon. W. E. Niblack, of Indiana, who delivered a brief address in appropriate and elegant terms, and was warmly received in Kansas and the West. His speech was well received, and was a just tribute to Western energy and enterprise.

Judge Newcomb of Missouri, Hon. W. P. Hibbard from West Virginia, Senator Henderson of West Missouri, Mr. Van Wyck, M. C. New York, Gen. F. B. Smith, Missouri, and Mr. Wells of the Philadelphia Bulletin, followed with short and interesting speeches.

At Leavenworth, which the party visited in the early part of the day on their way to Lawrence, they were conducted to the planter's house, where apartments had been provided for their reception. During the day many of them visited the Fort, and different parts of the city, and expressed themselves pleased and surprised at the wonderful growth of the young metropolis.

The editor of the Leavenworth Daily Conservative, says of the visit:— "These friendly visits between Eastern and Western men are among the most auspicious signs of national progress. They show that the indomitable energy and great enterprize of the Western character is steadily and surely gaining their share of attention and respect among a large class of Eastern men, who, until recently, been accustomed to look upon us more in the light of glibly speculators than earnest, determined men, who are working to develop our resources."

A private letter on the evening of the day of leaving Leavenworth, dated Lawrence, says: "A ride of 40 miles brought us here. Much of the country through which we have come, surpasses any we have seen as an agricultural country. We stopped once to look at a place where it is to be a large city. Then we stopped again at a city, whose birth was only four years ago, and where there are forty or fifty buildings. As I write we have just come and are coming to the Eldridge House. Our party now numbers about 200, and only the ladies and more important gentlemen will sleep here, the rest of us must bunk in the cars. Just as pleasant and perhaps jollier. A band is playing as we come up, and Gen. Hancock sends his band on the excursion with us, so that we have plenty of music. To-night we have a dance and some other social arrangements."

Some eight or ten of the party left in ambulances, with Gen. Hancock and 250 Cavalry for the Indian country, to travel 300 miles to Pond Creek, where there is to be a big Indian Talk. They will be absent some twenty days from the civilized world, not hearing any thing from or communicating information to the busy world. But they will have a grand time, at this season of the year, and see some strange sights and breathe the purest of air, dry and wholesome.

THE SEVENTEENTH OF JUNE was celebrated at Charlestown with a grand military and engine procession; and many took occasion to tread the sacred soil of "Bunker's Height," and ascend the monument for a look out. The soldiers and fire companies made a splendid appearance.

AT ARLINGTON, the industrial exhibition, the Lancers, and the procession generally, were witnessed by gratified thousands, and the dinner and speeches went off finely. Owing to the rain the expected regatta did not come off.

This day should ever be kept in honored remembrance, for it virtually decided our independence. Sixteen days afterwards Gen. Washington took command at Cambridge of all the troops of the American army, including those who were in the Bunker Hill battle, and their taste of the yankees in that fight soon led them to evacuate Boston, and no more contest for the heights of Charlestown.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S VISIT.—The President left Washington on Friday by rail, accompanied by two commanderies of Knights Templars resident at the Capital.

He will be received by the Mayor of Boston and a committee of the city authorities, at the Cottage Farm Station, in Brookline, this afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock, on the arrival of the cars at that point, and escorted by the National Lancers, will proceed to Roxbury line on the Neck, where the other military will join the escort, and with citizens in carriages, the procession will pass through Washington and other principal streets to the Revere house, where quarters have been provided for him.

The coming week will be one of entertainment to him—an excursion in the harbor and a dinner by the merchants in contemplation. Monday, however, will be the great display, when the Masonic bodies will make an imposing appearance.

Perhaps, in no instance, has President Johnson more exhibited his greatness than in his remarks at Raleigh on his father's memory. That father was a poor man, a sexton and a bank porter, and the President went with some of his cabinet to be present at the erection of a monument to his memory and said:—

"I have come to participate in the ceremonies of dedicating a monument to a man whom you respect, though of poor and humble condition. He was my father, and of him I am proud. He was an honest man and faithful friend, a character I prize higher than all the worldly fortune which could have been left me."

PEAKS OF LIGHTNING.—The New Haven Journal mentions the following as some of the antics of a "streak of lightning" in that city on Thursday evening last:

The lightning struck the house of Mrs. R. M. Page, on the corner of Pleasant and Humphrey streets. The bolt, as it struck the house, divided, one part striking the roof near the west chimney, and passed through the roof, tearing up the tin roofing in such a way that it looks as if it had been forced off from the inside. The fluid passed into the attic, striking the chimney near the roof, and going out a large hole in it, and then passed out of the attic window, making two holes through one of the panes as if two small cannon balls had been shot through the window there were no further signs of its course. The attic room was thoroughly shattered and the ceiling splintered into a thousand fragments. The other branch of the bolt struck the east chimney knocking off a corner of it. It passed down through the roof to the attic floor, and passed out of the room at the south-east corner, and ran down the water-pipe to the ground, shattering the earthen tile drain that carried the water to the cistern. From here it passed through the corner of the house, passing a nail, coming out near a water-pail with copper hoops, that stood near the sink. It completely demolished the pail, and seemed to have spent its force in doing so. Under the attic room, on this side of the house, was a closet, the latch and handle of which was torn off. Some of the plastering was thrown across the chamber and struck the head-board of the bed with such force as to stick fast. Under the pillow of the bed was found a nail that was so hot when thrown there, that it burned the sheet. Mr. S. K. Jones, the artist, occupied this part of the house, and his wife and child were the only persons in the house at the time. Mrs. Jones had just closed the basement window and crossed the room, when the stroke entered at the sink. She was thrown prostrate, and was much stunned and dazed for a while. The stroke entered a few seconds before when she was at the window, she would undoubtedly have been killed. Mr. Jones was sitting in the room alone with his child, and was also considerably shocked. Persons who were in the street, near the house, at the time, were also stunned, and had to grasp hold of the fence to keep from falling.

GOLD.—It has been ascertained by statistical research that the aggregate production of gold in the world for eight years past is $3,311,500,000. The Pacific States and Territories yielded nearly one-third of the grand total and Australia and New Zealand produced nearly one-fourth of the whole amount. The average annual production for the same period is $185,638,888, which is an actual addition every year to the world's stock of gold.

THE NEGROES IN KANSAS.—Missouri and Kansas are now as fraternal as any other two States. The most expressive reminder of the old border struggle is the large negro population of Kansas. The African element is strong in all the settlements, for it was not hard for the slave to step from thralldom to liberty, by crossing the river between Missouri and Kansas, under the cover of Yankee aid, and the moral persuasiveness of Sharps' rifles. No other Northern State, in proportion to population, has as many black citizens as Kansas. You see them everywhere, in town and country, looking, perhaps, a shade more self-reliant than elsewhere. It was here they first learned to shoot, and as are in advance of those who were after in dropping the hoe and taking the musket.

FOR AN EXCURSION for Families, Parties and Schools, nothing can be more pleasant and delightful than a trip to Nahant in the fine steamer Ulysses, which leaves India Wharf, Boston, three times daily. Coaches convey parties from the boat to the Hotel, and also to the fine gardens at the Pool of Maoli, which have been beautifully laid out with summer houses, groves, fountains, lawns, &c., and are open to the public. For particulars see advertisement in another column.

—Rev. John Willard, of Fairhaven, Mass., will preach in the First Congregational Church to-morrow.

WOBURN LOCALS.

GRASS AT AUCTION.—William Winn, Esq., advertises several lots of grass at auction. Those who wish to obtain hay should attend these sales. He also advertises for sale some valuable real estate, and a lot of household furniture. See his notices in another column.

—The forty-ninth anniversary of the Sabbath School connected with the First Congregational Church, was celebrated in the Church on Sabbath afternoon last. The Superintendent, William A. Stone, Esq., made some remarks, in which he gave interesting statistics respecting the progress of the school during the past year. Forty-eight of the scholars were hopelessly converted during the year. The whole number of scholars is 600; average attendance about 357. There were 10 deaths during the year. Rev. H. Clay Trumbull, of Hartford, Ct., and Rev. A. H. Quint, of New Bedford, conducted the exercises. Their addresses were deeply interesting. The singing by the children was excellent. The Church was tastefully decorated with flowers.

MASONIC.—The members of Mount Horeb Lodge, together with honorary members, and transient brethren residing within the jurisdiction of the Lodge, are requested to assemble at Masonic Hall, Woburn, on Monday morning next, at 8 o'clock, preparatory to attending the dedication of the new Masonic Temple, in Boston, on the 24th inst. See notice.

—The work on the North Woburn Street Railroad is progressing finely. The rails are already laid from the Woburn Bookstore to Salem street. The cars will probably be put on the track by the first of August.

COAL.—Mr. Joseph B. McDonald has on hand an excellent assortment of coal, which he is selling at low prices. The Lackawanna coal advertised by him is the best article we ever used. It burns free, is clear of slate, and gives less trouble than any coal with which we are acquainted. Housekeepers will do well to secure their winter's supply this month, as coal usually sells for less in June than any other month in the year.

TURNOUT.—J. B. Davis, was out on Monday with a new wagon, adapted to excursion purposes, and proceeded to Arlington, where he united in the celebration, conveying some 30 or 40 veteran soldiers in the procession. This team is very commodious and will be much sought after by those who frequent the Beach and other distant places for recreation.

PIC-NIC.—The picnic on Saturday afternoon last, at Hiawatha Grove, under the auspices of the Irish Literary Association, was well attended. The order was excellent, and everything passed off to the satisfaction of the large crowd in attendance.

—The alarm of fire on Sunday morning last, proceeded from the manufacturing establishment of J. B. Winn & Co., Salem street. It was occasioned by the lowness of the water in the steam boiler, which caused the whistle to give an alarm. No damage was done. The fire department were promptly on hand.

THE GREAT EUROPEAN CIRCUS came to town on Tuesday, as previously announced. The gorgeous procession, as it passed through our streets, excited universal attention. The performance in the afternoon was well attended, and elicited much applause. In the evening upwards of 3000 persons were in attendance, the immense tent being crowded in every part. Everybody was pleased with the performances, though a heavy rain tended somewhat to mar the beauty and harmony of the exercises.

—We learn that the friends of good music in the First Congregational Parish have generously subscribed a sufficient sum of money to retain the services of Miss Anna Wood, of Boston, as leading soprano for the coming year. Miss Wood has a voice remarkably adapted to fill the capacious audience room. Its sweet and pure quality is highly valued by most competent musical judges in Boston, who predict a rare development by future cultivation. Her quiet and modest demeanor have won her many friends in Woburn, who will be pleased to know that she is to continue as the leading soprano of this society. Many encomiums have been passed upon her artistic rendering of the solo, "With Verdure Clad," from Haydn's "Creation," at the opening of the services last Sabbath afternoon.

The musical arrangements in this church are upon a better basis than formerly, and we may look for a decided improvement in the singing during the coming season.

MORE CHEAP PRINTS.—Charles A. Smith has just received another lot of those cheap Prints. Going rapidly at 12 1-2 cents per yard.

—The attempt to raise a "Horrible Company" for the glorious Fourth, failed, on account of a want of interest in the matter.

—The examination of the Public Schools during the present week, has caused much interest among parents and scholars. We learn that a good state of proficiency and discipline was manifested in all the schools. Other examinations will take place next week. See notice for particulars.

VERDICT AGAINST THE TOWN.—At the Superior Court in East Cambridge, on Wednesday, a verdict of $6,500, was rendered in favor of Calvin C. Bingham, for injuries received by being thrown from his team, through a defect in a bridge crossing a canal.

—The foundation of the new Catholic Church is rapidly being laid.

—S. F. Thompson, Esq., will sell a lot of grass at auction on Friday next. See advertisement.

FRIENDLY GAME OF BASE BALL.—Last Monday afternoon, 17th inst., a friendly game of base ball was played between the Mishawum Club of Woburn Centre, and the Webster Club of North Woburn. The Websters went to bat at 3.10 and obtained one tally on their first innings; the Mishawums were less successful and were skunked on their first innings, but picked up towards the latter part of the game, as the table below will show. The game was called at the fifth innings on account of the rain storm.

—Prof. Hadley gave an entertainment at Lyceum Hall on Wednesday evening. A handsome silver trumpet was announced as the prize to be given to the fire company in Woburn which should sell the largest number of tickets; and it was secured by the company attached to the steam engine. The number in attendance was very small.

COURT MATTERS.—P. L. Converse, Trial Justice.

Wednesday, June 12.—J. P. Knapp was complained of by J. W. Day for keeping a dog without a license. Plead guilty. Fined fifteen dollars and costs. Paid.

18th—James McCoil for simple drunk. Plead not guilty. Judgment guilty. Fined five dollars and costs. Appealed.

Same party for an unprovoked assault on Chief of Police J. W. Day. It seems by what we can learn, that officer was at the Woburn Depot when the last train of cars came in on the 17th. McCoil came up in this train, somewhat intoxicated, and Mr. Day told him to go home, and McCoil went a short distance, when Day repeated the order to go home. He finally got him as far as Park street, when McCoil becoming insolent, Day, in attempting to arrest him was struck by McCoil on the cheek bone, just under the left eye, with a stone, which McCoil held in his hand, and broke the bone as is supposed in two places, causing a dangerous wound, for which he, McCoil, was ordered to give bonds in the sum of two thousand dollars, to appear before said Court, on Friday, 21st, at two o'clock, P. M., to answer to the said charge of assault, and in default thereof he was sent to the care of Capt. Adams at East Cambridge.

THE KING OF PRUSSIA is building an iron-clad ship of war, which the Europeans expect will be the finest thing of the kind afloat. She was designed by the celebrated ship builder Mr. C. J. Reed, and her contractors—the Thames Iron Shipbuilding Company at Blackwall, England—will soon have her ready for launching. She is to be 365 feet in length, with a width of 60 feet, and will weigh about 6000 tons. She will be armed with 10 8 inch guns; will have two iron turrets, each to carry two heavy guns, and will mount 20 guns on deck of the heaviest calibre, protected by shields. She will be named "William the First."

THE CROPS.—Nine-tenths of all the reports received at the Agricultural Department during the past month agree as to the favorable prospects for the coming harvest. Never, according to the Commissioner's summary, has there been so general an expression of encouragement. Many of the correspondents of the Department promise a wheat crop double that of last year.

The Cincinnati Commercial points out the moral of the coming crop as follows: It would be well if the people of the Northern States could learn, in contemplating their ripening harvests, that it is upon those who reap and reap, more than upon those who legislate, that the welfare of the country depends—that republican government is but a people's agency for doing the indispensable work of dealing justly between men and preserving order, that it is not the end of the existence of a people, but simply a part of the general division of labor in civilized communities, assigning to a few the enforcement of the authority needed to promote and conserve the general welfare.

The failure of the great steamship project in Boston, of which so much has been said, and in behalf of which earnest appeals have been made to the public spirit of citizens, is the source of much uncomfortable feeling.

There are now lying at League Island, where the new navy yard is to be established, the following boats: The Iron-clad Dictator, thirteen single-turret monitors, six wooden gunboats, one rebel ram and two blockade-runners.

THE CABINET ORGAN.—The most valuable and distinctive characteristic of the Mason & Hamlin instruments is undoubtedly their quality of tone. There is a liquid smoothness and purity of tone from hardness and harshness of character, which is very noticeable in their instruments. They have a near approach to that round sonority which is sought for in the diapasons of a pipe organ. The rapidity of their action, the quickness with which the tone responds when a key is touched, is also a notable excellence. Their perfection in this respect extends their capacity to light, rapid music, as well as those more slow and sonorous strains, which have been classed as organ music.—N. Y. World.

ANNIVERSARY FESTIVAL.—The first anniversary of the installation of Rev. Richard Metcalf as pastor of the Unitarian Society was observed on Friday evening of last week, by a social gathering in Lyceum Hall, under the auspices of the Ladies' Friendly Society. The hall was very prettily decorated with numerous choice bouquets of flowers, and between the entrance doors was spread a table bountifully laden with cake and ice cream. During the evening, the assembly were called to order, and after singing a hymn, H. B. Metcalf in a few introductory remarks alluded to the occasion which had called them together, and in behalf of the people wished the pastor a happy new year. The pastor in a pleasant manner responded to a call made upon him, and said that among the invitations that he received, he had never regretted that he occupied the one which located him in this pleasant town. He alluded to the remarkable prosperity of the society,—to the pleasant intercourse which they had enjoyed together,—to the joyous and sad occasions in which he had been called to participate with many of them, and the value of that cheering faith that supported him and enabled him to impart it to others in many a trying hour, and drive away from their afflicted hearts all the gloom of the grave. He regretted that a physical infirmity had prevented him from attending to all the pastoral duties as faithfully as he desired. He rejoined upon them the importance of uniting in a social meeting one evening during the week and feelingly alluded to the kindness of his people in providing for himself and wife so pleasant a home, and for the numberless tokens of their regard with which they had surrounded him and were continually spreading in his pathway to make sunny and pleasant the life of himself and his dear companion. He closed with the reciprocal expression of the wish of a happy new year to them and theirs.

Mrs. Fred Winsor presided at the piano with her accustomed skill and the two children of Mr. H. B. Metcalf played together upon the same instrument one or two pieces in an excellent manner. The remainder of the evening was occupied in social converse, singing, eating ice cream and cake, and at a late period in the evening some of the younger portion of the company could not resist the temptation of tripping the light fantastic toe. It was a pleasant, social occasion, free from formal restraints, where the young and old, pastor and people, met upon the broad ground of a common faith, which imparts to its subjects such liberal views of duty and destiny. About 11 o'clock the company separated with the universal expression of the hope that this union of pastor and people which one year has blessed may long be continued and prospered.

PRESENTATION.—The ladies of the Masonic brethren residing in this town united in the presentation on last Monday evening of an elegant banner to Wm. Parkman Lodge. The ceremony took place in Lyceum Hall, which, with Masonic Hall, were profusely decorated with flowers. The brethren assembled in their hall at 7 o'clock, and the presentation, in full regalia proceeded to Lyceum Hall, where the presentation was made by Miss Cooke, in a few well chosen words, and accepted by the W. M. A. K. P. Joy. After this, P. G. M. William Parkman made a brief speech, expressing his pleasure that it gave him to be present on the occasion and alluded in a happy manner to the benefits of masonry.

The company then repaired by invitation to the Masonic hall, while the ladies assigned to that duty, spread the tables in Lyceum hall with the profusion of good things which they had provided. These tables when arranged presented a fine appearance, ornamented with so many flowers—especially did that presided over by Mrs. O. V. Waterman make a beautiful show, containing as it did in the centre a large square and compass of the choicest flowers, with numerous lesser lights around.

When the tables were arranged, the company were called to refreshment and that degree was worked in a perfect manner. This work being satisfactorily completed, the W. M. presented to Past Master Chas. W. Stevens, of Boston, a beautiful clock emblem, which the recipient acknowledged in a rhyming speech, in which he gave a pretended exposure of some of the secrets of the Order for the benefit of the ladies. It was a humorous production and heartily applauded.

P. G. M. Wm. Parkman was presented by Mrs. Waterman, through the W. M., with the floral service and compass before referred to, and made a brief speech in response. Remarks were also made by Past Master North, a mason of fifty years standing, and Bro. B. F. Ham.

At intervals during the evening, a band of music, consisting of a violin, a cornet, and a drum, were thrown or fell from the milk car, striking upon his head. He was taken by direction of the Sup't of the road to the Mass. Gen'l Hospital, accompanied by Dr. Winsor, in a special train. He was unconscious after the fall and continued in that state, excepting so far as to give his name and residence, until Monday night, when he died. His skull appears to have been broken by the fall.

AN APPEAL'S REVENGE.

Captain Lanseer was in temporary command of the military post at Puder,

and had in his detachment a large body of native troops. He paraded his soldiers for inspection, and put them through a thorough drill. The evolutions of the battalion were performed with promptness and precision; and the manual of arms was nearly equal to that of the best-drilled European troops. I had heard that these Sepoys were not so well disciplined as the English soldiers; but

Lanseer assured me that their discipline was well nigh perfect. In size they are smaller than the English, but they really adapt themselves to the light uniform, and are very hardy.

Our second evening at Puder was spent at Captain Lanseer's quarters, and after supper we worked our way into story telling.

"Gentlemen," said Lanseer, as we filled

our pipes the second time. "I can tell you a very curious story of circumstances that have transpired in this place within a month. If you can think of nothing better, I will give it to you."

Of course we could think of nothing better, and the vote was unanimous that he should proceed.

"About four weeks ago," commenced

the Captain, "a wealthy zemindar, named

Hoosian Kahn.

"Zemindar," interrupted Ben Gilroy,

what's that?"

"A zemindar is simply a land owner," replied Lanseer. "As I was saying, the zemindar Hoosian Kahn was found one morning dead in his bed, with his throat cut in a most shocking manner. It was not cut clean across, as a suicide would have done it, but it was hacked frightfully. Upon the floor close by the bedside was found a razor covered with blood, its stout horn handle broken, and the shank bent. The zemindar had been an excellent man, respected by the people, both high and low, and his shocking death was the cause of much excitement.

And first it was thought the murder had been committed for the purpose of ro-

bery; but not an article had been stolen from the house. The English watch, the jewels, the purse, and the leather pocketbook, which, with the clothing in room were undisturbed. I was called to the scene of the murder as soon as it was discovered, and, with other officers, did my best to unravel the mystery. There had been some struggling on the part of the Hoosian, as was evident from the condition of the bed; but he had not struggled much. We found a large bunch of hair upon the pillow, where the murderer had held the head back while the fatal work was being done; and this, together with the broken handle and bent shank of the razor, signaled to us that the assassin

must have been a fellow of immense physical power.

"While I was gathering up his hair,

one of my companions called attention to some marks upon the floor. A quantity of blood had run down upon a grass mat

by the side of the bed, and not far from this, upon the floor, were several bloody prints, which appeared to me to have been made by a man's hand. They were certainly not the print of a human foot.

I could only account for them upon the supposition that the murderer had either slipped and fallen, or had been pushed over by the struggling zemindar, and that here was where his bloody hands had struck. The window was open, and we found stains of blood upon the stool very much in the shape of those upon the floor. This sleeping-room was all our chamber, and the murderer had made his exit by the window into the tree, the limbs of which dropped towards the house.

"The first person whom we called as witness was an old woman who had been employed for some years in the family.

The zemindar's wife was just then too deeply affected to give us any coherent information. This old woman, whose name I think was Zolao, recognized the razor as having belonged to her master,

and she also showed us the little closet

where it had been kept. The closet door had been opened and the razor taken from the dressing case, and that, too, in the dark, from all which it appeared that the deed had been done by some one familiar with the premises. There had been no robbery, so we were led to the further conclusion that the murder had been an act of vengeance. And who could have entertained such feeling to Class Day at Cambridge.

Class days at Cambridge are gaining in popularity, and draw yearly greater numbers and make more display. They have already far outstripped in numbers and interest the days of commencement.

One gentleman said to another on the class day of Friday last week, "Have you come to see the follies?" "Yes," was the reply, "and to see something else." The truth is, that these class days, with their simple and laughable exhibitions, come home to the universal heart of humanity, and all ranks and ages respond to the chord which is touched.

The class day which we now chronicle, had, perhaps, nothing unusual in the oration and poem pronounced on the occasion, but the house where the performances took place remained closely packed, aisles, doorways, and pews, until the close.

The dancing on the green, beneath the shade of the overhanging boughs of the beautiful Elms, was, perhaps, better kept up than common, and had larger crowds around the enclosed ring; and the display of female beauty, in all the tasteful array of rich and varied dress, maintained the reputation of class days as being the paradise of dress and loveliness. Certainly, a great many full purses must have been put in requisition; and sewing machines, and ladies fingers with the old fashioned needle, must have been very diligent to have clothed and ornamented the bodies of the numerous fair ones, who were in harmony with the flowery and leafy season of the year, and with the fresh aspects of nature washed in the showers of the preceding night. Dry goods and milliners shops must have been pretty well drained to make up such an exhibition.

White was the prevailing color of dress, but other hues were mixed in the grand spectacle. The head dresses, or bonnets, exhibited much taste in the selection of fabrics and ornaments, and in the arrangement, and no one could regret the fashion of small and picturesque bonnets, which afforded an opportunity for the display of so much artistic genius, and to bring out the shape of heads and the beauty of hair in such endless variety.

Some of the ladies, whose dresses were most costly, elegant and tasteful, kept within doors in the halls and students' rooms, where the "spreads" or banquets were served, but there was no lack of rich display on the line in the gay promenades and dances.

The usual ceremonies around the tree; dancing, and snatching at the flower wreaths, and yells and singing, embracing &c., took place; and a vast concourse of people, around the enclosed lines, from the windows of college buildings, the tops of fences and carriages, looked on with eagerness to see the fun and laugh at the merry incidents. The streets around the college grounds were filled with carriages, showing that multitudes had come from a distance to see a class day.

The air was mild and pure, and the clouds, that thinly spread themselves over the sky, moderated the warm beams of the sun, and the atmosphere was well adapted to out-door festivities. The Band played the whole afternoon for the dancers; and it was altogether a lively scene, the ladies and gentlemen dancing and walking about, the windows of the college buildings crowded with ladies, and everybody appearing to be very much at home.

The evening till 10 o'clock, was spent in singing by the students, and music from the band; and ladies and gentlemen were seen in large numbers enjoying themselves in conversation and walking in the beautiful grounds. The light of illumination from some colored lamps making the words "Sixty Seven," attracted much attention by their brilliancy and beauty.

It was a festival for the young, but not for them exclusively, for the old were there, too, and enjoyed it. Scholars indulged in a fete, but we saw mechanics and laborers, and some colored persons mingled in the assembly, who could not resist the attractions of general gladness, and whose hearts vibrated to the touches of human nature that make all the world akin.

But we cannot describe the peculiarities and merriment of a Cambridge class day, as it has lately become—it must be seen and felt in order to be appreciated.

DEDICATION OF THE NEW MASONIC TEMPLE.—Monday was a great day in Boston. The city was filled to repletion with people from all parts of the Commonwealth, the New England and other States. The city was decked out in gala costume, and everybody seemed determined upon having a grand holiday. Thousands of people crowded all the principal thoroughfares, and all the houses and stores through which the procession passed were crowded by those anxious to get a view of the grand pageant.

Every train brought hundreds of persons from the suburban towns and cities, desirous of witnessing the superb display. The different lodges of Masons began to arrive at an early hour. The marching of the societies to the place of rendezvous on the Common, the animated crowds on all the principal streets, and the inspiring strains of music heard in many directions, served to produce a most enlivening effect upon all subject to such influences.

The procession was composed of about 9,000 Masons, in full regalia, accompanied by 49 military bands, numbering 939 musicians. The Traveller says—"There has seldom if ever been seen in Massachusetts—and probably not in any other State before—such a body of Masons together; and the general verdict will probably be, that there was never before seen in our streets so many substantial, fine-looking men in a procession. The tedium of the watches by the roadside, as well as the weariness of the marchers was greatly relieved by the almost continuous sounds of music, and much of it of a very superior character."

During the progress of the procession many attentions were paid by the citizens of Boston to the fraternity. Water, lemonade, wine, and punch, were freely distributed, and many good brothers kept open house during the day. In this connection, we cannot refrain from noticing the kindly welcome extended by Messrs. Taggard, Sanders, and Rowe, of 112, 114 & 116 Shawmut ave., where refreshments were freely distributed to all. Mr. H. W. Presby, of 23 Hanson street, invited large numbers into his house, and furnished them with a substantial dinner, consisting of cold turkey, ham, tongue, corned beef, etc. Choice wines and cigars were also freely dispensed to all. Over 400 partook of his hospitality during the day.

DEDICATION OF THE TEMPLE.
The Grand Lodge assembled in their quarters in Summer street at 9 o'clock, where the procession was formed, and they marched, under the escort of the Boston Encampment of Knights Templars and a full military band, to the Temple. Grand-Master Dame rode with President Johnson in a barouche drawn by six horses. Other carriages followed, in which were members of the Grand Lodge and invited guests; among them were several distinguished visitors. Cheers were given as the President passed along the route. The Boston Encampment was drawn up in front of the Temple, and the Grand Master's carriage passed before them. The Grand Master alighted, and walked arm-in-arm with the President into the Temple. The Grand Lodge entered Sutton Hall in appropriate order, the organist playing a march composed for the occasion by L. H. Southard.

The dedicatory exercises were of a very impressive description, although the unusually important nature of the occasion gave an added interest to the scene. Before singing the dedication ode the Grand Master ordered the proper officers to conduct the President of the United States into the hall, where he was welcomed in a very appropriate speech by the Grand Master. After being introduced by Dr. Winslow Lewis, Past Grand Master, in behalf of the Masons of Massachusetts, he took a seat at the right of the Grand Master.

The Grand Lodge having been opened in due form, and the Grand Chaplain having made an appropriate prayer, the dedicatory ode was given by the select choir of sixteen gentlemen, under the direction of C. C. Whitworth, Grand Chorister, and C. B. Rhodes, Grand Organist, assisted by Howard M. Dow.

An ode was then sung, when the Grand Lodge formed in procession, and marching around the hall, the Grand Master, pouring corn on the floor in the name of the Great Jehovah, solemnly dedicated the hall to Freemasonry, the choir singing:

"Genius of Masonry! descend,
And bring thy sacred train;
Constant our Sacred Rites attend,
While we adore thy peaceful reign."

Wine was poured upon the hall, the Grand Master, dedicating the hall to virtue in the name of the holy Saints John: "Bring with thee virtue, brightest maid,
And bring with thee the love of friendship here;
While kind relief will lend her aid,
To smooth the wrinkled brow of care."

Oil being poured upon the floor, the Grand Master, in the name of the whole fraternity, dedicated the hall to universal benevolence, the choir singing the following stanza:

"Come, Charity, with goodness crowned,
Enriched in thy heavenly robe,
Diffuse thy blessings all around,
To every corner of the globe."

After prayer by Grand Chaplain Alger, and the proclamation of the Grand Marshal, the closing "Te Deum Laudamus," composed by Herman Kotschmar, and arranged for male voices by M. Keller, was sung.

The benediction closed the exercises in the Temple.

During the ceremonies in the Temple, President Johnson was called upon, and in response said that he had not come for the purpose of making an address, but he should do injustice to himself if he attempted to conceal his gratitude for the attentions and courtesies shown him. He observed that this was one of the events of his life that always would be remembered, and the memory of it would only expire with life. He stated that his political views embraced principles not confined to any locality, for the world was his home and all honest men his brothers. In conclusion, he again returned his sincere thanks for his reception.

The exercises of the day were closed by an eloquent oration at Music Hall, by Past Grand Chaplain Rev. William S. Studley.

THE DEATH OF HOMER BRIGHAM. Died at the residence of his father, E. F. Brigham, Esq., Andrew L. P. Homer Brigham, aged sixteen years, eleven months and three days.

The above announcement forms the third chronicle of terrible bereavement that the family of Mr. Brigham has recently, has been called on to publish relating to the family of Mr. Brigham. So universal has been the sympathy excited by this sad event, that we have obtained from a friend all possible particulars of the accident and subsequent events, and knowing they will be of great interest to our readers, we avail ourselves of the opportunity to publish them.

On Friday afternoon Homer, with two other boys—George Washington and Charley Major—went down the lake shore with a gun for the purpose of shooting a blenny, which was taken from the bottom of the lake, and was found to be a specimen of the blenny of the lake. The boy, however, was not successful in his attempt to shoot the blenny, and the fish was taken from the bottom of the lake by the boys. The boy, however, was not successful in his attempt to shoot the blenny, and the fish was taken from the bottom of the lake by the boys.

While resting in the barn on Sheldon's farm Homer thought he heard the bird he was in search of, so reaching forward he took hold of the barrel of the gun, and while pulling it toward him the whole contents of the barrel were discharged into the lower part of the abdomen. The accident happened about two miles from the village, but Homer resolved to walk home, and managed to walk as far as the post-house, about half a mile, when he reached home. George ran into the village and informed Dr. George Fuller of the accident, who immediately proceeded to the spot. On examination he found a frightful wound, about three inches in diameter, through which the whole charge of the gun had passed up into the body, making an injury which, after several probing, he pronounced to be fatal. Homer, though in great pain, displayed remarkable firmness, courage and coolness. He inquired of the doctor the extent of the injury and its probable result; then with wonderful presence of mind, he stated that if he died before reaching home, he desired that his father and mother be called, and that he be taken care of as he would wish to be.

At this time his father arrived with help, and he was taken home in a boat. All through the night and part of Saturday he remained entirely conscious. He frequently during this time admitted to his watchers that he was in great pain, but implored them not to let his father and mother know it, adding that he would not find it out from him. His cheerful answers to all their inquiries, and his complete mastery of himself for their sakes, formed an instance of strength of mind, indomitable courage, and heroic courage, that in one so young seemed impossible and beyond conception. He said that he knew he must die, but that he was all ready and had no fear, for God would take care of him; that he had friends in heaven, and that he only regretted leaving those he so much loved here.

On Saturday afternoon it began to be evident that the end was approaching, but during the evening he was able to recognize the friends who visited him. After hours of restlessness he fell asleep, and when he awoke he was in great pain, and he called for his mother. The family collected around his bed, and after bidding each an affectionate farewell, he sank rapidly away until half-past three, when, just as the twilight began to span the heavens, death took him to the regions of eternal day.

Probably no one of his age in the community was more widely known. A rather delicate constitution compelled him to remain out of school during most of the past two years, but he employed his time industriously in the pursuit of useful knowledge. He devoted himself to the study of the Bible, and he collected a number of mineral specimens and samples of all the native plants, flowers, insects and birds of the country. His collections are rare and valuable, while his fund of information on these branches of science was remarkable for one of his age. These and other traits gave promise of a useful and distinguished manhood, while his quiet and gentle disposition won him the love of all hearts.

As soon as the sad intelligence of his fatal injury became known, crowds flocked to his house to obtain accurate information, and to pay their respects to his sympathy. On that fatal evening a deep gloom saddened all hearts. Until long after midnight, and at three in the morning, his watchers were met by anxious enquiries as to his welfare, by poor people narrating his deeds of kindness to them, and in their sickness and trouble he visited them and gave them comfort and aid. It was not known until that night that he had been visiting the sick and needy in secret, but it is now known that many beyond the home circle will long cherish his memory with a loving and grateful remembrance.

In their sad bereavement the afflicted family have from the whole community a sympathy so deep and heartfelt that it cannot be expressed in words. At such a time words of consolation are like the "smoke that vanisheth away," but even now we can draw comfort from his beautiful ideas of death and of life eternal, for they teach us that "in a little while" we may meet him again, in the presence of the infinite God.

TRINITY CHURCH.

At the last monthly meeting of the Wardens and Vestry of this Parish, it was unanimously voted to invite the Rev. Henry D. Nicholson, M. A. (late of Trinity College, Cambridge, England), to become its Rector, which was accordingly done, and we are pleased to state that he has kindly accepted the cure. He commenced his labors among us on Sunday last, under very favorable and cheering auspices, and to the entire satisfaction of his Parishioners. Coming among us as he does, with an entirely unselfish motive, wholly devoted to the Church and its interests, with rare scholarly attainments and social qualities, his worth and influence to the Parish of which he is Rector, and to the town, cannot be estimated.

In securing a permanent and settled Rector the Episcopal Church may now be reckoned as established in Woburn, and from this time a new and stronger existence dawns upon its interests here.

Having secured a Rector, efforts are now being made by the Parish to build a Chapel for the ministrations of the Gospel, and subscriptions to the amount of $1,200 have been received for this purpose. One noble hearted citizen (not an Episcopalian) has kindly tendered $300 toward this object and will be gratefully remembered for his generous act.

Nearly $800 have been subscribed within the Parish and, save in a few instances, no call has been made outside of it for aid. Much is promised in Boston, and it is hoped to be able to commence operations early in the Fall, if not before.

It is intended to erect only a Chapel at present, to seat about 200 persons, but one which will be in every respect tasteful and churchly and an ornament to the town. A lot of land has been engaged for the site, situated on Main street, belonging to the estate of O. W. Rogers, the shop (now occupied by Messrs. Taylor & Cook) and barn to be removed to give place to the Chapel.

Plans are now being drawn and the work will be forwarded with all possible dispatch.

Until the Chapel is completed services will be held in Lyceum Hall, in the morning at 10.30 and in the evening at 7.30. The Rector, Rev. Mr. Nicholson, will officiate on Sunday next (30th inst.) and after morning service a Sunday School will be formed, to be henceforth continued.

This Parish is now in a most prosperous condition and its success is very encouraging, notwithstanding it has been obliged to struggle with difficulties, which, but for God's good providence, would have been insurmountable. To Him be the praise for all present good.

WINCHESTER.

THE MASONIC CELEBRATION.—The all absorbing topic of the past week has been the great demonstration of the Masonic fraternity on last Monday in the city of Boston. It has swallowed up all the lesser lights, and those who basked in the refulgent rays of this great light have hardly as yet recovered from its withering power. It was the old song verified in a more peaceful way, "Trump, tramp, the boys are marching," and those who did not waver, thought there was no end of the tramp as the arrival of the train with the Lowell Lodges, went on board and proceeded to the city, and to the common under their escort.

Among the many acts of hospitality which the brethren received while on their march, we were desirous to mention those of Messrs. A. N. Sanders and S. S. Rowe, of No. 116 Shawmut Avenue, who threw open their homes to the brethren and liberally provided refreshments for their bodily wants. Such action was warmly appreciated, and will long be remembered by those weary pilgrims travelling from afar. After the procession, the brethren partook of a sumptuous repast at the restaurant of C. D. & J. H. Presby, City Hall Avenue. Affably satisfying their inner wants, the brethren were much interested in the arrival of the train with the Lowell Lodges, went on board and proceeded to the city, and to the common under their escort.

EXCELSIOR.

Commencement at Hartford.

The commencement exercises of the Theological Institute of Connecticut were held at its new and commodious quarters in the beautiful city of Hartford last week, and were of unusual interest. The new interest in the Seminary brought together a larger number of its friends than usual; while the increase of students, the appeal of one of them from the Faculty to the Trustees, and from the Trustees to the Pastoral Union; the review of the newspaper question; and above all, the inauguration of the new Professor; gave a sustained zest to the whole occasion.

The Annual Examination was held on Monday and Tuesday, and in addition to the usual trials which were said to be thorough and well sustained, two students from each of the classes were brought forward to preach ten minute sermons which they had carefully prepared, and read to the memory. So excellent were the performances of these six young gentlemen that much interest was excited in the new feature which Professor Bodwell is introducing—the training of the students from the beginning of their course in the preparation and delivery of sermons.

But the exercises of the evening service of inauguration. After prayer by Rev. John Pike, D. D., Dr. J. Taylor, President of the Pastoral Union, in a touching and eloquent address, inducted Dr. J. C. Bodwell to his professorship of Preaching and the Pastoral Charge. Then followed Professor Bodwell's address, which was a rare treat, over an hour in length, and fully sustained in thought and interest to the close. After a powerful analysis of the peculiar difficulties that rise up before the ministers of this day, the speaker brought out convincingly his views of what kind of ministers must be prepared to meet the exigency. They may be excellent scholars, fine writers, &c., but they must be fluent, attractive, earnest, biblical preachers. He showed the danger of the loss of the gift of ready and eloquent utterance by delay in exercising it, by overlaying it with years of rules and study, and by the repression of criticism before a free and enthusiastic utterance is fully established. The address is to be published in the Congregational Review, and a thousand extra copies are to be printed by the Trustees for free circulation.—Congregationalist and Recorder.

They have an old way of raising blisters in India. They take the skin with red hot iron, and dress the blister with cayenne pepper. If people would take Dr. Hartschorn's Blisters immediately when feeling ill, and keep the system right, they would not need blisters so often. The Doctors do not debate, but invigorate.

The venerable Joshua Converse came into town Monday. He is now one hundred years and five months old. He would have visited Boston, for the purpose of seeing President Johnson, but a severe cold prevented his doing so.

WOBBURN LOCALS.

THE SCHOOLS.—The examination of the Schools this week elicited much interest. Everything passed off to the satisfaction of the teachers, the committee, and the public generally.

The scholars connected with the North Woburn Advanced School, after the examination, presented Mr. Linscott, their teacher, with a splendid silver tea set.

At the Central Grammar, the school room was neatly decorated for the occasion. At the close of the exercises, the teacher, Mr. George Perkins, was presented with two copies of Shakespeare's works, one of them being White's edition.

The High School examination was on Thursday, during the entire day. Great proficiency was manifested among the scholars, and the teachers may well be proud of the high degree of scholarship attained by those under their charge. John Cummings, Jr., Esq. addressed some excellent practical remarks to the young ladies, which they will do well to remember and heed hereafter. Interesting remarks were also made by Stephen Nichols and John Johnson, members of the School Committee.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—On Sunday last, at about ten o'clock, fire was discovered issuing from the extensive tannery of John Cummings, Jr. & Co., situated in Cummingsville village, Woburn. The steam engine was promptly on hand, after the alarm was given, but such was the fierceness of the devouring element, that it was impossible to save the main building, which was four stories high and of brick, or the large wooden structure connected with the same. In one hour from the time the alarm was given, the whole building, with most of its contents and its costly machinery, was a heap of ruins. The fire department worked vigorously for the space of ten hours, but their attention was mostly given to saving the adjoining buildings and the large piles of bark surrounding the premises. There was a large amount of stock, in various stages of completion, destroyed, together with about 150 cords of bark. The loss is about $100,000, on which there is insurance to the amount of $28,000.

The tannery of Mr. Cummings was the largest in town, employing in good times about 300 men. At the time of the fire 150 were employed. We are glad to learn that it is his intention to immediately rebuild the factory, and laborers are already employed in clearing away the debris from the ruins.

MASONIC.—The Masons connected with Mount Horeb Lodge, to the number of seventy-five, left town in a special train Monday morning, and joined in the procession and festive attending the dedication of the new Masonic Temple in Boston. They arrived home at 7 P. M. Previous to leaving Boston, they partook of a splendid dinner, served up in elegant style, by one of the leading caterers of that city. The following was the

The large, elegant and well arranged hall, was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The tables were adorned with the choicest flowers, among which the fragrant magnolia was conspicuous, its delightful perfume permeating the entire room. The floor was thickly strewn with fresh rose leaves and mint, and a large fan, hanging from the ceiling, imparted a delicious coolness to the atmosphere. Ample justice was done the bill of fare, of course. The Masons of Woburn will long have occasion to remember the kind and attentive waiters, who, on this occasion, anticipated all their wants.

COURT MATTERS.—P. L. Converse, Trial Justice.

June 24th—Thomas A. Henshaw, Jr., was up for single drunk. Penal guilt, and was fined $3.00 and costs. He was discharged, with a solemn admonition from the Court to go and sin no more.

With regard to McCool who assaulted J. W. Day, Esq., June 17th, the following is something like a history of his public life. Three or four years ago he was sent to the house of correction for drunkenness. Soon after that he was arrested in Boston for larceny; convicted, and served out his sentence in Suffolk County. He then returned to Woburn, and soon after was arrested for an assault on officer Harris Johnson, and fined, which he paid. Again he was arrested in Boston for stealing a coat at the Lowell depot; was convicted, and served out his sentence in Suffolk jail. He was afterwards arrested for being engaged in a burglary in Boston; was convicted, and served out a term of eighteen months in Suffolk jail. He then returned to Woburn, and has been arrested three or four times for various offences. This is a partial, though true history of the man, so far as we know it. There are probably many more things about his character which have not come to light. His trial before the Superior Court in a few weeks will, let us hope, result in giving the town for a time, at least, of his presence.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mrs. McDonald, wife of William B. McDonald, while passing down Summer street, on Tuesday afternoon experienced a slight shock of paralysis, and returned home. After arriving at her house, she was violently attacked with the same disease, and we regret to state, died during the night. The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon at the First Congregational Church.

The venerable Joshua Converse came into town Monday. He is now one hundred years and five months old. He would have visited Boston, for the purpose of seeing President Johnson, but a severe cold prevented his doing so.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. Henry D. Nicholson, M. A., has received and accepted a call to become the Rector of Trinity Church, Woburn. Efforts are now making to secure funds to erect a house of worship.

Rev. John Willard, of Fair Haven, will occupy the pulpit of the First Congregational Church to-morrow.

J. P. Tyler, merchant tailor, can be found at his old quarters, on Main street, next door south of the Journal office, where he will be happy to see his old friends and customers.

A SECOND ANGELINE.—On a steamer which recently passed up the Montana was a young girl scarce eighteen, who goes to the distant land of gold to meet her affianced. Four years ago she met and loved a young student in the German University. Their trysting place might not have been at "Bingen on the Rhine," but 'twas at just as romantic a spot, not many leagues distant. Her attachment was reciprocated, and troth was plighted. Three years since the "bridegroom" came to America, and sought his fortune amid the place and region of Montana, shortly securing a lucrative position as superintendent of a successful mining company. A few weeks ago a brief message darted across the two continents and three thousand miles of ocean in a day, and found this beautiful, untried girl, surrounded by all the endowments of a woman of worth and refinement. It told her that near the far-off shores of the Pacific some one awaited her coming. A few days later and she was rocking upon the bosom of the broad Atlantic, and later still she disembarked in a strange land, the language and customs of whose people were new to her. She is now slowly and happily ascending the Missouri, confident that her "bridegroom" is expecting her, having traveled alone from the banks of the Baltic to meet him. Suppose he should have died during her journey! What then?—St. Joseph, Minn.

A PERILOUS ADVENTURE.—A letter from an officer at Fort Pike, Kansas, Dakota Territory, to his friend in Detroit, has been published in the Detroit Post. It is a perilous adventure.

"We have finally succeeded in opening communication with Fort C. F. Smith, ninety miles above here on the Big Horn River. Up to three days ago we had heard nothing from them for two months, and were very anxious about them, but after repeated trials by mountaineers and miners near here to go through, we at length succeeded in sending two messengers, Sergeant Grant, of my company, and Sergeant Graham, of Co. G. They started from here on foot, with snowshoes, and took to the mountains, with only ordinary clothing and six days' ration of hard bread and lard. Each of them carried a rifle, and they were left a memorandum of what had happened to them. They finally, after much suffering and hunger, reached Fort Smith with our despatches. They stayed two days, and were sent back with a half-breed named Boyer, each mounted and with two packed mules. When they came to the 'Little Horn River' they saw where a buffalo had been killed, and moccasins tracks around it, and immediately left the road and made for the hills. When they had gone about five miles and crossed a hill they stopped, looked back, and saw about fifteen Indians after them. Their horses were blown, and Sergeant Grant had to shoot his. The other two men, getting frightened, ran away from him and left him alone. He ran towards a clump of pines about five hundred yards distant, and while so doing he fell into a hole in the snow, and found that he had been running on the edge of a precipice of a sheer two hundred feet fall, and had fallen on a little ledge of rocks, the entrance of which was through a hole that was covered with snow. He sat down under the cliff and waited. He had a Spencer carbine, breech-loading, and eight rounds of ammunition, and says he felt perfectly safe. He heard the Indians yelling above him, and soon they commenced to throw stones down the hole, which was about nine feet deep, and just sheltered to the hole, armed with a Henry repeating rifle. When he (the Indian) saw Sergeant Grant he dropped his gun and gave a yell, and starting back fell over the ledge, which was narrow. In a few minutes another Indian let himself down, and Grant shot him and threw his body over the bank. This was about nine o'clock in the morning. The Indian stayed near the hole till nearly dark, when a thick fog came up and they went away. He cautiously followed them, keeping in their trail for about three miles, till they again struck the river, when he tore up his overcoat and made wrappings of it for his feet to the shoe nails, and went up the river on the ice. He traveled four days, and on the evening of the fourth day got into the post. Sergeant Graham and Boyer got in an hour before him, and told us he was killed and that the mail was lost and all the horses come. Boyer had only one letter from Colonel Kinney commanding Fort Smith, which he carried in his pocket. They seemed very badly scared."

"When Grant made his appearance, covered with ice, and with the Henry rifle he had captured, Graham thought it was his ghost. Although it was one of the best things that has been done in this country, and we are all going to do something for Grant, and try and get him something from Washington. He is very sick in hospital now with pleurisy and exhaustion, resulting from his suffering and exposure."

AMERICAN MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.—American energy, ingenuity and perseverance are triumphant in whatever they seriously undertake. It is interesting to watch the progress of manufacturers, and observe how rapidly we are excelling the Old World. Nor is this merely in those common articles which require little skill in their construction. It appears to be the fact that here the best and the most perfect, the more sure is our Yankee land, to carry off the palm.

In pianofortes, for instance, it is well known that those of the best makers among us already equal, if they do not excel, the best of European makers. In reed instruments, such as Cabinet Organs, the superiority is yet more decidedly with the American instruments. It is conceded by the best judges that the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organs, which have attained so great a reputation at home, are far superior to any foreign instruments of the kind. The last number of "New Zeitschrift für Musik," the famous Leipzig musical journal, has a notice of one of the Mason & Hamlin Organs, which the editor of the paper, and of which he admits the superiority, not only in full volume of tone and general character, but especially in "the mellow and pleasing timbre of its tones." This favorable testimony is just. Those who have not heard these beautiful instruments have little idea of the improvement which these makers have effected, and of the charming quality of their organs. It is not surprising that the demand for them is so large. (N. Y. Musical Gazette.)

Elithu Burritt, in a book recently published in England, describes the manner in which a gentleman of refined tastes amused himself by protecting and tending those birds on his own farm. He would go out in the morning and rake or spade the ground, and the birds would come at his call close to his rake or hoe, and wrestle and twitter in the contest for the worms or flies which he exposed for their food. Then he began to carry crusts of bread in the outside pocket of his coat, and to sprinkle a few crumbs on the ground. The birds looked for their daily rations, and would gather in the tree-tops in the morning to let him know with their begging voices that they were waiting for him. He called them to breakfast with a whistle, and they would come out of the thick green leaves of the grove, and patter, twitter and flutter around and over his feet. Sometimes he would put a piece of bread between his lips, when a bright-eyed creature would pick it out, like a humming bird taking honey from a flower-bell, without alighting. They became his constant company. As soon as the sun dropped from his door, they were on the lookout to give him a merry welcome with their happy voices. Nearly all birds, as is known, may be rendered tame in the same way.

"FIVE MINUTES FOR REPRESENTATION."—Everybody who has traveled by railroad has heard of above announcement, and has probably suffered from eating too hastily, thereby sowing the seeds of Dyspepsia. It is a comfort to know that the Peppermint Syrup will cure the worst cases of Dyspepsia, as thousands are ready to testify.

BE ON YOUR GUARD

against the imitations and counterfeits of HOS-TETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, with which the PIRATES who make a DISHONORABLE LIVING, by preying upon the sick and suffering, are now endeavoring to flood the markets of this country.
Whenever these rascals-mongers are discovered
they are immediately prosecuted by the proprietors, who expend thousands of dollars annually in tracing them out and bringing them to justice. Within a short time imitations have been obtained by the Courts of the United States against a number of individuals and firms, and suits are now in progress against several others, all of whose names will be given to the public. But in spite of the utmost vigilance and activity of their detective agents, the underlings are of course unable to protect the public entirely against piratical imitations of a Standard National Tonic, everywhere in request, and as readily convertible into cash as United States Bonds or Treasury Notes. They, therefore, as a measure of protection, direct attention to the fact that a "tasty engraved label, representing St. George and the Dragon, and a beautiful proprietary stamp, bearing the official endorsement of the Government, appear on every bottle of the genuine BITTERS. The article is further authenticated by a miniature note of hand, with the signature of "Hostetter & Smith," to counterfeit which is a state prison crime. The true BITTERS are sold in bottles only, and never in bulk.

HOSSETTER & SMITH.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree;
but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced ten fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in
Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, whose value in curing Coughs, Colic, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pleurisy, Influenza, and Incipient Consumption is inestimable.

Strong Testimony.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master
at South Royalton, Mass.
"In the spring of 1881 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had nearly given up all hopes of recovery, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more entered my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the sawing grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

THE Union Pacific

RAILROAD CO.

OMAHA, NEBRASKA,

westward towards the Pacific Ocean, making with its connections an unbroken line

ACROSS THE CONTINENT.

The Company now offer a limited amount of their

FIRST MORTGAGED BONDS

having thirty years to run, and bearing annual interest, payable on the first day of January and

SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD.

AT

Ninety Cents on the Dollar.

This road was completed from Omaha 305 miles

west on the 1st of January, 1867, and is fully equi-

ped, and trains are regularly running over it. The Company has now on hand sufficient iron, ties, etc.,

to finish the remaining portion to the eastern base

of the Rocky Mountains, 212 miles, which is under contract to be done September 1st of this year, and it is expected that the entire road will be in running

order from Omaha to its western connection with

the Central Pacific, now being rapidly built eastward from Sacramento, Cal., during 1870.

Means of the Company.

Estimating the distance to be built by the Union

Pacific to 1,550 miles, the United States Government

issues its Six per cent. Thirty-year Bonds to the

of about $28,200 per mile, amounting to $44,200,000.

The Company is also permitted to issue its own

First Mortgage Bonds to an equal amount, and at the same time, which by special Act of Congress

made a First Mortgage on the entire line, the bonds

of the United States being subordinate to them.

The Government makes a donation of 12,500

acres of land to the mile, amounting to 20,625,000

acres, estimated to be worth $50,000,000, making

the total resources, exclusive of the capital, $118,-

46,000; but the full value of the lands cannot now

be realized.

The authorized Capital Stock of the Company is

one hundred million dollars, of which five millions

have already been paid in, and of which it is not supposed that more than twenty-five millions at

most will be required.

The cost of the road is estimated by competent

engineers to be about one hundred million dollars,

exclusive of equipment.

Prospects for Business.

The railroad connection between Omaha and the East is now complete, and the earnings of the Union

Pacific on the sections already finished for the first

two weeks in May were $115,000. These sectional

earnings as the road progresses will much more than pay the interest on the Company's bonds, and

the through business over the line of railroad

between the Atlantic and Pacific must be immense.

Value and Security of the Bonds.

The Company respectfully submit, that the above

statement of facts fully demonstrates the security of

their Bonds, and as additional proof they would suggest that the Bonds now offered are less than ten million dollars on 517 miles of road, on which over twenty million dollars have already been expenditures—on 320 miles of this road the cars are now running, and the remaining 187 miles are nearly completed.

At the present rate of premium on gold these

bonds pay an annual interest on the present cost of

Nine Per Cent.

and it is believed that on the completion of the road,

like the Government Bonds, they will go above par.

The Company intend to sell but a limited amount at

the present low rate and retain the right to advance

the price at their option.

Subscriptions will be received in New York by the

CLARK, Bond & Co., BANKERS, 21 Wall St.,

JOHN J. CROOK & SON, BANKERS, No. 33 Wall St., and by BANKS AND BANKERS generally throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained. They will also be sent by mail from the Company's Office, No.

20 Nassau Street, New York, on application. Subscribers will select their own Agents in whom they have confidence, who alone will be responsible to them for the safe delivery of the bonds.

JOHN J. CROOK,

Treasurer,

June 8-30
